WARNS OF DRIVE BY NEW DEAL TO SHACKLE PRESS

Publishers' Counsel Urges Resistance.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 4.—A warning against a new and insidious campaign of the government to undermine the constitutional bulwark of the freedom of the press was delivered here today by Elisha Hanson, general counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers' association. He spoke before the Advertising Club of New York.

Elisha Hanson.

Citing recent examples of encroachment upon the rights of the press and individuals by the Roosevelt administration, Hanson declared the newspapers of this country must be overvigilant or their independence would be destroyed just as it was in Germany and other foreign states.

Explains American Liberty.

Hanson addressed the advertising club on the occasion of the 35th anniversary of its founding. He asserted that in other countries such a meeting and such a speech would be prohibited. There were two reasons why such privilege existed in America, he declared.

"First," he said, "was the effort of our founding fathers forever to guarantee to the people the right to have a press free from the restraining hand of government in the performance of its function of gathering and disseminating information; and, second, the eternal vigilance of the press, particularly the daily newspaper press, in the protection of that right."

Deplores FCC Action.

The A. N. P. A. attorney, who has fought several successful battles for freedom of the press thru the United States Supreme court, expressed his concern over recent action of the Federal Communications commission.

This was a reference to a forestalling of the Radio Corporation of America's promotional campaign on its new television sets. FCC Chairman James Lawrence Fly commandeered radio time Tuesday night to broadcast a warning against premature investment in television receivers because they might become obsolete within two years.

"What would the radio industry be today," Hanson asked, "if burocracy had stepped in 20 years ago and prohibited broadcasting until it had been perfected, or restricted the advertising of crystal and battery receiving sets because of the possible development of new electrical apparatus?

Mentions Auto Industry.

"What would have happened to our great automobile industry if in its early or middle stages such a restraining hand had been laid on it?

"How many gas or electric ranges, gas or electric refrigerators, or electric washing machines would we have in our homes if before they could have been advertised for sale they had to be approved by some government agency akin to the FCC today?"

Advertising was defined by the speaker as "information concerning the goods, services, or ideas of one who is willing to pay to have such information disseminated." He pointed out this information was as much a part of the structure of a newspaper as news or editorial comment.

"Each form of this information, whether news, editorial comment, or advertising is essential to the welfare of the American people and any attempt improperly to restrict it should be a matter of concern to all people," said Hanson.

Raps Regulatory Trend.

"Yet we are facing a deliberate attempt by government to restrict one of these vital forms of information—that which is conveyed thru advertising. The effort to regulate, control, censor, and restrict advertising is but one phase of the seemingly prevalent philosophy that an all wise and benevolent government should regulate all human activity.

"In the development of this philosophy we are being regulated to death."

No man, woman, or child who lives in America today is free from the

STELLE TAUNTS 'CABINET' OVER EXTRA SESSION

Governor May Issue Call Today.

BY LLOYD WENDT.

The battle between Lieut. Gov. John Stelle, insurgent Democratic candidate for governor, and advisers of Gov. Horner for control of the state government appeared to be nearing a showdown last night. The developments:

1. Spokesmen for the governor said in Springfield that a call for a special session of the legislature on April 16 would probably be issued over Gov. Horner's signature today.

2. A letter, issued from the executive mansion in Springfield over the governor's signature, called on state employés to support the Democratic harmony ticket opposed by the Stelle insurgents in next Tuesday's primary. In the letter Horner was quoted as declaring he would not give up the governorship until his term runs out Jan. 1.

3. A spokesman for the Stelle forces in Springfield charged that the Horner letter was drafted by the "bedside cabinet" and issued over a rubber stamp signature of Gov. Horner.

4. Lieut. Gov. Stelle challenged his foes to summon the legislature. "They're afraid," he taunted them. "This is the 14th time they have promised to call the legislature, but they're afraid the representatives of the people will expose them."

5. Stelle repeated his promise to summon the legislature himself soon after the primaries. He accused the "bedside cabinet" of endangering the life of a sick governor by keeping him in Springfield "because they fear disclosure of their own misdeeds."

Letters Sent to Thousands.

The controversial form letters from the executive mansion in Springfield were sent out to thousands of state employés. They did not mention Stelle by name, but they represented Gov. Horner's determination to resist any attempt to remove him from office because of his illness.

"Do not be intimidated by veiled threats that there may soon be a change in the governorship," the letter said. "I was elected by the people of Illinois to serve until next January. Let there be no doubt—Henry Horner will fulfill that trust.

"We are nearing the end of another campaign. The outcome will determine whether those principles for which you and I have striven during past years will perish or survive. I am as much interested in the current campaign as if I, myself, were a candidate."

Plugs for Slattery, Hershey.

The letter said that the governor was vitally concerned in the candidacies of Senator James M. Slattery, seeking to succeed himself, and Harry B. Hershey, harmony ticket candidate for governor. "Redouble your efforts in behalf of these candidates," it concluded.

In reply to charges from the Stelle camp that the signatures on the letters were produced with a rubber stamp, M. P. Akers, Horner's press representative in Springfield, said the governor had read and approved the letter and made some changes in it.

Yesterday Alexander Wilson, the governor's administrative assistant, said that the call would probably come today. He said that one or two matters to be included in the call are still being considered.

The charge that the letters to state employés were not genuine came from Ray Stout, of Springfield, downstate campaign manager for Stelle; Benjamin S. Adamowski, candidate for United States senator, and State Auditor Edward J. Barrett, seeking reëlection—the three men who comprise the insurgent ticket.

Attacks Bedside Cabinet.

In three speeches last night Stelle charged that the "bedside cabinet" is keeping Horner a virtual prisoner in the executive mansion after his physicians had advised him to leave the state for a rest.

"These desperate men realize they have shamed the state and the governor," he said. "They feel that as long as they can hide under the protective coat of the governor's disability, they will be safe from the prosecution they deserve. To accomplish their ends they have poisoned the mind of the governor against me. By keeping him confined at Springfield they have seriously endangered not only his health, but his life."

2-Way Radio Guards Police Bomb Victim

A two-way radio guard was established last night at the bedside of Policeman Walter E. Gray of River Forest, who was injured critically late Wednesday night in the explosion of a bomb which had been planted in his automobile.

Louis Caponigro.

At the same time Gray's wife and small daughter also were placed under guard. Both moves were designed to circumvent any further attack by the murderous criminal who attempted to end Gray's life.

The bomb blast occurred in front of the policeman's home at 722 Monroe street, River Forest, when he tried to start his car.

Revenge Theory Explored.

No clew to the bomb fiend has yet been found, but police believe he is some one who held a grudge of some sort against Gray. Only one person, an ex-convict, had been taken into custody at a late hour last night. Chicago and state's attorney's police are coöperating with River Forest authorities in the search for the bomber.

Policeman Gray is in the Oak Park hospital. His left foot has been amputated, and he may lose the sight of his right eye. Because of the mysterious nature of the attack on him, Police Chief Carl Soderlin ordered day and night police guards inside his room and outside the hospital.

Provides Instant Contact.

Policeman Gray's wife and their daughter, Shirley, 12, were moved from their Monroe street home to the home of her brother and parents at 7426 Iowa street, River Forest. Police guards were placed there. This was in keeping with Gray's expressed wish. "I don't want anything to happen to them," he said.

Lieut. Tom Kelly of the state's attorney's office questioned Mrs. Gray last night. She told of her activities and her husband's during the day. She was visiting friends at the time of the explosion, she said. Lieut. Kelly will question Gray today.

Gray, who is 39 years old, and has been on the River Forest police force for 16 years, was unable to suggest any clew. He has no known enemies, he said. A neighbor told the police, however, that Gray confided to her that he lived in fear that some one he had sent to prison would kill him.

Blast Heard 3 Miles Away.

Gray had left his car parked in front of his home at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday when he returned from duty. He next entered it at 11:41 p. m. to return to duty. As he stepped on the starter a terrific blast, heard three miles away, wrecked the machine.

The suspect being held is Louis Caponigro, 28, of 336 West 30th street, who was picked up near Gray's home four hours before the explosion. Caponigro, an ex-convict, told police he was in River Forest to visit an acquaintance "named Henley or Hanley." He refused to take a lie detector test.

CANDIDATE SKETCHES.

FARMER INHERITS TITLE, BUT HE'LL STAY ON FARM

LONDON, April 4 (AP).—A 29 year old Kent farm hand has just become Sir John Fagge, a baronet holding a 300 year old title, and his fiancée, a pretty young domestic servant, will become Lady Fagge. The farm hand inherited the title from his uncle, Sir John Harry Lee Fagge, who died at Marshfield, Mass., three weeks ago.

The late baronet lived in America for 40 years, working as a farmer, gardener, laborer, and truckman. His title carried no cash.

"I will work on the farm as I always have and I don't care what folks call me," said the new Sir John today. It is different with the Lady Fagge-to-be. "Certainly I'll use the title," she said.

LUXEMBURG, April 4 (AP).—Two French pilots injured in the forced landing of their bombing plane in central Luxemburg Tuesday escaped from internment tonight. They had been under treatment at a hospital with three other members of the plane's crew.

Eligible County Vote Tops Two Million Mark

Final figures released yesterday by the board of election commissioners and the election department of the county clerk's office showed that 2,036,001 persons in Cook county are eligible to vote in next Tuesday's primary. That total is 195,249 more than the number eligible in the last presidential primary in 1936.

John S. Rusch, chief clerk of the election board, announced that 1,707,879 voters are registered in Chicago. He said the figure is the result of one of the most accurate counts ever made by the board. Since Monday, clerks have counted the registration cards in all city precinct binders.

The country township registration released by Dan Carey, chief of the election department under County Clerk Michael J. Flynn, set a high record, with 328,122 persons listed. In 1938, the first year all country townships were under permanent registration, 282,267 persons were registered. In the 1936 presidential primary, before permanent registration was in force thruout the county, the registration totaled 230,544.

2,500 Seek Absentee Ballots.

Election board officials said yesterday that approximately 2,500 applications for absentee ballots have been received. Yesterday was the final day for such applications.

Among those who requested absentee ballots were: Mr. and Mrs. Howard O. Hunter, 40 East Oak street. Hunter, formerly regional WPA director here, is now assigned to Washington, D. C. Gov. Horner's absentee ballot was received by the board yesterday.

French Ration Coal; Tighten Rule on Eating

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 4.—Restrictions on food consumption and the issuance of food ration cards are to be followed by the establishment of a coal rationing system, for which a list of instructions has just been made public.

Coal cards will be issued as soon as the administrative work of tabulating the census data collected for the rationing system has been completed. They will be issued only to heads of families, but will affect virtually the whole population.

The cards, which are expected to be distributed later this month, will be accompanied by a year's allotment of coal coupons. The number of these coupons will depend on the size of a given household. The amount of coal they will be good for will be fixed later. Tenants and managers of buildings with central heating are to reach an agreement regarding the pooling of individual cards for use by the management.

System Has Wide Scope.

Virtually all buildings will be included in the coal rationing system, including schools, hospitals, convents, asylums, prisons, embassies, commercial and industrial establishments, apartment buildings, and private homes.

Announcement of the coal rationing measure was preceded by a decree restricting another one of the Frenchmen's ways of keeping warm—by drinking wine. The decree lowered the alcoholic strength of ordinary dinner wine in an attempt to prevent excessive "cutting" and to fix prices.

The decree raised the proportion of the 1939 vintage which may be put on the market from 40 per cent to 65 per cent in order to offset the upward price trend. At the same time the alcoholic content was reduced by half a degree and the sale of wine containing more than 9.5 per cent alcohol forbidden. Wine prices also were fixed at the present level.

Changes in Food Rules.

The government also published decrees revising previous restrictions on the sale and restaurant consumption of meat and pastry. The new food stipulations go into effect April 7. Serving more than two courses, including one meat course, to a single person per meal is forbidden and the weight of the piece of meat is restricted to 3½ ounces without the bone or 5¼ ounces with the bone.

The sale of beef, veal, lamb, and goat's meat is banned on three consecutive days, Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, in all restaurants. During two of these three days the sale or serving of pork is banned and on the third day horse meat and tripe cannot be sold.

Markets Must Close.

On these same days the great wholesale markets as well as the retail butcher shops must close.

Henceforth, the period during which the sale or making of pastry, candy, and ice cream will be forbidden is fixed as Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday. The days are being lumped together in order to economize on coal. Previously bakers had allowed their fires to go out for 24 hour periods, after which they would relight them.

PREMIER VOWS BLOCKADE WILL BE HOLEPROOF

Hitler 'Missed Bus,' Chamberlain Says.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 4.—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain today called a secret session of the house of commons for next Thursday for debate on the economic blockade of Germany. Earlier the prime minister had asserted that he was more confident than ever of a British-French victory in the war.

In agreeing to summon a secret session, Chamberlain said he recognized the difficulty of discussing blockade measures and behind the scenes trade deals in public. Next week's secret meeting will be the second of the war. The first was held Dec. 13.

Most of the demand for the coming closed session came from Laborites, who desire an opportunity to criticize the government without at the same time undermining public confidence in the conduct of the war.

Speaks at Luncheon.

Chamberlain made his declaration of confidence in ultimate victory before a luncheon meeting of the Conservative party council. In the same speech the prime minister acknowledged the rights of critics of the government to voice their opposition, but at the same time urged the suppression of any criticism which might shake the war administration.

He approved a motion before the council both declaring the government's right to the support of all parties in its war policies and condemning criticism. Yet Chamberlain made the point:

"In this country cheers and welcomes are not ordered for leaders."

Creates an Uproar.

The motion was passed unanimously. Later there was an uproar when E. W. Harrison, a second lieutenant, appeared in uniform and upheld the rights of conscientious objectors.

"We have developed a wicked and intolerant attitude and we will not face the fact that there are people who disapprove of war and who will not participate in it," Harrison said. "I maintain that if you are living in England you have a perfect right to disapprove of war."

Some of the women present hissed.

Chamberlain declared that his confidence in victory is "ten times" as great now as it was in September, when the war started.

Says Hitler Missed Bus.

Fuehrer Hitler, he asserted, had "missed the bus" by failing to take advantage of Germany's original superiority in weapons with a lightning war last fall.

Britain's strength is on the increase, he said. Discussing the economic war, he declared:

"You can take it from me that, one by one, leaks and loopholes [in the blockade] are being stopped and that as the war goes on that strangling effect will more and more drain the lifeblood out of our enemy."

Germany, because of "brutal, callous, and wicked" measures "has not a real friend in the world," he said.

Further centralization of economic powers in the government's hands was disclosed today with the announcement by Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, that the treasury is financing a new trading corporation.

Price Doesn't Matter.

This agency will attempt to buy up, regardless of price, all fats, oils, and minerals in the Balkan countries in order to prevent those products from going to Germany. The power of money, Simon said, would be the most effective weapon in depriving Germany of the raw materials vital to her existence.

In creating the new trade corporation Britain is establishing a precedent, for this is the first time the treasury will have provided the entire financial support of what is called a "merchanting company." The company is starting business in Rumania, Jugo-Slavia, Bulgaria, Greece, Hungary, and Turkey. It will be extended to other countries "when the need arises."

Viscount Swinton is chairman of the venture, which is officially titled the "English Commercial Corporation, Ltd." The company is exempt from publishing accounts, so whatever its losses may be the government will not need to divulge them.

FORCE FRENCH DEBATE

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 4.—Political circles in France tonight speculated as to whether Premier Paul Reynaud's cabinet would be able to survive the opposition from some elements of the Radical Socialist party which took tangible form today.

Reynaud agreed to a second test of his government, bowing to the "friendly" request of the Radical Socialist group in the chamber of deputies for a debate on the general policy of the cabinet before April 15.

He accepted this challenge from the Radical Socialists after they had decided against a motion of censure of the government. The call for a debate was passed by only a 21 to 16 vote, with some absentions, which political observers called a victory for the pro-Reynaud group within the party.

Promises to Meet Deputies.

A delegation of Radical Socialists later called on the premier, who promptly accepted their suggestion, and promised to meet the chamber as soon as his next serious hurdle, a senate debate in secret Tuesday, is passed.

Georges Bonnet, minister of justice in the Edouard Daladier cabinet and an outspoken critic of the Reynaud cabinet, did not take part in the plenary meeting of the chamber's Radical Socialists at which it apparently was decided not to take any action until after the senate votes on Reynaud following the secret session.

This element of the Radical Socialists, directed by Bonnet, has been trying to bring Reynaud before the chamber for an interpellation of his foreign policy this week before the senate meets, but apparently this was sidetracked by Daladier himself, who is the party's strong man.

Chamber Awaits Senate Action.

But the right wing still is strongly critical of the presence of Socialists in Reynaud's government. He also faces much personal hostility in the senate and is not likely to find the senators in an easy mood next week.

The chamber of deputies today adjourned and will not meet until next Thursday when its action will be determined on how Reynaud fares in the senate.

It seemed that there would be no question of Reynaud's resigning immediately as a piece of strategy in forestalling his critics next week, when all sides agree he is going to have a tough time.

BERLIN REPORTS FLYERS BOMBED 12 SHIPS IN RAID

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 4.—Today's German war communique said German bombers attacking British convoys in the North sea and off the east coast of Britain yesterday damaged or set afire merchantmen and escort vessels aggregating 40,000 tons. The communique declared a British destroyer and three merchant vessels were damaged seriously, while three patrol vessels and a merchantman were set on fire and that one patrol vessel and three merchant vessels were less seriously damaged.

British Tell of Air Fight.

LONDON, April 4 (AP).—A British plane on patrol over the North sea yesterday encountered six German Junkers planes, the air ministry announced today, and shot down one. The British plane returned with part of its controls shot away. Two officers were slightly wounded. An account of the battle said another German plane was damaged so badly it landed in Norway where the crew was interned.

Infantry Clashes on Front.

PARIS, April 4 (AP).—The French high command tonight reported "local infantry and artillery action in the region east of the Moselle [river], and some activity along the Rhine.

Remade Map as Viewed in Germany

The black area marks the approximate boundaries of Germany on the map which Welles was shown, according to Berlin officials. Traced in a heavy black line is the present frontier of Germany. The Germans claim that France and England have drawn such a postwar map, giving part of present day Germany to Poland, restoring the Hapsburg monarchy, and giving Jugo-Slavia part of Italy.

Pope Sets Canonization of New Saints for May 2

VATICAN CITY, April 4 (AP).—Pope Pius today set for May 2 the canonization of two new saints, Mother Mary Euphrasia Pelletier of France, founder of the Good Shepherds for the care and protection of young girls, and Gemma Galgani, Italian girl known as the virgin of Lucca. Both were beatified in 1933.

MOSCOW TO BUILD NEW OFFICES ON SITE OF OLD WALL

MOSCOW, April 4.—The last remaining section of the picturesque medieval wall which formerly surrounded the so-called Kitai Gorod is doomed to destruction to make room for another gigantic bloc of soviet government offices.

The fortified wall of Kitai Gorod—commonly misinterpreted from the Russian word for China, Kitai, as Chinatown, whereas the name really comes from the Tartar word kitai, meaning fortress—was constructed in 1534. The doomed remaining section of the wall adjoins the Kremlin.

The new building, to be known as "the second U. S. S. R. People's Commissars building," is to cover about 18 acres and be 15 stories high.

NAZIS AGAIN RAP WELLES ON MAP OF 'NEW EUROPE'

Call His Parley in France 'Bad Taste.'

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 4.—Efforts to draw America into Europe's propaganda war continued today. This time the controversy concerns a picture in a French publication which Nazis claim shows a map of Europe including dismembered Germany and revised Austria, Czecho-Slovakia, and Poland hanging behind Sumner Welles, United States undersecretary of state, and Paul Reynaud, French premier.

The Nazis, reprinting the map to rouse popular resentment about the "proposed dismemberment of Germany," use strong language against Welles. They declare, "It was distinctly bad taste on Welles' part to allow his picture to be taken in front of this map."

Official circles admit that they do not know "whether Welles expected Reynaud to show him such a map" nor what his attiude was when he saw it.

Tells of Seeing Map.

The statement of a Dutch correspondent in Paris that he saw the map in the room with Welles and that it did not correspond to the picture printed in Italy met with official incredulity here.

Nazi editorialists and professors seize on the Reynaud map, as given to them by their leaders, to talk extensively about the "unity of 86,000,000 Germans brought together by Fuehrer Hitler." They also refer to the treaty of Westphalia in 1648 after the thirty years war in which the Germans were forced to recognize the independence of Switzerland and the Netherlands. In fact, this treaty is running the Versailles treaty a close second in the number of times it is being mentioned by Nazi speakers as a treaty in which Germany's enemies sought to annihilate her.

Italy Angered over Map.

ROME, April 4.—All Rome newspapers today published bitter stories about the now famous "Reynaud map" of Europe.

Italians did not comment much on the map until the French were quoted as saying it represented Europe before the German aggressions started. The newspaper Regime Fascista maintained that on the Reynaud map Bavaria, Poland, and Italy are very much different from what they were. It was said the map showed Trieste going to Austria, Istria to Jugo-Slavia, and the Dodecanese Islands to Greece. Italian newspapers charged this is the "Europe of the future" which Archduke Otto of Austria discussed in the United States.

Welles Condemns Charges.

Washington, D. C., April 4 (AP).—Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state, tonight branded as "fantastic nonsense" German charges that he and French Premier Paul Reynaud [then finance minister] recently discussed a map depicting French plans to "whittle down" the reich.

Welles issued a formal statement saying: "Various allegations concerning a map which is shown in a photograph of M. Reynaud and of myself are fantastic nonsense. At no time during the course of my interviews in Paris or in any other capital I visited was any reference made to any maps. I never even looked at any map which may have been in M. Reynaud's office."

Australia to Examine Ships for Contraband

CANBERRA, Australia, April 4 (AP).—The Australian government announced today that contraband control would be started in Australian ports next Monday to relieve pressure on bases in Great Britain and France.

TURKS CALL FOR NEUTRAL 'AID TO BRITAIN, FRANCE

ANKARA, Turkey, April 4 (AP).—A Turkish newspaper said today that Europe's small neutrals must help Britain and France to save themselves from ultimate German domination.

"If the democracies lose this war all small and middle sized nations of Europe will disappear," the newspaper Djumhuriyet said.

"All neutrals must help alleviate the heavy burdens shouldered by the allies engaged in the gigantic crusade against the destruction of civilization and against submission of the whole world to Nazi slavery."

Hutchins Refuses to Lift Ban on Browder Speech

President Robert Maynard Hutchins of the University of Chicago refused yesterday to lift the ban denying permission for Earl Browder, national head of the communist party, to speak on the university grounds. Browder was scheduled to speak before the communist club on the Midway on April 12. William Randall, assistant dean of students, had denied a permit for the talk, but a delegation from the American Students' union called upon Dr. Hutchins seeking to have the denial reversed.

FRENCH PREPARE LAW TO EXECUTE AGENTS OF REDS

Measure to Open Homes in Hunt for Traitors.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 4.—In a drive to suppress communist activity in France, Henri Roy, minister of the interior, has prepared a decree law which defines treason and makes agents of the outlawed communist party liable to the death penalty if convicted of treason.

Henri Roy.

According to the measure, any person convicted of "preparing, furnishing or stocking for distribution" propaganda documents for the third communist international will be liable to execution for treason.

The decree, which will be submitted to President Albert Lebrun for signature within a few days, follows the lines of one already in effect against pro-Hitlerian activity.

Allow Search of Homes.

Authoritative sources said the measure would allow police to enter French homes at night in their search for Red agents. Heretofore the criminal code has preserved the sanctity of homes against night raids, altho the police could surround the house and wait until sunrise to enter.

More authority also will be given to the police in their combat against "Hitlerian and communist intrigues and plots" and the forces hunting such agents will be enlarged, the interior ministry stated. Particular attention will be paid to localities which, until the communist party was outlawed in France Sept. 26, had communist mayors and municipal councils.

Reds to Be Taken to Africa.

It also was announced that the concentration camps for arrested communists now in the Paris region will be transferred to North Africa.

As France tightened her lines against communists, the 36 former communist members of the chamber of deputies who were convicted yesterday as agents of the communist international, announced they would appeal their prison terms of four and five years. They will remain in Sante prison until their pleas are heard by a military appeals court.

HONOLULU, April 4 (AP).—Completing another secret dash in her voyage from New York, the British liner Mauretania docked here today to replenish stores.

Thousands of persons watched the huge liner dock, but were prevented by scores of customs officials, police and government agents from entering the pier where she was tied up.

OPEN NEW GRAND JURY QUIZ INTO BERWYN AFFAIRS

The grand jury began hearing evidence yesterday which Assistant State's Attorneys Robert Wright and Vernon Thompson hope will result in forgery indictments against two former treasurers of Berwyn, Ernest W. Mau and Matthew Berg.

Mau was treasurer until he resigned on Tuesday. On Feb. 14 he and Berg were freed of a charge of embezzling $3,726 from the Berwyn special assessment fund when the prosecutors went on a sit down strike against remarks made by the presiding judge and the jury signed an instructed not guilty verdict. During their trial an audit showed there was a $500,000 shortage in the fund.

Among the witnesses heard yesterday were Berg's brother, Steven, the latter's wife, Anna, and officials of the former Madison-Kedzie State bank.

Charge U. S. Is Periled by Propaganda.

Calls Papers Authentic

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 4.—A neutral diplomat stationed in Poland before the German invasion refuses to be quoted, but states that the German white book revelations are authentic.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Washington, D. C., April 4.—Senator Rush D. Holt [D., W. Va.] declared in a senate speech today that America is being dragged into the European war by British propaganda and the war mongering activities of American ministers and ambassadors.

Rush D. Holt.

The speech at Toronto last night by Gordon Conant, attorney general of Ontario, who urged that Canada make all possible concessions and sacrifices to get the United States into the war, produced new senate demands for an official inquiry into war propaganda and war mongering.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.], a member of the foreign relations committee, joined Democratic neutrality advocates in demanding an investigation of the German white paper charges, which attributed war mongering statements to William C. Bullitt, ambassador to France, and Joseph P. Kennedy, ambassador to Great Britain.

Backs Clark Resolution.

Senator Vandenberg cited the German allegations as an excellent example of the need for adoption of the resolution by Senator Bennett Champ Clark [D., Mo.], which calls for an investigation of all foreign propaganda intended to compromise the neutrality of the United States.

On the senate floor, Clark joined Holt in denouncing the speech made at Toronto two weeks ago by James H. R. Cromwell, minister to Canada and financial angel of the Democratic party, who practically declared the United States into the war on the side of the allied empires.

Clark elicited from Holt the charge that President Roosevelt restrained Secretary of State Cordell Hull from rebuking Cromwell as severely as he might have done.

Holt quoted the statement by Conant, the Ontario attorney general, that Cromwell's speech had stripped the disguise from the position of neutral countries in no uncertain terms. He quoted Conant's statement that "while Cromwell's speech was officially and perhaps necessarily repudiated by Cordell Hull, the American press and many of the American statesmen have not disguised the fact that he expressed the American opinion accurately."

Senator Clark asked whether the statement by the Ontario attorney general was not "equivalent to a charge that the secretary of state of the United States had his tongue in his cheek when he delivered the stinging rebuke to our playboy ambassador, which would have caused any man with the slighest vestige of self-respect to have resigned."

Holt Agrees with Clark.

Holt agreed, but said that Cromwell, having "paid $50,000 or more for the job," could not be expected to give it up.

When Clark said he did not agree with the Canadian official's estimation of Secretary Hull's rebuke, Holt replied:

"Let me say, as one who has opposed the policies of the secretary of state, that I thoroly agree with the senator from Missouri, because I think the secretary of state would have gone further if he had not been restrained."

Holt said he did not hold the Canadian people responsible for the statement of the Ontario attorney general any more than he held the American people responsible "for the great Democratic campaign contributor, Jimmie Cromwell, in his speech at Toronto."

"We are not responsible for the Ontario attorney general, but Jimmie Cromwell is a nice man to have around at election time, because of a marriage, and 1940 is important, Holt said.

"The Canadian people are not responsible for Mr. Conant any more than the American people are responsible for the Cromwells, the Bullitts, and the other tea hounds who are serving as a result of campaign contributions.

"The reason I am calling the attention of the senate to this fact is to show that there are forces trying to take the United States into the war. No matter how much some individuals in Washington want to profess that there is no danger of our entrance into the war, I think, as conscientiously as any man can think, that the United States is slipping and stepping into the war. I hate to say it, but I honestly believe it."

As an example of the British war propaganda in this country Senator Holt read an invitation he received, as a member of the naval affairs committee, to attend the showing of a British war film, called "The Lion Has Wings," at a Washington theater.

Vandenberg Urges Inquiry.

Senator Vandenberg, in a statement urging adoption of the resolution by Senator Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.] to investigate the German "war guilt" charges, said:

"I think it would be unfortunate to close the incident of the so-called German white paper without an official inquiry on the part of congress itself. This observation is no reflection on the integrity of the flat denials which American officials have made of the war statements attributed to them."

DECLARES FINNS MUST SACRIFICE SOME LUXURIES

Foreign Chief Says We'll 'Sit Tight, Saw Wood.'

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, April 4.—"Finland's policy is one of peace and promotion of trade with those who can supply our needs," Foreign Minister Prof. Rolf Johan Witting told THE TRIBUNE today.

"Our economic recovery would be more rapid if normal conditions prevailed in Europe, but, because we are confronted with finding new homes for nearly half a million persons and providing them with means of making a living, we must accept, for the time being, the lower standard of living which the war brought upon us.

"We must now bank on the future and obtain loans to help us thru this crisis. Our industrialists, accepting the decision of the government to make a capital levy, have decided to make a capital levy upon themselves. Our landowners also will meet soon to agree upon taking similar action. All that can be done for recovery will be done in the voluntary way.

"Sit Tight, Saw Wood."

"We are going to sit tight and saw wood. Our wood pile—Finland's forests—is our greatest source of wealth. From it we export paper, cellulose, pulp, and timber products.

"Thus far there has been no inflation and the Finnish mark has come thru the war unscathed. We are going to do our best to avoid inflation."

Finland's flourishing trade with America is occupying the attention of the government. In 1938 Finland's trade turnover with the United States amounted to $30,000,000. But now the blockades in the Baltic by Germany and in the North sea by the empires have hampered Finland's foreign trade.

Talks with Reds Continue.

Negotiations with the soviet government concerning postwar settlements are making satisfactory progress in Moscow, Witting said.

"The reports spread abroad that Russia had demanded a reduction or demobilization of our army are incorrect," Witting said. "We have no evidence that the soviet government will not keep to the letter of the peace treaty and respect our sovereignty. Our negotiations with Russia are expected to take some time."

VATICAN SPEAKER ATTACKS NAZIS FOR 'PROPAGANDA'

VATICAN CITY, April 4 (AP).—A speaker on the Vatican City radio replied today to what he called propaganga against the Roman Catholic church in Germany.

Speaking in Italian, the broadcaster devoted most of his time to an exposition entitled "Woman and Motherhood," which took place in Berlin Dec. 15-Jan. 21.

The speaker said the exhibition sought to show that "the Catholic church is the enemy of women and shows contempt for women."

"We are convinced," the speaker said, "that neopaganism can never give us the charity and spiritual motherhood given us by Christianity."

The broadcaster also denied an accusation which he attributed to the Nazis to the effect that Polish priests had aroused the people of Poland against the Germans.

JAP ENVOY FEARS HE MAY BE SHOT ON DUTY IN CHINA

TOKIO, April 5 [Friday] (AP).—"I may be shot carrying out my duties as ambassador to China," Gen. Nobuyuki Abe was quoted today by the newspaper Nichi Nichi. Abe was said by the newspaper to have made the remark at a farewell dinner, adding that his ashes might be returned to Japan "like those of a soldier killed at the front." The general, former premier who never has been under shellfire, said he anticipated severe criticism.

RICHARD SMILES DESPITE 25 DAYS IN OXYGEN TENT

For the Future Holds Hope of Lad's Recovery.

In room 314 in Walther Memorial hospital on the west side, Richard Wisowaty, 13 years old, suffering from an unusual complication of lung ailments, has lain under an oxygen tent continuously for 25 days. He was stricken three months ago. Yesterday he smiled bravely at his mother, Mrs. William Wisowaty, and his nurses, Leota Stazio and Grace Jensen.

While the boy is apparently recovering, according to his physician, Dr. Irwin Hoffman, it will be months before he can leave his bed. Richard's troubles started with "spontaneous pneumothorax," an unusual condition which causes the lung to collapse by permitting the air inflating it to escape thru a perforation in the lung into the pleural, or chest cavity.

It is called "spontaneous" when no certain cause is indicated.

Scuffle Brings It Back.

The boy had apparently recovered from his original attack, Dr. Hoffman said, when a relapse resulted following a scuffle with another child. He was brought to the hospital in a critical condition and placed under the oxygen tent.

Two days later lobar pneumonia developed in the right lung. It cleared up quickly following administration of sulfapyridine, one of the sulfanilamide group of products. Then he developed the pneumothorax in the right lung. Thus, he suffered from bilateral pneumothorax, described as uncommon.

Next a fluid developed in his left lung. Cultures showed that he was now suffering from a streptococcus hemolyticus infection. This deadly germ was overpowered by sulfanilamide treatment.

Pulse Beat 200 a Minute.

At the height of his infection, Richard had a pulse of 200 a minute, a respiration rate of 95, and temperatures upward of 104.

"But now he is responding beautifully to the treatment," Dr. Hoffman declared yesterday. "Richard is bright and cheerful and is able to eat soft foods."

If no other complications develop, Dr. Hoffman said, the perforation in the lung will close over naturally. But it will take at least six months, perhaps much longer.

DISCLOSE RICH BRITON FINANCED FINN VOLUNTEERS

LONDON, April 4.—Lord Nuffield, wealthy motor manufacturer and philanthropist, financed the recruiting of British volunteers for Finland. This was disclosed today by the Finnish aid bureau here, which previously had announced that the expenses of each volunteer who spent six months in Finland would be more than $700 apart from the cost to the Finnish government.

The bureau disclosed that 3,000 volunteers had enrolled for service in Finland but that only 250 had reached the country when the war ended.

RETIRED MENDOTA FARMER DIES.

Mendota, Ill., April 4 [Special].—Irvin Fessler Sr., 81 years old, a resident here for many years, died yesterday. He was a retired farmed. He leaves nine children. The funeral is tomorrow.

NEW DEAL KEEPS HANDS OFF ITS NO. 1 FOE, BURKE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 4.—Colleagues and admirers of Senator Edward R. Burke [D., Neb.], both Democrats and Republicans, are observing with great interest and concern the progress of his campaign for renomination in the Nebraska primary next Tuesday.

The senator's friends here have been encouraged by reports that Gov. Roy L. Cochran, who was put in the race against him by President Roosevelt last summer, has lost favor with the administration. It is apparent that the administration is taking no part in the Nebraska senatorial primary, yet Senator Burke's struggle for renomination is highly reminiscent of the ill-fated New Deal purge adventure in 1938.

Were this 1938 instead of 1940 Senator Burke undoubtedly would be the No. 1 target on the purge list, for no other senator, not excluding Republicans, has a more consistently anti-New Deal voting record.

Fought Court Packing.

Senator Burke is famed for his leadership in the fight against President Roosevelt's attempt in 1937 to pack the Supreme court, which he and other authors of the judiciary committee's report condemned as a proposal that violated every sacred tradition of American democracy.

Friends of the senator were well aware, however, that he ceased to be a New Dealer, as President Roosevelt understood that term, before the 1936 election. When the President demanded in 1936 that a house committee report favorably the second Guffey coal control bill, despite "constitutional doubts, however reasonable," Senator Burke began to suspect dictatorship inclinations.

Two major events have contributed in recent months to a softening of the administration's opposition to Senator Burke. The first was his vigorous support at the special session of congress last fall of the President's neutrality act revision. He announced his support of the arms embargo repealer while the wires were still hot from carrying reports that the special session had been called. Unlike the New Deal yes-men, Senator Burke made no pretense of neutrality in that controversy. He announced, forthrightly, that he wanted to help Great Britain and France lick Hitler.

Shunned Attack on Murphy.

The second event that mollified the New Deal antipathy to Burke was his conduct of the senatorial confirmation of Frank Murphy's appointment to the Supreme court last January. Altho confirmation was assured, the New Dealers were worried lest attacks in the senate disturb the highly sensitive Murphy's peace of mind and injure his reputation. They appealed to Senator Burke, who was made chairman of the judiciary subcommittee and manager of the Murphy nomination. The appointment was confirmed unanimously, without debate.

This was a remarkable demonstration of the respect in which Senator Burke is held by the conservative Democrats and Republicans. If he was satisfied, that was all they wanted to know.

The senator did not condone the Michigan sitdown strikes in 1937; in fact, he was an enthusiastic supporter of the Byrnes resolution to condemn them. But he believed that Murphy, as governor of Michigan, had been motivated in that crisis by a genuine desire to prevent bloodshed.

Murphy was deeply grateful to Burke for his conduct of the senate confirmation, and since then he has been a friend at court.

Urges Wagner Act Revision.

A cynic might deduce from these services for the Roosevelt administration that Burke was a political opportunist, seeking to ingratiate himself just before an election. But the senator has not ceased demanding a general overhauling of the Wagner labor relations act and the abolition of the present labor relations board. Only last week he was paired in favor of the Pittman senate ratification amendment, which the New Dealers argued would destroy the administration's trade agreements program.

The fact is that Senator Burke is a man of rare political courage and independence. He was the first Democrat to denounce the court packing bill back in 1937, when defiance of the administration was considered political suicide, on the theory of Vice President Garner that it was impossible to beat five billion dollars.

He staked his political life again last fall in coming out for the arms embargo repealer, for it was strongly opposed by Nebraska's German-American voters, estimated at 65,000 to 100,000.

Cochran in Disfavor.

Ironically, this was the issue which caused Gov. Cochran to lose White House favor. He had announced his campaign for the senate nomination after a conference with President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N. Y., and the administration expected him to come to the President's support. Gov. Cochran, however, did nothing of the kind. Moreover, the White House received reports that he let the impression get out, in the German-American communities, that the neutrality act should be left alone.

The German-American voters who do not like Gov. Cochran, it is believed, may go into the Republican primary in order to support Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, candidate for the presidential nomination.

Moreover, the Nebraska New Dealers are expected to go into the Republican primary to support former Gov. Arthur J. Weaver, who is running for the senatorial nomination. Weaver, a Republican New Dealer who supported Roosevelt in 1936, has the support of Senator George W. Norris, another New Dealer.

See Good Chance to Win.

For these reasons, Senator Burke has a good chance of winning the nomination, according to reports received by his colleagues. If he is nominated by the Democrats and Weaver is nominated on the Republican ticket, Republican support would assure Senator Burke's reëlection, observers here believe.

Elected for his first term in the senate in 1934, Senator Burke in 1935 voted against the "death sentence" holding company bill, the soak the rich tax bill, the first Guffey coal control bill, and the Wagner labor relations bill.

In 1936 he voted against the administration's punitive tax on undistributed corporation earnings, against the second Guffey coal bill, and for Senator Vandenberg's amendment to return relief administration to the states, with federal grants.

Fought Black's Confirmation.

In 1937 he led the fight against the court packing bill, voted for the Byrnes antisitdown strike resolution, against the political regulation of wages and hours of labor, and against the confirmation of Justice Hugo L. Black, the former Ku Kluxer.

In 1938 he voted against the administration's new farm dictatorship bill, the second AAA; against the President's proposal to reorganize the federal government along authoritarian lines, and for the Vandenberg state relief administration system.

In 1939 he voted against extending the President's dictatorial powers over the nation's monetary system and against the 4 billion dollar spending-lending pump priming program.

Senator Burke was born at Running Water, S. D., Nov. 28, 1880, and educated at Beloit college and Harvard law school. He was admitted to the Nebraska bar in 1911 and practiced law until his election to congress in 1932. After one term in the house he was elected to the senate. He served in the world war as a second lieutenant in the air force. He is a Congregationalist.

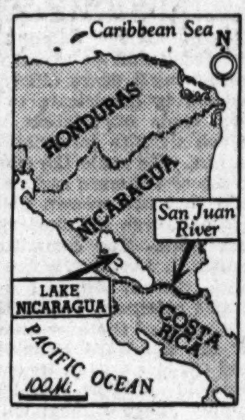
COSTA RICA AND NICARAGUA WILL CANALIZE RIVER

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, April 4 (AP).—The foreign ministry announced today that a treaty would be signed with Nicaragua tomorrow providing for canalization of the San Juan river, which connects Lake Nicaragua with the Atlantic and forms the eastern boundary of the two republics.



Map locates site of proposed project.

The San Juan river would form an important link in any interocean canal that might be built across Nicaragua. The Costa Rican foreign minister, Tobias Zuniga, and a special Nicaraguan envoy, Manuel Cordero, last night agreed upon details of the treaty, which was drawn up following a survey of the San Juan project by United States army engineers.

Nicaragua has long sought such a waterway agreement.

WILLKIE TELLS NEW DEAL PLOT TO 'GET HIM'

New York, April 4 (AP).—Wendell L. Willkie, utilities executive and critic of the New Deal's business policy, said tonight he had been told that a file on his activities and utterances was being kept in Washington and that a government official had threatened "to get him if it is the last thing we ever do."

Willkie made the remark in an address at Town Hall. He criticized New Deal liberalism as being neither sound nor honest. He said a member of "one of the principal boards in Washington" made this statement:

"You know the investment bankers of America are making an attack on a certain institution here in Washington and we don't think they are really doing it. We think Wendell Willkie is behind that and we are keeping a file on him. We are keeping a file on where he talks and what he says, and what he does, and we are going to get him if it is the last thing we ever do."

Willkie told his audience: "I don't think they will do that and I don't think it is serious if they do do that, but I do think it serious that men who are members of a presumed liberal administration would get such notions into their heads."

USE BUTTS OF RIFLES TO DISPERSE CHILEAN NEWSPAPER STRIKERS

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 4 (AP).—Carabineros, swinging rifle butts, dispersed striking newspaper employés today in front of the government palace as Chile was threatened with a 48 hour general stoppage of work as a result of the month old Santiago News walkout.

The strikers demand minimum wages. The government has declared the newspaper strike illegal.

The provincial labor committee announced the Federation of Workers of Chile national committee will discuss on Saturday a proposal to call out its 350,000 members in all industries Monday for a 48 hour sympathy strike.

BRITAIN INSISTS ON LEGAL RIGHTS IN RUSS BLOCKADE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 4.—A spokesman for the government tonight declared that despite demands from Japan that the British avoid a close range blockade of the Russian port of Vladivostok, Britain is not foregoing her "legal rights as a belligerent" in the Japan sea. The spokesman said Britain has no intention to commit any illegal action and desires as far as possible to respect Japanese susceptibilities.

He admitted Japanese representations had been made to Britain and added: "Activities of British cruisers near Japanese shores would be objectionable." Japan considers the sea of Japan as a "Japanese lake," and in the event of illegal action the Japanese navy, Britain has been informed, "would take measures." No indication has been given here as to how this may affect the stopping of German contraband on ships in Vladivostok.

SEE SPEAKERSHIP HOPE FOR CITY IN SCHNACKENBERG

Backers Say Re-Election Is Vital to Chicago.

The likelihood of Cook county having the next speaker of the Illinois house of representatives was being discussed yesterday by Republican leaders. Feeling certain of a G. O. P. majority in the house, they are looking forward to the next general session of the legislature starting in January.

Elmer J. Schnackenberg, twice Republican floor leader in the house, was credited as being the strongest prospect for presiding officer. The present speaker, Hugh W. Cross, will not be there. He remained out of the house race this year to become a Republican candidate for lieutenant governor.

Now up for Reëlection.

Representative Schnackenberg was runner-up when Cross was elected by G. O. P. house members at the beginning of last year's biennial session. This situation was seen as an important reason for returning Schnackenberg to Springfield. He is a candidate for renomination in the 13th district, consisting of wards 7, 8, and 9, and parts of wards 6, 17, and 19, on the south and southwest sides.

The Legislative Voters league recently gave Schnackenberg its highest rating and said:

"Skill in debate, marked ability, careful study of important measures, and hard work have made him one of the most valuable members of Chicago's delegation in successive Illinois legislatures."

Saved Superroad Program.

In the 1939 session Schnackenberg and Cross rescued Chicago's superhighway program from a political death in the house. The legislation, described as a long step toward reduction of the motor massacre, was passed as a nonpartisan measure. A few weeks ago it was nullified by the Illinois Supreme court decision invalidating the financial plan enacted by the assembly.

Friends of the life-saving program are convinced that with Schnackenberg as house speaker the plan will grow to fulfillment. Speaker Cross, who would be presiding officer of the senate in the position to which he aspires, recently declared that an intelligent engineering solution of the superhighway problem should take precedence over road building dictated by political expediency.

Fought Party Switch Law.

Schnackenberg is pointing out these days to other Republican leaders that he fought the bill passed by a coalition in 1939, permitting G. O. P. voters to get into the Democratic mayoralty primary fight of last year. Now the hedge-jumping Republicans cannot vote in their own party primary.

A veteran of 20 years in the house, Schnackenberg last year was the sponsor in the lower chamber of the parole reform bill and took a leading rôle in the passage of the tax preadjudication law now awaiting test in the courts.

Vandals Smash a Window at Ditchburne Ward Office

Vandals smashed a window in the 43d ward headquarters of Harry S. Ditchburne, a candidate for the Republican nomination for state's attorney, at 1642 North Halsted street yesterday. A large brick was found on the floor of the office.

G. O. P. Delegates Chosen in Two States

Senator Bridges.

The delegates themselves professed open mindedness as to preference for presidential nominees at the Philadelphia convention June 24, but there appeared a friendly feeling for the candidacy of Senator H. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, a Maine native.

One Delegate Favors Taft.

One delegate said he leaned toward Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, but was maintaining the open mindedness characteristic of the delegation. "If some other New England states banded together for Bridges," he said, "I believe Maine ought to join and go along with them, for awhile at least."

Taft, District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and Frank E. Gannett, Rochester, N. Y., publisher, have made trips to Maine in behalf of their candidates, and Bridges had a representative at the state convention reporting to him on the make-up of the national delegation.

Keynoter Blasts New Deal.

The convention keynoter, Congressman James W. Wadsworth of New York, blasted the New Deal and urged that Mr. Roosevelt be "halted."

Reviewing seven years of the New Deal, Wadsworth charged President Roosevelt took office in 1933 "pledged to the hilt to establish rigid economy in the conduct of the federal government," and later completely abandoned the entire program.

The entire philosophy of the New Deal "is wrong and must be rejected," said Wadsworth, and the best way to accomplish this is "to beat Roosevelt himself."

Wichita, Kas., April 4 (AP).—Alf M. Landon and John Hamilton were selected today by the Kansas Republican convention as two of the state's four delegates at large to the national convention at Philadelphia.

Senator Capper.

Landon, 1936 presidential nominee, and Hamilton, the party's national chairman, had been indorsed by each of the seven congressional district conventions. The other two delegates at large are Mrs. Will G. West of McPherson and Jay Berryman of Ashland.

Resolution Backs Capper.

Selection of the delegates at large followed adoption of a resolution proposing that Senator Arthur Capper be nominated for president as the state's favorite son.

There was no binding instruction for the 18 Kansas delegates to vote for Capper, but he undoubtedly will be given the honor on the first Philadelphia ballot and may remain the state's choice until the national convention indicates its final direction.

Warns Against Bosses.

Landon, who addressed the state convention today, assailed what he termed the "loose fiscal policies" of the New Deal and declared the nation has had "seven years of confusion" resulting in "10 million discouraged, heartsick unemployed."

The 1936 presidential nominee warned that the Philadelphia convention must not be "boss-ridden" and exhorted his party not to "permit one man, or any group of money raisers, to pick our nominee."

The trend is toward the G. O. P., Landon said, and "victory awaits us unless we deliberately reverse this trend by our own blindness."

SUPERIOR COURT COALITION SEEN IN G. O. P. RECESS

The possibility that a coalition arrangement may be made before the Cook county judicial election was seen yesterday when the Republican judicial nominating convention was recessed until next Thursday.

A skeleton meeting was held in the county headquarters at 11 South La Salle street. There had been an advance agreement that because all members of the county committee, who constitute the convention, have their time fully occupied with the present campaign, a recess would be taken until after the April 9 primary. Then the date of April 11, the day of the Democratic convention, was selected. Simultaneous sessions are customary in connection with coalitions.

The terms of six judges of the Superior court expire this year. Five of them, John F. Bolton, Martin M. Gridely, Donald S. McKinlay, Joseph Sabath, and John J. Sullivan, are Democrats. The sixth is Judge John A. Sbarbaro, Republican. In addition, the vacancy left by Judge John Caverly, a Democrat, in the Circuit court, is to be filled.

Yesterday was the first day for filing for these offices, but no candidates appeared.

AUTO PLATE COVERED; JAIL TWO.

Lawrence Braico, 22 years old, 842 South Wolcott avenue, and Samuel Cesario, 21, of 2912 Lexington street, were arrested for investigation by Marquette police yesterday because the rear license plate on their car was covered with a cloth.

HERSHEY SCOLDS G. O. P. FOR HITS AT DEMOCRATS

Accuses Rivals of Trying to Win Election.

Harry B. Hershey, regular Democratic organization candidate for governor, took time in his principal campaign speech yesterday to scold Republicans for interfering with Democratic party affairs.

To same time, he delivered a radio speech before his 37th ward audience in the Austin High school, a carefullly timed talk that ordinarily would have been made in a downtown studio. It was then that he turned his attention to the G. O. P.

"I believe that all of us," he said, "are fed up on political campaigning that is carried on from the muddy trenches of bigotry and the pressrooms of selfish publishers.

Measure of the Man.

"In our daily work and contacts we take the measure of a man quickly it he is always using the dynamite of biased words to blast confidence and create dissension. It doesn't take long to size up a man who covers up his own lack of a program by shouting down the other fellow.

"I see by the papers—the Republican papers—that we are suffering from some party distempers and differences. I do not know what primaries are for if they are not meant to settle those differences.

"But the Democratic party wants to mind its own business, and we do not need the Republican party to mind it for us. We do not need a Republican press planting every kind of prejudice and doubt in the hope that we will harvest an unhealthy crop of dissatisfaction and confusion.

"You and I can understand why the Republican party and the Republican press want to enter our ranks in this primary. You and I can appreciate the advantages they gain by weakening now what they hope to strangle later.

Warns Against Defeat.

"An April victory can be a November defeat if we are not on our guard every minute to see thru the Republican tactics to entrap us and divide us. That is why I say that confidence in our cause should not breed overconfidence in our fight.

"That is why I believe that we cannot overlok a single opportunity to build up a unity of expression thru our votes on April 9; such an outpouring of strength and conviction that the ballot box will give the nation our answer so decisively that no one in the country will have cause to question who we are and what we stand for."

Hershey will repeat his time saving procedure tonight and will broadcast at 9 o'clock from a meeting in San Callisto's hall, 2187 De Kalb street.

JARECKI TO EXERCISE MAGISTRATE POWER TO CURB VOTE VIOLENCE

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki yesterday said he would exercise his powers as a peace officer and sit as examining magistrate to investigate any cases of election violence on which definite information is given to him. He made the statement to a group of 42d ward residents who told him that two women political workers had been attacked there in the last week. The committee included Frank J. Loesch, Robert H. McCormick, Edwin Sims, former United States attorney; Patrick F. Buckley, chairman of the executive committee of the 42d ward Republican group, and Charles Cutter, treasurer. Buckley said an effort would be made to supply Judge Jarecki with complete information on the sluggings.

TERRORIZE TRIO IN ROBBERY.

After threatening the manager and two women employés of the Commonwealth Loan company, 4803 Lincoln avenue, three robbers fled yesterday with $300.

Braude Obtains Court Writ to Offset Error on Ballot

Municipal Judge J. M. Braude, whose name appears on the Democratic primary ballot as J. N. Braude, obtained an order from Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher yesterday directing the board of election commissioners to credit him with all ballots cast under his misspelled name. The order was entered to prevent any technical objection after the primary election. Judge Braude is seeking renomination.

WELLINGTON "TOLD THE WORLD" in recent advertising the real meaning of that "new" hair at the edge of the forehead and temples.

Let us repeat: That "new" short hair is from the same hair root which used to produce a hair of normal length. It has gotten shorter with each re-appearance until it is very short and cannot go on without help, may not appear again, and the hair line will go higher.

Your hair gradually loses length years before you notice "high temples." Note carefully any dryness or excessive dandruff after maturity is attained.

WELLINGTON'S TREATMENTS

HAVE BECOME KNOWN NATIONALLY FOR THEIR THOROUGHNESS, and their use of the proper scientific equipment. His patrons come from many states. His office is not one of a chain of others under the same name. Here one man, the founder of the Institute, meets his patrons personally. With the experience of sixteen years in his own office he makes a most thorough diagnosis of each case and gives a statement of its exact condition.

WELLINGTON ETHICS

Have raised his hygienic scalp treatments to a high point of the public favor. They save the hair you have and promote a better growth. His are patterned after the highest of all ethics—those of the medical world. There is no high pressure. No obligation to sign. No request for full or part payment in advance. You pay as you go. No talk about "guarantee" to secure business. No asking one price and accepting a lower one. None of these things are permitted in the medical profession.

Your examination is made in private without charge. You are told in plain terms of the condition present. Your Courtesy Treatment three quarters hour long is given and your call is ended. We do not even ask if you expect to continue treatment.

Our almost seventeen years of service, our reputation for the highest form of service and business integrity makes it a safe thing to do to talk with Wellington. You can call by appointment or at your convenience. Appointment is best.

WAYLAND BROOKS —A CIRCUIT RIDER OF AMERICANISM

Sketch of G. O. P. Senate Candidate's Life.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Wayland Brooks, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator from Illinois, has inherited from his preacher father a marked platform ability and a zeal for evangelism. But his heart has turned in the direction of politics rather than the church—politics in the larger sense of the science and administration of government.

Brooks has been many things—student, athlete, soldier, farmer, lawyer, and politician. He is established in the law and owns a 367 acre farm in the Fox river valley near Ottawa on which he might make a good living. But the political scene in America today fascinates him, and he travels the roads as a circuit rider of old, preaching the gospel of Americanism. To him the most important job in the world is to help keep intact the American system of divided powers of government and keep unbridled power in check in this country.

Born in 1897 Near Wianet.

Brooks was born on March 8, 1897, three miles north of Wianet, Bureau county, a farming community where his father, the Rev. Jonas Gardner Brooks, was pastor of a small Wesleyan Methodist church. His mother, Ida Nora Bickford Brooks, was the daughter of a pioneer Illinois farmer. Brooks had two brothers, Lawrence and Russell. Both died overseas during the world war.

In 1904 the family moved to Dixon, where the father built the little west side Congregational church, and where Brooks remembers the arrival of the annual missionary barrel. His mother used to measure the boys every winter so that the ladies' aid societies of more prosperous communities might know what size coats and suits to send the poor minister's family.

In 1907 there was another move, this time to Peoria. When Brooks was 11 years old the family moved to Kewanee. There his mother died, and he went to live with an uncle on a farm near Neponset.

Stars in High School Sports.

Here the boy rode or drove three miles to school each day and did chores in winter and farm work in summer. The Rev. Mr. Brooks married again and the family moved to Wheaton, where the father became pastor of the Wheaton College church. Wayland attended the old academy there and then transferred to the high school so that he could play football and basketball there. He was graduated from high school in 1916, winning the Du Page county oratorical contest and the 440 yard track event for the county that year.

In Wheaton his father kept cows and a team of horses, and young Brooks interlarded his studies with care of these animals, milking and delivering milk, hauling rubbish, and taking care of lawns and gardens.

Brooks was a friend of Sven Duner, captain of the Illinois university basketball team, and it became his ambition to go to the university. As a financial preparation for this, the youth carried a hod for a building contractor. Duner's father loaned Brooks a little money to start at the university, and he supplemented the loan with a job at Champaign taking care of a horse and another as a waiter at the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

War Interrupts Career.

Brooks' student career was soon interrupted by the war. His brother, Russell, had entered the service, and soon Wayland left the university and joined the United States marines. He was sent to Paris Island, S. C., and then to France. He came out of the service in May, 1919, a lieutenant with the Distinguished Service Cross, the Croix de Guerre, and the Navy Cross. He also is a member of the Purple Heart, for he was wounded seven times. He was at Château Thierry and Belleau Wood, and in the Soissons offensive, as well as in the trenches before Verdun. It was near Scissons, on July 18, 1918, that an explosive shell blew off part of Brooks' left foot, tore part of his hip away, and did other damage. While he was hunting for bandages to stop the blood [seeking them from the dead that lay around him] a rifle bullet went thru his right arm.

Brook's father was in France as a Y M. C. A. worker. He heard his son had been wounded and after three weeks' search found Wayland in a hospital at Limoges, France. Brooks was sent home, arriving Nov. 7, 1918. Bones had to be grafted into his foot, and he bears the red marks of his wounds today. And so it is from bitter experience that Brooks talks when he preaches today against sending American boys onto European battlefields again.

Gibbons Gives Him a Boost.

Brooks had recovered but had not taken up his studies again when he met Floyd Gibbons, famous war correspondent of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, on State street one day. Gibbons had had his eye shot out at Belleau Wood, where Brooks had fought. Gibbons was going to Milwaukee to make a speech. He took Brooks along. He introduced Brooks, who made a speech that aroused Gibbons' admiration.

"That's what you ought to be doing," he said.

At that time the Victory Loan drive was on, and speakers were wanted. There was a rule against service men taking part in such campaigns, but Gibbons got in touch with Washington, and Secretary of the Navy Daniels granted Brooks permission to take up the work of speaker. He was sent all over the middle west on this drive. A Chautauqua booking agent heard him, and he went on that circuit for a few months.

In 1920 Brooks married Gertrude Ackerly of St. Joseph, Mo., a music student in Chicago. He then went to work for the near east relief as a speaker, and was assigned to South Dakota. Dean Thomas Arkle Clark of the University of Illinois wanted him to return there, but Mrs. Brooks wanted him to study law.

He Moves Into Politics.

Brooks returned to the university for prelegal work and then went to Chicago university law school for a year. He attended political meetings and found that he wanted to get into politics. When Arthur Lueder became a candidate for mayor, Brooks volunteered as a speaker. He began at small club meetings but was soon sent downtown to the loop noonday meetings. He attracted the attention of the late Edward Brundage, who asked him to come into his north side organization. So Brooks moved north, went to Northwestern university law school, and in 1924 became a precinct captain in the regular Republican organization of the 49th ward.

In 1925 Brooks was made commander of the Marine post of the American Legion. In this year also his son, Russell, was born. He was still making his living as a speaker. One day Robert Crowe, then state's attorney, heard him speak, and told him to come to the office when he was graduated from law school. In 1926 Brooks was made an assistant state's attorney.

In the meantime, as commander of the Marine post, Brooks had been an important factor in the election of his army chaplain, Father H. A. Darche of Bradley, as state and, later, national chaplain of the Legion.

Successful as Prosecutor.

As an assistant state's attorney, Brooks soon made a reputation for his successful handling of crime cases, particularly those against bank robbers and forgers. In 1928, when Swanson opposed Crowe, Brooks supported his chief, and after the election expected to be dismissed. But the bankers' association interceded for him and he was retained in office by Swanson. In 1930 and 1931 he was busy against bombers and kidnapers, assigned to such cases by request of the Secret Six, an organization supported by civic leaders in an effort to clean up Chicago. He was in the state's attorney's office for seven years and entered the wider field of politics in 1932 when he ran for state treasurer.

Brooks' civil law business six years ago enabled him to realize a lifelong ambition and own his own farm. He bought a place of woodland and ravine, a place of beauty and utility. He remodeled the old farmhouse and barns, and in his spare time he has been improving his soil and raising Black Angus cattle for the market. His barns are filled with hay and corn. He wanders among his sheep, horses, pigs, and chickens with delight. But he is not ready to retire to security there. His heart is in the job of keeping this government from greater and greater dictatorship over the lives of the people. The farm is a backstop, a retreat. He is still on the firing line.

FLOYD E. THOMPSON BACKS ADAMOWSKI'S SENATE CANDIDACY

Floyd E. Thompson, former chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court and Democratic candidate for governor in 1928, urged yesterday that voters support Benjamin S. Adamowski, insurgent candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator.

"Ben Adamowski has established a reputation in public service that merits the support of Democrats interested in nominating a candidate who can win in November," Judge Thompson said.

"Few members of the general assembly have shown greater aptitude for legislative service. His ability and industry soon won for him the leadership of his party in the house and he discharged the duties of that important position with great credit. He has shown an independence and a faithfulness in public service which is refreshing these days."

The insurgent headquarters announced that the Stelle-Adamowski-Barrett ticket has been indorsed by the International Workers' order, with a membership of 50,000 in 500 locals in Illinois, and the Ukranian Democratic Civic league, a youth organization claiming 10,000 members.

ASKS SUPERVISED BALLOT COUNTING AS BAR TO FRAUD

George S. Lavin, Republican candidate for congressman-at-large, yesterday urged centralized ballot counting under supervision as a means of preventing election fraud. Lavin, in a letter to County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki, suggested that judges and clerks, with a police officer, take the ballots to a central place, perhaps a loop office building, and count them there.

Lavin said he was sure many civic organizations would be glad to provide observers during the tallying. He said testimony at recent vote fraud trials had shown that many of the frauds consisted of erasures and forgeries done after the polls closed. He suggested that if the scheme were impracticable for the entire city it might be done only in certain "bad wards."

M'CAULEY TELLS G. O. P. IT NEEDS "OUTFIELDERS"

William R. McCauley of Olney, candidate for the Republican nomination for state auditor, warned the party last night that it would have a difficult time in the fall unless some "outfielders" were put on the state ticket.

"Thirty-two of the 49 candidates are from Cook county," McCauley said at a meeting in the Ravenswood Masonic temple. "Sixteen others are from northern and western counties. As it happens, I am the only candidate for state office in 48 southern and eastern counties, in which both leading candidates for governor on the Democratic side reside."

McCauley urged a "balanced team." His headquarters announced his candidacy was indorsed by the 47th ward organization and by 33 G. O. P. county chairmen downstate.

CREATIVENESS, history has shown, flowers when, where and how it pleases. In the present instance, the lad from Lebanon, Ohio, whose father was a county judge, and whose forebears ran back to Whipple and Morris, both signers of the Declaration of Independence, must have had Art in his blood at birth. And the strong bias to Americanism patent in all his work has its indubitable answer in his ancestry.

This art flair started him as a painting student under Frank Duveneck, on Saturday afternoons at the Cincinnati Art Academy. Next followed a year with the Art Students' League in New York City, where he won both the first and second Tiffany prizes when only 16, for "the year's most outstanding student's war memorial."

True to family tradition, he was a Princeton freshman at seventeen—temporarily dropping brush and palette to guide the destinies of the campus playhouse, design Triangle Show sets, stage Drake's Drum with notable success, and fall into association with Norman Bel Geddes. The legal career for which he had entered college went by the board, as young Russel Wright executed commissions for the Theatre Guild and several New York productions; began producing theatrical properties in his workshop; presently had taken on custom furniture and accessories designing; and finally was so completely absorbed in this field as to be counseling New York stores and producing, via a small factory, his informal serving accessories in spun aluminum and woodware.

Soon he was acting in an industrial design capacity for a Who's Who of American makers of rugs, wallpaper, radios, pianos, furniture, pottery and allied products. The Focal Food Show at the New York World's Fair was among his ventures in interiors; and such is the freshness of his ideas and their influence, that his work has been widely publicized and exhibited in leading European and American museums.

The reader can best appreciate Russel Wright's "adventures in free form" by examination of his American Modern dinnerware, already discussed, and the famous Oceana woodware—in which latter he has given sculpturesque interpretation to marine motifs whose utility-naturalness is as astonishing as their novelty. The flow of a wave, the arc of a fin, the tresses of a seaweed, the lovely volutes of a shell, are recast in lustrous bleached maple and hazelwood with a triumph of effect that words cannot render. Second-floor visitors will understand this the moment they examine each creation. For here is work at once intensively American in its manner, yet universal in its appeal.

POINT TO GREEN'S $10,000 CHECK AS PROOF OF ABILITY

Women Scoff at Charge of Democratic Backing.

Mrs. Ralph W. Webster, former president of the Chicago Women's club, and Miss Jane A. Magan, former president of the Illinois Federation of Business Women's Clubs, entered the political fray last night in behalf of Dwight H. Green, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

In a radio dialog program, participated in by Mrs. Ethel Winser, an inquiring housewife, the women disposed to their own satisfaction, at least, of the charges that Green is receiving underground support from the Kelly-Nash machine. These charges were first made by Mrs. John K. Russell, chairman of the Women's Regular Republican organization of Oak Park.

Counter Attack on Green.

Not only did Mrs. Webster and Miss Magan absolve Green of all blame in the matter of Democratic support but they made the counter charge that 16 of the principal backers of Richard J. Lyons, Green's opponent, are "hand in glove with the Kelly-Nash machine." They gave six names of the alleged 16.

The dialog was built around a ward meeting in which a Lyons worker displayed a copy of a check for $10,000 made out to Green by the Utilities Power and Light corporation. Mrs. Russell has contended she can prove Green was retained as attorney for the corporation at the request of Walter J. Cummings, former treasurer of the Democratic national committee.

This check was a credit to Green, Mrs. Webster asserted.

"The Utilities Power and Light corporation was organized under the laws of Virginia," she said. "Altho its principal offices are in Chicago, it distributes only a very small amount of gas and electricity in Illinois.

"In 1935 it needed counsel to represent it in certain involved litigation of a special nature, which could be handled adequately only by a lawyer who was experienced in deling with and understanding complicated books and records.

"Directors of the corporation retained Green as the counsel because they believed him unusually well qualified for the job. The fee ultimately paid him represented payment for more than a year's intensive legal services. In this campaign the voters must decide whether they desire men in office who are successful, capable, and experienced or men who are failures in their professions."

Lists Six "Backers."

While Mr. Green is alleged to be receiving some minor unsolicited support from six or seven former Democrats, 16 of Mr. Lyons' principal backers and leaders are hand in glove with the Kelly-Nash machine, Miss Magan added.

"Dan Serritella, Bill Pacelli, Paul Rothenberg, Bill Finucane, Joe Parcaro, and Casimir Corny are a few of the names I could mention," she said. "It is in their wards that the greatest number of votes have been stolen from the Republican candidates.

"While Mrs. Russell charges that one of the six or seven former Democrats supporting Green in a minor capacity were on the Democratic pay roll for 90 days, she forgot to state that George Williston, the Lyons ward committeeman in the 49th ward, was on the Kelly-Nash pay roll for three and one-half years at $250 per month."

CHURCH STUMPS WITH GREEN AT 3 WARD MEETINGS

Makes His First Platform Speech of Campaign.

Congressman Ralph E. Church, who has been conducting a radio and mail campaign for the Republican nomination for United States senator, broke into the ranks of the platform orators last night. Appearing at three Dwight H. Green meetings on the south and west sides, Church delivered a vigorous attack on the Washington administration's meddling in foreign peoples' affairs.

"There's enough trouble in the United States without making more by snooping around," the congressman declared. "We should keep our Bullitts at home and stop stirring up foreign animosities."

Explains Absentee Campaign.

Church said that while many of his advisers were against his making an absentee campaign, he felt that his first duty was to his constituents in the 10th district.

"It seems old fashioned," he asserted, "but I have done the job I was elected to, faithfully and, I hope, well. I have kept intact a six year record of never missing a congressional roll call.

"While this campaign has been going on I have been in Washington battling to save money while the New Deal is fighting to waste it. Only a few days ago I presented evidence to show how the Home Owners' Loan corporation officials were traveling about, joy riding to Rose Bowl football games and sunny beaches, on government expense accounts. You have read about that in the papers.

Reviews Attacks on New Deal.

"My only trips home have been by airplane at week-ends. In my radio speeches—the seventh last Monday—I pointed out that the New Deal remedies for American economic ills were worse than the original disease. It was shown also that New Deal agencies mailed 971 million pieces of mail under frank in 1939. This was propaganda to make the public swallow the New Dealers' pills.

"By staying at my job I have been able to dig up many interesting facts and figures to prove conclusively that recovery can come only when a Republican administration is elected."

In the Morgan Park High school auditorium a 19th ward audience applauded Church and Green. Church also spoke in the 12th and 25th wards. He is to appear at other ward meetings tonight, and will fly back to Washington afterward.

The congressman made only one criticism of his opponent for the nomination, Wayland Brooks, saying that Brooks was a Townsendite.

LILLIAN ROTH.

New York, April 4 (AP). — Lillian Roth, Broadway torch singer, must prosecute on an assault charge the man she loves. She has accused him of breaking her jaw during a quarrel in her apartment.

Three judges in the court of special sessions again refused her request to withdraw the complaint against Eugene Weiner and set trial for April 15.

SLUSH DECISION ARGUMENTS TO BE HEARD TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Samuel L. Nudelman.

Springfield, Ill., April 4 [Special].—Judge L. E. Stone of the Sangamon county Circuit court tomorrow will hear arguments of opposing attorneys over the form of an order to release all but $5,000 of a Horner 2 per cent slush fund account on deposit in the American National Bank and Trust company of Chicago. The lawyers today appeared in court and failed to agree on an interpretation of the judge's opinion handed down last Saturday.

The opinion was on a motion to dissolve a temporary injunction that has tied up this account since Feb. 27. The amount of this deposit was given in the complaint, a suit for an accounting, as being in excess of $200,000. Finance Director Samuel L. Nudelman, one of nine Horner appointees who are the defendants, told a reporter there was less than $25,000 enjoined by this writ.

The court in its opinion held that without a modification the writ was depriving state employés of their political rights to have part of their salaries spent for campaign expenses. It further held that $5,000 was more than adequate to cover the claims of five plaintiffs seeking an audit of their contributions.

THIEVES GET 54 TUBS OF BUTTER.

Myron F. Schultz of Kankakee, Kankakee county, reported to police yesterday that his truck, containing 54 tubs of butter, had been stolen from in front of 1122 Fulton street while he was making a delivery. The empty truck was found later in front of 1505 South Throop street.

ZONING LAW HELD BAR TO PROPOSED NEW CITY DUMP

Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board, was informed yesterday by W. J. Mortimer, executive secretary of the county zoning commission, that establishment of a proposed city dump west of the Des Plaines river and southwest of Park Ridge would violate the county interim zoning ordinance.

Mortimer was ordered to investigate the site after F. E. Bryan, president of the International Reduction corporation, applied for a permit. Bryan has a contract with the city to treat refuse dumped there with a patented bacteriological process which he claims will remove all odors and vermin, and prevent the dump from becoming a public nuisance.

Mortimer reported that the dump site has been used for solid materials, such as automobile bodies and tires, but not for garbage. The dumping of garbage, he said, would create a new use for the dump, in violation of the ordinance. Bryan claims the dump has been used for garbage for three years. He said he would appeal to the zoning commission and to the county board.

WARNS OF DRIVE BY NEW DEAL TO SHACKLE PRESS

A. N. P. A. Counsel Urges Fight for Free Speech.

"heavy and oppressive hand of government," declared Hanson. He said there is not a single activity of life, whether business or pleasure, that does not play a part and, moreover, the heavy hand lies on future generations yet unborn.

Thirty years ago there was only one regulatory agency, he continued, while today there are 17 federal agencies controling business and industry thru issuing orders which have the force of law. Each agency has the authority not only to regulate business but "to snoop into it," he said.

Cites Welter of Data.

In 1938 American business concerns were called upon by the federal agencies to submit more than 135 million reports spread upon more than 4,700 different forms, Hanson recalled.

"Our federal government has gone so far as to declare the doctor who prescribes a remedy to be in commerce and subject to the provisions of the Sherman antitrust act, even tho it hasn't said when the commerce begins or where it ends," asserted the speaker.

In the development of its philosophy of regulating everybody's business, Hanson said, the administration is "now trying to tell us what we should and should not buy, and at the same time it is seeking to restrict the information which others may want to give us concerning their goods and services."

Looks Into Future.

"If this effort succeeds," he predicted, "it will not be long before the women of the country will have little choice as to their hats, frocks, hose, or shoes. Men will wear blue, black, or brown shirts according to government prescription. Automobiles will have to be all alike and at one price, if any person is left who has the money with which to buy a car.

"New devices of household necessity or luxury will not be allowed on the market until they have reached a stage of perfection which even a Washington burocrat can perceive. The government will tell you what vegetables are good for you and at what season of the year you can eat them.

"You won't be able to get your favorite brands of coffee, flour, canned goods, or other necessities. You may select only from grades A, B and C as approved by the government. Lipstick, rouge, and nail polish will be taboo for the housewife and office worker as well as the debutante."

Criticizes Trade Board.

Besides ripping into the FCC for its recent regulatory action, Hanson criticized the federal trade commission for invoking the power of injunction illegally to restrict the dissemination of information thru advertising.

Hanson also called attention to the radio and periodical division operated by the FTC for the purpose of investigating advertising. Radio broadcasting companies, which are under federal license, submit all their advertising continuities to this division for inspection.

In 1938, Hanson asserted, the division examined 1,384,353 typewritten pages of such continuities, while in the first 11 months of 1939 about the same number were scanned and objections were noted on 644,000 pages. The division has also examined 220,760 advertisments appearing in newspapers and magazines.

A hundred years ago the crown in England started a similar offensive against the press wherein a tax was levied in order to control advertising, Hanson said. This so-called "tax on knowledge" was so revolting to the English people it was repealed.

"I venture to suggest the trade commission at this time change the name of its radio and periodical division to that of the bureau of censorship of knowledge so the people can be in no further doubt as to its real purpose," said Hanson. "That is to regulate the nature of information in the form of advertising according to its view of the truth thereof."

There are proper legal remedies for offenses in advertising, observed Hanson, without invoking the rule of regulation, licensing, censorship, or taxation. He said publishers had set up organizations in order to check on advertisers and advertising copy to see that they met high standards.

Foresees Extension.

"If government can censor one form of information it can censor all others," he continued. "If it can order one thing printed and published, it can order another. It has no such power.

"Freedom of the press is just as essential to the preservation of our economic liberty as it is to the safeguarding of our political freedom, for the two go hand in hand."

In conclusion Hanson declared freedom of the press is not only a fundamental right, but in fact the foundation on which all liberties of American citizens rest.

BEG YOUR PARDON

It was incorrectly stated in THE TRIBUNE on March 3 that Edmund Burke, 18 years old, of 1264 Ardmore avenue, who was arrested in Evanston on a traffic charge, had admitted to the police that he once served 10 months in the Bridewell for burglary and had been arrested for automobile theft in Chicago and Kenosha, Wis. Burke made no such statement. He has no criminal or police record of any kind.

BEAT ROOSEVELT AND AVOID WAR, BROOKS WARNS

Tells Ohioans G.O.P. Must Oust New Dealers.

Cleveland, O., April 4 [Special].—Unless the Roosevelt administration is swept from power this year, New Deal "meddling" will draft the nation's youth, wealth, and industry for a European conflict which will spell the end of our kind of government, C. Wayland Brooks of Chicago warned here tonight.

Brooks, Republican candidate for United States senator from Illinois, was the principal speaker at the centennial banquet of the Tippecanoe club which claims to be the oldest Republican organization in the United States. His address was broadcast over a special Mutual Broadcasting company hookup. It included a message to the Young Republicans of Illinois who had organized special listening parties for the broadcast.

600 G. O. P. Figures There.

Gathered at the club's anniversary dinner in Hotel Cleveland were more than 600 city, state, and national Republican figures including Gov. John W. Bricker, James T. Begg, former congressman from Sandusky, O., and . Robert A. Taft, wife of the Ohio senator, who is seeking the G. O. P. presidential nomination. Senator Taft was forced to cancel a scheduled appearance at the meeting to go to Washington.

"We faced pretty much the same situation in 1916 that we face tonight, said Brooks. "We were then and we are now under a Democratic administration. The people were sure that the Democratic administration had and would keep us out of war.

"The people of our nation did not wish to participate in Europe's conflict, but the handling of our government brought about a situation where almost immediately after the inauguration of the Democratic administration we entered the war.

Turns Out to Be Sham.

"What a sham that turned out to be," shouted Brooks, who served as a marine during the conflict and was decorated for bravery in action. "That is one of the reasons why I want to be a United States senator representing Illinois. When they invite America to come back to play a part in trying to settle Europe's affairs and participate in another European war, I want to vote 'no.'" We are not sending a single American boy to die on European soil in another European war."

Brooks charged that the historic, traditional Democratic party "is no more."

"It has been completely submerged, dominated, and controled by a new philosophy," he said.

"To the flag of the New Deal they invited all the disgruntled Republicans, all of the so-called Liberals and would be Progressives, all of the communists and all of the Reds and said to them: 'Come, sit down at the table of the New Deal. We are going to launch an attack.'"

Brooks said that the New Deal, thus armed and organized, launched an assault "at the basic principles upon which our government was founded and upon the organization of the government itself."

STICKS BY STREET CAR TRANSFER; IT IS A FARE TO JAIL

It made no difference to Alex Gammell, 60 years old, 1509 East 69th place, that $23.60 was in his pocket. Gammell insisted Tuesday night that his transfer was good. The street car conductor insisted it was old.

They argued from 47th street and Cottage Grove avenue to 53d street and Lake Park avenue, where Policeman John King joined in. King and a woman passenger even offered to pay the fare, but Gammell refused, and spent the night in the Hyde Park station.

He still insisted yesterday that the transfer was good. Judge Francis Borrelli in the Wabash avenue court shrugged, said, "Oh, well," and dismissed a disorderly conduct charge.

SEARCY SAYS STATE'S SHARE OF U. S. DEBT IS 14 TIMES ITS OWN

Illinois' share of the national debt is 14 times greater than the state's bonded indebtedness, State Senator Earl B. Searcy, a Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, declared last night at a G. O. P. meeting in the 43d ward.

"This share—$2,760,000,000—is two-thirds as great as all of Illinois' appropriated expenditures thruout her 122 years of statehood," Searcy said. "Abnormal debt stagnates business. It requires tax dollars that ought to be working in legitimate channels of civic employment.

"No government can show economy unless it spends less than it takes in. And the folks who are kicked about most in this vicious New Deal circle are the people of the so-called middle class."

1940 TO DECIDE OUR FREEDOM, ASSERTS LYONS

He Calls Election One of History's Most Vital.

The primary of next Tuesday will name standard bearers for one of the most important elections in American history, Richard J. Lyons declared in a massmeeting last night at 1016 North Dearborn street, in the 42d ward. It probably will be the most vital political battle in the lives of voters alive today, he said.

Lyons, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, was heard thruout the state by hundreds of members of the National Federation of Young Republicans, his campaign managers announced. Radio parties had been arranged in every county, they said. The Dearborn street hall was filled to its capacity, about 650 persons.

Other Leaders Heard.

Speaking with Lyons were Clarence Willard Jr., president of the Young Republicans in Illinois; Mrs. Velda Metcalf, junior national committeewoman, and James P. Economos, Cook county chairman of the organization.

The candidate began his speech by thanking his hearers for the work they are doing in the primary campaign to put Illinois back into the Republican column in November.

"This will mean the rescue of our government from New Deal waste, graft, and corruption in Springfield and Washington," he said. "I have more than a million friends in Illinois who testified to their faith in me and their approval of my party loyalty and party leadership.

Charges Vote Thefts.

"One million 542 thousand of them were officially recorded as voting for my election as United States senator in 1938. How many other thousands voted for me—thousands whose votes were not counted—only the big chiefs of the Kelly-Nash machine really know.

"In 1936 Roosevelt carried Illinois by a 712,000 majority. But only two years later, in 1938, with the help of all the loyal Republican leaders and workers of the state, we cut that to less than 96,000.

"This year our party situation is very serious. Illinois is the key state in the national campaign.

"In my opinion, our party and our nation are standing at the crossroads. In other lands the people have lost their liberty. Even the holding of elections has been suspended.

"Unless our party wins the presidential election in November, there is grave danger that we may share the same unhappy fate."

Republican Candidate's Campaign Truck Stolen

Workers for Dr. Robert Schaefer, a Republican candidate for congress from the 10th district, reported to Summerdale police last night that their campaign truck had been stolen at Bryn Mawr avenue and Clark street.

GREEN IMPLORES G. O. P. YOUTH TO DEFEND LIBERTY

Says They Have Greatest Stake in Election.

Dwight H. Green, candidate for the Republican nominaion for governor, summoned the youth of Illinois last night to devote the next five days to carrying the Republican fight for liberty into every home and farm and factory, arousing the people to go to the polls. The year 1940, Green said, may determine whether this country will retain liberty and self-government.

Green spoke at a meeting of Young Republicans in the Congress hotel. His address was broadcast. He was introduced by Frank S. Sims, founder and past president of the Young Republicans of Cook county.

"One of the most hopeful signs of 1940," said Green, "is that youth is conscious of the crisis at hand and is taking part in preparing its future. Never within our memory have the young men and women of our state been so deeply interested and so actively at work in a political campaign.

Have More at Stake.

"The young people of our country have more at stake in its government than any others. Their path is the longest. Their opportunity for life work and happiness depends upon the form of government under which they will live.

"This year 1940 may determine whether our country will retain liberty and self-government in a world that has gone mad or will turn to a centralized government in which the individual is lost and becomes only a creature of the state.

"We have been born and reared under a government of great liberty and opportunity. Seventy-five years after Lincoln's death we are once more struggling to see 'whether this nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated can long endure.' It is the age old issue of liberty and government by the people or the rule of force under a centralized government.

Says Liberty Is Menaced.

"No generation in our nation's life has had more reason to fight to keep our liberty and opportunity than the young men and women of America in 1940. This is the challenge to Young Republicans of Illinois. It is their opportunity to perform the highest possible service they can render in protecting self-government and preserving liberty in the darkest hour of despotism thruout a world that has forsaken them.

"In this spirit I call upon you tonight to devote the next five days to carrying our fight into every home and farm and factory, arousing the people to go to the polls next Tuesday."

Green also appeared at six south side meetings last night.

CASSIDY CALLS PARLEY ON LAKE DIVERSION CASE

Attorney General John E. Cassidy will confer here today with his assistants in regard to the evidence Illinois will present in the lake diversion case before Monte M. Leman, a New Orleans attorney who was appointed a special master by the United States Supreme court on Wednesday.

Lemann was ordered to gather facts immediately on the state's request that it be allowed to divert 5,000 cubic feet a second from Lake Michigan instead of the present rate of 1,500 which was set by the court in 1930.

POLL SENTIMENT FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL CHOICE

Carlstrom, Barrett Big G. O. P. Contenders.

Tabulation of three days' straw votes by THE TRIBUNE yesterday indicated that the Republican race for the nomination for attorney general at this stage of the campaign is between George F. Barrett and Oscar E. Carlstrom.

Politicians expressed surprise that Carlstrom was running strongly enough to make him a real contender. He was elected attorney general in 1924 and 1928, but ran third in the governorship primary races of 1932 and 1936. In the latter year he polled only 53,266 votes in the entire state.

Barrett Has Organized Support.

Their astonishment also was caused by their knowledge that Barrett has the strongest organization support in Cook county promised any candidate for this office and has organized units in nearly all the downstate counties. Carlstrom has little organization support in Chicago and his downstate campaign has not been nearly as aggressive as Barrett's.

The conclusion of observers is that in a test poll in which all comers are permitted to vote Carlstrom's name was well known because of his previous races. This is Barrett's first try for public office.

The politicians also claimed that organization support will not start to show its full effect in straw voting until today and that this is especially true of the races for the secondary state office nominations.

A Bird's-Eye View.

CHICAGO—	Barrett.	Carlstrom.
Street corners and factories	1,869	1,537
Suburbs	400	356
Downstate	1,465	1,569
Totals	3,734	3,454
SUBURBS—	Barrett.	Carlstrom.
Oak Park	66	17
Berwyn	37	33
Evanston	48	24
Park Ridge	25	18
Glencoe	25	18
Cicero	33	36
DOWNSTATE CITIES—	Barrett.	Carlstrom.
Springfield	145	118
Quincy	18	12
Champaign	117	81
Rockford	77	106
East St. Louis	36	22
Peoria	48	32
Joliet	63	116
Elgin	82	122
Aurora	61	84

None of the other four candidates for this nomination came near the leaders. They are Frank R. Eagleton, Charles W. Hadley, Edward A. Hayes, and George Landon.

Block Strength a Surprise.

Democratic straws collected in the same places on the two candidates for that party's nomination for attorney general also failed to reflect organization strength. State Senator Harold G. Ward is the regular candidate on the Hershey slate. His only opponent is Samuel H. Block of Chicago, who not only is not on the insurgent Democratic slate but has failed to disclose any organized backing. Yet the test showed Block, the unknown, putting up a strong race against Ward, a veteran senator who is now majority leader of the upper chamber.

	Ward.	Block.
Chicago	3,459	2,879
Suburbs	418	317
Downstate	2,522	1,729
Totals	6,399	4,925

CHANGE IN NAVY OFFICE PLANNED BY ROOSEVELT

Washington, D. C., April 4 (AP).—President Roosevelt and his naval advisers in congress agreed today that the navy department's administration activities should be reorganized to provide a bureau of ships, by consolidating the bureau of engineering and the bureau of construction and repair; an undersecretary of the navy and delegation of specific duties to the present assistant secretary to coördinate industrial shore activities.

Chairman Carl Vinson [D., Ga.] of the house naval committee and Representative C. W. Darden [D., Va.], chairman of a subcommittee which has been studying the reorganization, said a bill would be introduced immediately to provide the changes. It was explained that while the bill would not disturb the important functions of the office of chief of naval operations, it probably would relieve the admiral in charge of this office of many nonmilitary duties.

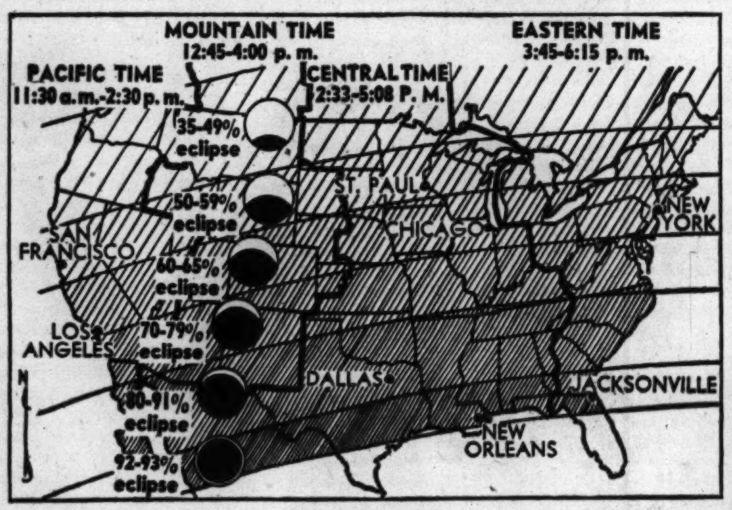
Percentages of Sun's Eclipse Sunday



Percentages of eclipse of sun and hours in which eclipse will be visible Sunday in various belts of the United States. A partial eclipse will be visible in Chicago for two and a half hours.

Warn of Eye Strain

The first annular, or ring, eclipse of the sun visible in this country since April 28, 1930, will occur Sunday afternoon. For two and a half hours the sun's face will be obscured in some degree by the moon's shadow, and at the peak of this display the moon will appear as a dark disk in the center of the sun, shutting out all but a slim ring of light around the edge.

It will be visible in its entirety, weather permitting, only a on a narrow path across the far southern end of the country. In Chicago, as elsewhere in North America outside the direct path, the eclipse will be partial. Here it will be from 2:33 p. m. to 5:08 p. m.

Eye doctors warned yesterday that severe eye injuries can result from looking at the sun without some protection. They advised the use of smoke blackened glasses, colored lenses, or a well exposed and developed camera film.

ArmyOfficers toPhotograph Eclipse from Bomber Plane

Dayton, O., Anril 4 (AP).—Four Wright field army officers plan to soar some 32,000 feet into Florida skies Sunday to photograph the sun's partial ecplise from a B-17B bomber.

SEEKS ANOTHER 150 MILLIONS TO SPEND ON WPA

Washington, D. C., April 4 (AP).—An immediate increase of 150 million dollars in relief funds was sought in the senate today shortly after a house appropriation subcommittee began hearings on President Roosevelt's estimates for WPA for the year starting July 1.

Senator Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] proposed the additional appropriation, saying it was necessary to prevent suffering between now and June 30. Congress voted 1,477 millions for WPA last year.

Meanwhile, F. C. Harrington, WPA commissioner, appeared before the house group behind closed doors and gave it an outline of the unemployment situation. Committee members said later the 985 millions which President Roosevelt recommended to run the WPA for the year starting July 1 would provide for about 1,600,000 persons. That would represent a reduction of about 500,000 from the total on WPA rolls this month.

Russia Seeks to Make Its People 'Navy Minded'

MOSCOW, April 4.—In a campaign to make the soviet population "navy minded," picture postcards of eight soviet warships will be placed on sale, it was announced today. One of those to be pictured is the modern cruiser, Kyrov. Special posters on the Red navy also will be issued.

ACQUITTED ON RAPE CHARGE.

Manuel Andrade, 21 years old, a Mexican, of 329 East 14th street, was acquitted yesterday by a Criminal court jury before Judge William J. Lindsay on a charge of rape.

HOUSE APPROVES $784,999,094 FOR ARMY EXPENSES

Washington, D. C., April 4 (AP).—An overwhelming house vote sent a $784,999,094 army appropriation bill to the senate today and established a new speed record for disposal of the session's 11 regular supply bills.

In approving the huge defense measure without a roll call, the house not only sustained its appropriations committee in slashing $67,357,660 from the amount recommended by President Roosevelt for the army, but trimmed off an additional $1,000,000 intended to buy more land for Fort Knox, Ky.

As finally approved, the measure carried $66,474,151 less than the army had for the current fiscal year.

"Bill, I think that's wonderful"
"They're beginning to appreciate you since you took that special course."

Marriage, a home, a better job—are you waiting for increased earning power to make these things possible?

If you want to get ahead faster, it will pay you to select one of the regular or short courses of specialized training for men and women described in the Instruction, Musical and Dramatic, Trade Schools, Dressmaking and Millinery Schools, and Dancing Schools columns in the Tribune want ad section.

"You finished that dress today? Where do you get all the time on washday?"

Don't let housework get you down. Life is too short to slave it away at disagreeable jobs that spoil your good times.

Maybe the laundry or cleaning takes so much of your time and energy that you have little left for leisure and fun. If so, a good used washer, ironer or vacuum cleaner can help you speed your housework. These and many other work-saving household appliances are offered at money-saving prices in the Household Appliances column of the Tribune want ad section.

CHANCE OF A LIFETIME

● Drug stores, beauty shops, gas stations, food stores — these and many other profitable types of businesses are offered for sale in the Business Opportunities column in the Tribune want ad section. If you are looking for a chance to establish yourself in business on your own, you will not want to miss the opportunities described in the Tribune want ad section.

● Because they get better results, want ad users place more total want advertising in the Tribune than they place in all other Chicago newspapers combined.

SERVING CHICAGO FOR 92 YEARS

FACTORY VOTERS GIVE DEWEY LEAD OVER ROOSEVELT

Block Strong in Race for Attorney General.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

In the factory and mail order house vote at 17 Chicago establishments included in today's results of THE TRIBUNE'S straw vote, some interesting trends of labor sentiment are shown.

Vice-President John N. Garner, with no organization and no campaign, got 7.38 per cent of the Democratic straws cast in the 17 plants; President Roosevelt, backed by the Chicago-Springfield organization, had 92.62 per cent.

Dewey Retains Lead.

Thomas E. Dewey, Republican candidate without opposition in the preferential primaries, received a few more votes in the 17 places than did President Roosevelt. Dewey had more votes in two polls each at the Pullman company, Western Electric company, and R. R. Donnelley Sons, printers. He also polled more votes at Stewart Warner corporation and the Mills Novelty company, vending machines. This list included one small WPA poll, in which Dewey got 10, Roosevelt 12.

John Stelle, insurgent Democratic candidate for governor against the machine slate, ran better at the factories than he did on the street corners. He got 47.30 per cent of the vote in these 17 points. Harry B. Hershey, the organization choice, had 52.70 per cent. Stelle ran ahead of Hershey in straws at the Pullman company, the stockyards, International Harvester company, the Florsheim Shoe company, and Montgomery Ward & Co.

Adamowski Forges Ahead.

Benjamin S. Adamowski, Democratic candidate for United States senator against Senator James M. Slattery, also fared well in the factory poll. He got 59.90 per cent of the straws; Slattery 40.10. In this particular list Adamowski was ahead in each poll except three. On the street corner vote in today's table, Adamowski picked up. He got 48.27 per cent.

In 60,103 Democratic straws that have been collected and printed to date, Stelle has 46.42 per cent; Hershey, 53.58; for senator Adamowski has 44.78; Slattery 55.22 per cent.

The total Republican and Democratic vote to date for all candidates in Chicago, its suburbs and downstate is 123,229.

NAME NEW AIDS OF DEVELOPMENT BODY FOR STATE

The Illinois Development council, a group of business men selected by Gov. Horner last January to promote Illinois as the ideal place in which to live, work, and play, held its first meeting yesterday in the American National Bank and Trust company. Robert E. Straus, vice president of the bank, is chairman of the council.

He made the following appointments: Anderson Pace of Evanston, chairman of the coördination committee; W. Homer Hartz, Chicago, chairman of general committee on industry and agriculture; Chester Ferris, Chicago, chairman of subcommittee on industry; Dwight Hart, Sharpsburg, chairman of subcommittee on agriculture; Jerry B. Gordon, Peoria, chairman of recreational and tourist promotional committee, and Joseph H. Williams, Springfield, chairman of advertising committee.

The council will serve in an advisory capacity in expenditure of a $2,500,000 legislative appropriation.

CARLSTROM VOWS HE'LL HELP KEEP U. S. OUT OF WAR

Oscar E. Carlstrom, a candidate for the Republican nomination for attorney general, last night pledged his influence, if elected, to keep this country out of war and to restore sanity and economy in government. He addressed voters of the 11th congressional district in Yorkville, Kendall county.

"The morals of public service have been wholly corrupted, and wasteful extravagance and costly experimentation have brought us to the verge of moral and financial bankruptcy," Carlstrom said.

"The challenge to Republican leadership has never been greater than today. A world torn with strife and centralization of autocratic power seethes around free America, and threatens by subversive effort insiduously to weaken the faith and confidence of our people in our institutions."

HEART ATTACK IS FATAL.

Charles Gelonek, 89 years old, a retired foreman of the International Harvester company, who came here from Germany 70 years ago, died yesterday of a heart attack in his home at 3768 South Kedvale avenue.

More Results in Tribune Poll of Illinois Primary Voters

Below are additional Chicago and downstate tabulations in the Republican and Democratic columns of the straw vote being taken by THE TRIBUNE on the principal candidates in the Illinois primaries of April 9. Besides the presidential preference tests the candidates being canvassed are those for governor, United States senator, and [in Cook county] state's attorney.

STRANGER PICKET BAN REAFFIRMED IN SWING CASE

The Illinois Supreme court reaffirmed its stand yesterday declaring stranger picketing—picketing by nonemployés—illegal when used to promote a union membership campaign. The court refused to reconsider its decision of last June 19 in the Ross W. Swing injunction case.

Swing in 1937 owned a beauty shop at 5558 North avenue. Organizers for the Hairdressers' and Cosmetologists' union, an American Federation of Labor affiliate, demanded that Swing's 16 employés join the union. They refused, and picketing of the shop began.

Swing obtained an injunction July 9, 1937, prohibiting further stranger picketing. His attorneys, Samuel A. Rinella and Myer N. Rosengard, successfully opposed appeals by the federation to the Appellate court and the Illinois Supreme court. Last Feb. 5 the United States Supreme court refused to review the case.

FORCES AUTOIST TO ACT AS SHIELD IN 2D ROBBERY

A bandit used a motorist as a shield yesterday in the robbery of a real estate office near the Burnside police station and then escaped in his car.

The motorist is Ira J. Wickens, 47 years old, 6445 South Richmond street. The bandit entered Wickens' car at 117th street and Yale avenue, robbed him of $6, and forced him to drive to the John Dawney real estate office at 9002 Cottage Grove avenue, a block south of the police station.

Wickens was forced to precede the robber into the real estate office. There Wickens, John Dawney Jr., and Dawney's mother were forced into a rear room. The bandit took $257 from a cash drawer and drove away in Wickens' car.

290,639 COUNTED IN TWO DAYS OF CHICAGO CENSUS

On the first two days of the national population census, 2,500 enumerators in the Chicago area interviewed 290,639 persons, George W. Schreech, Chicago area manager, informed the Washington census bureau yesterday. Schreech said he expected to complete the Chicago census in two weeks, but that enumerators in the rural areas of Cook and Lake counties and Lake county, Ind., might take somewhat longer.

THE NEW DEAL HITS THE TOBOGGAN.

The results of the Wisconsin primary indicate that the swing away from the New Deal which became manifest in the 1938 elections is gaining momentum at a pace which promises a Republican victory in the fall.

In the Democratic primary four years ago Mr. Roosevelt, unopposed, got 401,000 votes. On the basis of nearly complete returns the prospect is that he obtained this year no more than 310,000. His vote is down by more than 20 per cent. Mr. Garner appears to have polled something like 100,000 votes, almost all of which can safely be written down as anti-New Deal.

The decline of Mr. Roosevelt's strength is more than balanced by an astonishing increase in the Republican total. In 1936 the total Republican primary vote was only 190,000. The returns indicate that the combined Dewey and Vandenberg totals will approximate 350,000, an increase of the order of 80 or 85 per cent over 1936.

The comparison between the New Deal vote and the Republican vote is the more striking when it is remembered that the Republicans were voting for slates of convention delegates, while the New Dealers were voting for their man in his own name. Experience in Wisconsin indicates that the vote for a standard bearer always runs well ahead of the vote for delegates. Accordingly for purposes of strict comparison a materially higher total would have to be assigned to the Republicans than the returns provide, and to that total must be added the bulk of the vote cast for Mr. Garner.

Perhaps the most significant trend shown in the primary is to be found in the defeat of Milwaukee's Socialist mayor, Daniel Hoan, who has held the office for 24 years. In Mr. Hoan's last administration he was much the same man he had always been. There were no innovations of policy which might have alienated large numbers of his supporters. No major scandals were revealed. Nevertheless, he was defeated for the first time in 24 years. His opponent appears to be an energetic, attractive, and capable young man and an able campaigner, but Mr. Hoan has faced such men before and has consistently bowled them over. This time he didn't and the only reason which political observers can assign for the change is a distaste on the part of the people of Milwaukee for government by left wingers.

The significance of that shift can hardly be exaggerated. The New Dealers have shown their strength in the metropolitan cities. For example, in 1938 downstate Illinois went Republican, but the metropolitan area kept the state in the Democratic column. Now we have the first test of sentiment in a metropolitan city in 1940 and it shows a pronounced swing toward traditional American notions of government. Mr. Hoan went down not because of dissatisfaction with his management of the city's affairs, but because he was associated in people's minds with the radical régime in Washington.

Much the same influence was at work in Cicero, an industrial suburb of Chicago, where for the first time in a dozen years a Republican candidate won a local office. Five Democrats were successful in the same election, but in this strongly Democratic community none of them was able to pile up a majority of more than 900 in a total vote of 35,000. The Democrats went into the election intrenched in office and with all the power of patronage on their side, and at that they barely squeaked by.

Tuesday's voting shows us a left wing state, Wisconsin, turning thumbs down on the New Deal. It shows Mr. Roosevelt's popularity down by 20 per cent and an 80 per cent improvement in Republican strength, and this without taking Mr. Garner's vote into the account. It shows a metropolitan city rejecting its Socialist mayor for the first time in 24 years. It shows an industrial suburb of Chicago evenly balanced between the two parties. It shows, in short, that the New Deal is slipping fast and that the Republican tide is rising more rapidly than even the most hopeful had allowed themselves to believe.

These results are not accidental. The country is sick of the protracted depression, distrusts Mr. Roosevelt's leadership in both domestic and foreign affairs, and, above all, is alarmed at the corruption which the New Deal has practiced at the expense of the taxpayers and decent government. Revelations of shakedown and bribery have come thick and fast in recent months. The voters are determined to put an end to the disgrace and are no longer fooled by the New Deal's pretenses of superior righteousness.

DEFENSE BY SMEARING.

Senator Lucas of Illinois took the platform the other day to call Thomas E. Dewey a "peddler of political poison" and "the No. 1 rabble rouser of the nation." In his recent speeches Mr. Dewey has accused the New Deal of lack of integrity, dishonesty, abuse of power, coercion, extortion, and larceny. Mr. Lucas thought that Mr. Dewey had been guilty of a "most brazen piece of effrontery."

Mr. Lucas appears to have been more interested in smearing Mr. Dewey than in replying to him. Mr. Lucas neglected to mention that Mr. Dewey not only had made charges but had marshaled the evidence to prove the case. In particular, Mr. Lucas neglected to stress the source of Mr. Dewey's information. Most of the proof came from the Sheppard committee, of whose five members four were chosen from among Mr. Lucas' Democratic colleagues in the senate. They had no more doubt than has Mr. Dewey that the New Deal has been guilty of corruption, extortion, coercion, and the other offenses which were charged.

Mr. Lucas himself is the beneficiary of the New Deal's corruption of the electorate in his behalf. Mr. Dewey mentioned the diversion of more than $23,000 from federal aid highway funds for the employment of 450 political workers three weeks before the 1938 primary. Within a few days after the primary practically all of them had been discharged.

Mr. Dewey refreshed the public's recollection of a deliberate scheme to buy an election. The great humanitarian in the White House was proving himself the great corruptionist. The clinching proof of it came, as Mr. Dewey said, when Harry Hopkins, the boss of WPA, instead of being dismissed in disgrace when the facts were brought to light and confessed, was promoted to the cabinet in recognition of his ruthless jobbery.

To Mr. Lucas the truth is political poison, and any man who dares to tell it is a rabble rouser, and guilty of effrontery in the bargain. It seems pretty clear that the trouble with Mr. Lucas is that he cannot answer the charges brought and proved by his Republican opponents. He has fallen back on the old reliable smearing.

MR. CHURCHILL TAKES OVER.

The impression left by the British cabinet shakeup was that Mr. Chamberlain had turned the war over to Mr. Churchill. Altho a committee form is retained as a sort of war junta, there is more than a hint of recognition of the saying that councils never fight.

Sir Kingsley Wood takes over the home policy committee, Sir John Simon is head of the economic policy committee, and Churchill is supreme over the three fighting services, in a position which Mr. Chamberlain said would enable him "to keep under constant review the main factors in the strategical situation." It would seem that from now on, or until another change is made, Mr. Churchill has the war in his lap. His character would predict that he will be the supreme war lord, assert his authority, and take the responsibility.

Chamberlain is 71 and that is not a fighting age. Churchill is only six years younger but his temperament at 65 is still aggressive and dominating. The Nazis undoubtedly regard the shifts of government in both France and Great Britain as indicative of the weaknesses they pretend to find in governments which in war times may imitate autocracy but without the aid of a docility ingrained by terrorist discipline over the people. Neither France nor Great Britain found its driving force early in the other war. In fact, only the imminence of defeat put Clemenceau in power and the British did a great deal of fumbling before Lloyd George took charge.

Reports from London, Paris, and Berlin would lead to the opinion that the seven months of inaction on the western front have created more impatience in France and Great Britain than they have in Germany. There would be good reasons for this. For the present Germany has the spoils for which it undertook to upset Europe. Its bag is full and altho giddy heights of great empire might be reached by the total defeat of the British and the French, substantial gains are in its camp now if it could consolidate them in a peace.

Very likely Hitler can sit out this long war dance with less impatience than his enemies. He is not expending war material and in that respect the blockade has less chance to touch his source of supplies. His reserves are not being depleted in the daily consumption of continued battle. The German people are no strangers to restrictions on their food supply or to compulsion in their daily lives. Since the end of the Polish campaign they have been spared the casualties of war and every report indicates that they fervently hope to escape them.

Insofar as they have been convinced by their propagandists of the invincibility of their army—a belief that is instinctive in the Germans in spite of some experiences—they can live thru the period of suspended war without undue apprehensions. Reluctance of all the combatants to strike from the air at industrial plants, concentrations, and communications has so far robbed the conflict of many of the popular fears caused by air raids or by anticipation of them.

On the other side of the fortified lines, it is apparent, even in discreet reports, that the long mobilization—which is about all the war has amounted to—with the consequent disruption of normal life without action is producing an effect. Altho heavy losses may affect the morale of an army, it is well known that such a stalemate as exists on the western front likewise may take off the fighting edge.

From time to time there are reports from one capital or another that the great blow is impending and, indeed, it may be, but spring is advancing, the fateful period is at hand, and still the stalemate exists. Does Mr. Churchill propose to break out of it? If so, where and how?

GOOD NEWS FOR DOG OWNERS.

[Detroit News.]

It is strange that while other domestic animals have long been marked in ways to establish their identity and ownership, it is only now that a way is offered to mark and register the one that is closest to the average heart—the dog. A new Michigan law directs the state department of agriculture to set up a registry of dogs that have been tattooed indelibly with numbers.

This should be the means of restoring lost pets to owners and also, it is hoped, it will thwart the dog thief. The new law establishes penalties for the harboring of a registered dog or an attempt to eradicate its number. In this country dog stealing is probably not the business it is in some parts of the world [it was the Good Soldier Schweik in Prague who needed only a description to supply a customer with any animal desired], but undoubtedly a great deal of it goes on, and many owners and particularly their children are made miserable by the disappearance of pets that fall into the hands of thieves.

The tattooing, which is painful only for the instant, is done on the inside of one ear and on the flank, and is permanent. The owner obtains papers from the state; these are filled out by the veterinarian marking the dog, and duly registered. The bother is little enough for the insurance it provides the dog and the sensibilities of humans who have grown fond of it.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

WORDS FROM A JUKE BOX.

Webster's biggest and latest dictionary is instructive and amusing on the origin of this word, in the small type at the bottom of the page. Take a look:

Juke—See jouk, juck.

Jouk—To sleep on a perch, to roost, to perch, slumber. [Obsolete or dialect.]

Jouk—To dodge or duck, also to dart, hide, skulk; 2, to bow, as in courtesy; also to cringe, fawn.

Juck, juke—To make a certain sound or call, as of the partridge.

Commenting upon these various definitions, as related to the modern "juke box," Contributor Phil Kallikak writes:

"'To bend the neck'—you have to do that to find the phonograph record number you want. 'To bow or duck the head'—after buying 19 nickels' worth of the 'Beer Barrel Polka,' you'd better duck. 'To perch, as a bird'—the way the college boys in Madison, Wis., perch around a juke box for hours makes this meaning fit also."

The "juke box" phrase came into current American slang from the south, and this fact illustrates an interesting linguistic phenomenon: The preservation of many obsolete words of English and Scottish dialect among hillbillies and other rustics in remote regions of the southern states.

BARD OF PARADISE.

(John Milton, 1608-'74.)

Where but upon the bosom of the deep
  Where the long watery swells in ponderous
And liquid motion their slow rhythm keep
  In cadence with the wheeling universe,
Shall there be found the feeling of his lines?
  There like an argosy of timbered strength,
Bearing the freightage of scholastic mines,
  He rides the storms thru all their bitter length,
And brings to port a cargo and a log
  Weighty as gold and lustrous as the sea
When from a tropic eminence the fog
  Is lifted at the dawn and day set free.
A voyager of golden voice and strong

A Dreadful Blow at the Drama.

Blackfriars time at the University of Chicago is close at hand; and Tower Topics, published out there, recalls the spring of 1914, when "The Student Superior" was in rehearsal. Athletic Director Stagg posted a notice that Blackfriars performers could not compete for the track team, and when asked to explain gave these reasons:

"It is manifestly plain that it is not good for the discipline of an athletic team to allow a division of interest. I have a theory that living in an atmosphere distinctly effeminate does not put iron in the blood."

AID FOR THE HEART THRU DIET.

In the period when a failing heart is building back to normal, many a victim will unwittingly place an added strain upon the body's pump thru taking too much food. If we assume that the structure should be spared all unnecessary exertion—only that amount of nourishment should be allowed which will barely sustain average weight. If the individual is carrying around excess poundage, the diet should be regulated so as to eliminate the surplus. In fact, many physicians advocate a slight reduction in avoirdupois—not sufficient to interfere with the state of nutrition of the vital organs—but enough to lighten substantially the labor of the contracting heart muscle.

Again, if overloading of the digestive tract with meats has been the custom, cutting down on the quantity to approximately four ounces per day will often bring relief. We must not forget, however, that if the cardiac fibers have been impaired, the patient must ingest at least the minimum protein requirement. Work—the pulsations of the organ—uses up energy and destroys this type of food; and the system must be in position to replace it—otherwise we would experience increasing loss of strength.

The most available form of energy is sugar. In fact, all carbohydrates are transformed by the digestive apparatus into glucose. Sweets, then, supply the kind of nutriment most easily assimilated and oxidized. As we would expect, many a case of weakened heart muscle has been relieved—helped over the hill—by an injection of glucose.

Strangely enough, butter and cream do not agree with these patients. There is an old saying—and a true one—that the body burns these substances in the flame created by starches and sugars. A high fat intake, therefore, is never advised and the chances are that all of us could lessen the onset of arteriosclerosis [hardening of the arteries] if we would but reduce our ration of this material substantially.

But we must regard as essential—minerals, vitamins, and salts. This means that we must not forget the value of milk and of green vegetables. We must be cautious, however, relative to the intake of common salt and use only a modicum so as to render the food palatable. The substitution of potassium chloride is sometimes advised, particularly if swelling of the extremities is observed. Condiments and gas forming edibles—such as beans, cabbage, cucumbers, peppers, radishes, and sausages—should be omitted.

There is no ailment in which it is more important to employ small, frequent meals—quite in contrast to the standard three of regular size. Bulk in and of itself may exert pressure upon certain nerves and affect the rhythm of the beat.

Here is a standard menu that can be utilized as soon as function is reëstablished:

7:30 a. m.—A serving of cooked oatmeal, one soft boiled egg, a slice of toast, a glass of milk, and a pat of butter.

Noon—A baked potato, a cup of boiled rice, one poached egg, a glass of milk, stewed celery, and a pat of butter.

4:30 p. m.—Baked or mashed potatoes or potato soup, one egg, and a pat of butter.

9 p. m.—A baked apple and a glass of milk.

The above program may be varied to suit the taste, altho it is rarely wise to take more calories than are suggested [about 1,000].

If there is much edema [collection of fluid beneath the skin] the Karell diet—or some modification—may be resorted to for two or three days. The vital thing is to restrict liquids. Common salt is reduced sharply and the calories likewise. A suitable daily schedule consists of not more than one ounce of protein, two of carbohydrates, one of fat, one-half teaspoonful of common salt, and a quart of water. If thirst is excessive, cracked ice may be allowed. The object, of course, is to oblige the tissues to empty their own reservoirs.

GALLSTONES.

L. B. writes: What are the causes and symptoms of gallstones?

REPLY.

Gallstones form, as a rule, following an infection. Mineral elements in the bile precipitate. If drainage is not free the concretions may increase in size as time goes on. When the stones are small they will pass into the intestine without discomfort. If they become larger than the caliber of the outlet duct the typical gallstone attack will be experienced periodically—pain, nausea, and vomiting. The skin will become jaundiced if the main duct from the liver becomes plugged. While diet is helpful [fats will stimulate the gall bladder to contract] there is no method under which these "rocks" can be dissolved. If they are causing trouble, surgical removal is advised.

TOMATOES.

Miss R. B. writes: I used to eat a lot of tomatoes and my chin would get full of red blotches. I stopped using them and the trouble disappeared. But every once in a while I am bothered again. Can you tell me the cause?

REPLY.

You are no doubt sensitive to tomatoes and to certain other foods. A careful scrutiny of your diet should disclose the culprits. Keeping a food diary may be helpful.

PAIN AFTER EATING.

H. S. writes: What is the cause of pain in the stomach about four hours after meals?

REPLY.

One should suspect the presence of a peptic ulcer—probably in the duodenum. On the other hand, there are numerous causes including gastritis, too much acid in the gastric juice, swallowed air, and "hunger pains."

TODAY IN HISTORY

April 5, 1823.

Algernon Charles Swinburne, poet and critic, born in London of well-to-do parents. As a young man he was noted for his vigorous but dissipated life, but his last 30 years were spent in complete retirement in the home of a friend. It was believed that he would have been made poet laureate of England except for the unconventional nature of his "Poems and Ballads," published in 1866. He died in 1909.

JOBS AND MACHINES.

North Chicago, Ill., April 1.—Your correspondent, Leo S. Kositchek, makes a very broad statement in his claim that there is no better knowledge than his on the question of whether or not machines destroy jobs. If he will write to the department of commerce, bureau of the census, he will find that progressively since 1870 to 1930, with the exception of the year 1910, this country has shown an increase in the percentage of the population that was employed. These figures are as follows:

Census Year.	Number employed.	% of total population.
1890	23,318,183	37.2
1910	38,167,336	41.5
1930	48,829,920	39.8

In other words, during the general development of the machine age and including the year 1930, which certainly was a depression year, 36 million more individuals and 7½% more of our population were employed in 1930 than in 1870.

CASPER APELAND.

CHALLENGE.

Chicago, March 28.—That ain't the way we played it, Shirley! No sir! When my tough and ragged crew played duck-on-the-rock in the alleys of the dear old south side we didn't fool around with any cans. No sir! We used rocks. We used bricks. And in season we used furnace clinkers. And we didn't lag them rocks, bricks and clinkers. No sir! We didn't toss them. No sir! We threw 'em; hard! We didn't play it the sissy way. No cans. Naw!

And we didn't have no dames or tomboys in our game. No sir! And when our neighborhood tomboy, Maizie, tried to horn in on us, Skinny belted her a good one over the head with a sunflower stalk. Yes sir! She never came around after that. Naw! Neither did she grow up to become a demure housewife. No sir! She married Skinny. And she's still the old muscle kid. You bet! Dames or boys, they didn't produce no sissies on the south side. Naw!

Do you know what Maizie done the other night? She's mature all right now but she ain't dignified. No sir! Well, the other night she bounced her compact off the dome of a guy who was stickin' his sixth nickel in the old juke box for the sixth successive playin' of "Careless." Boy, can our Maizie propel them missiles. Yeah, man!

And I says to the boys, "I bet our Maizie can peg a missile bett'n that Austin cream puff." And they all say, "Yeah, you bet!" So what's about it, you demure Austin housewife? Are you game? Are you willin'? Yes? Okay; it's a battle. Yes sir! South Side Maizie vs. Austin Housewife. Stones, rocks, cans, bricks, compacts, or clinkers at 20 paces. Dealer's choice. You bet! Any time, any day, any alley. You name it, Austin Housewife. Yeah!

THE OLD SKIPPER.

LEBENSRAUM IN RUSSIA.

Chicago, March 31.—Equal distribution of wealth, equality for the people, equality for the working classes, equal distribution of living space, liberation of oppressed peoples, the peoples' friend, etc., etc. These are the slogans sounded out by the communists and Nazis. If they are really sincere in these theories, then the overcrowded western European countries should get together and take a part of Russia. The Russian communists should welcome these overcrowded western countries in finding living space and equality in honest distribution of wealth for their pinched living spaces by willingly and enthusiastically giving up a large portion of their vast land area that is so sparsely populated.

German	79,600,000	354
Denmark	3,777,000	228
Lithuania	2,349,423	115
U. S. S. R.	170,467,186	21

If the soviets won't give up an appropriate portion of their vast territory to the people of the overcrowded countries, then the world knows that there is no sincerity in their slogans: "Equal distribution of wealth" and "Equality for the people." Likewise if Germany does not use military force against the soviet union in case Russia refuses to cede any land, then she is equally insincere in her philosophical theories of living. Russia should be developed by the more intelligent and progressive peoples of western Europe. It would be no more wrong in forcefully taking Russia from those backward Muscovites than it was for western Europe to take this country from the Indians. The slogan used to be: "Go west, young man." In western Europe it should be: "Go east, young man."

R. S.

HE OWNS TWO LOTS.

Marquette, Mich., March 31.—I have read innumerable editorials in THE TRIBUNE against the high taxes assessed in Cook county. Now listen to this:

Some 45 years ago I bought some lots in Franklin Park [Lots 21 and 22, block 12, to be more specific]. I paid and paid and paid on those lots, both general taxes and special assessments. Just a short time before 1929 all sorts of improvements were started—streets, sewers, water mains, etc. Why, my assessment for the street alone was $550, plus the interest I have paid, amounting to about $750 or $800 to date. And that's not including numerous other assessments. I believe that I have paid somewhere between $2,500 and $3,000 on those lots.

A few months ago a Chicago builder who was doing some contract work in Franklin Park told me my lots were worth $250 apiece, $500 all told. That figure, you will see, is not much more than one-half the street assessment alone. When you wrote such powerful editorials about taxes, assessments, etc., you didn't half tell the whole story.

ARTHUR J. RICHARDSON.

SPOON LORE.

Chicago, March 28.—One of your correspondents wrote in the other day to say that Dr. Crane, who conducts the "Horse Sense" feature of your paper, erred when he said a tablespoon held four teaspoons. Dr. Crane is right. Many people confuse a soup or dessert spoon with a tablespoon.

DEED TO PROPERTY.

Chicago, March 29 [Legal Friend of the People].—My brother died and left two vacant lots.

1. The lawyer transferred the deed, charging me $90.

2. He kept the original deed—I still owe him a small amount.

3. Which deed is legal, the one I hold or the original? I have heard nothing from him, as I have been out of work and thought perhaps he has the legal deed.

4. Why should a person record a contract on a house bought? The Title and Trust gave the real estate agent a letter of opinion on property as O. K.

5. Who keeps this letter of opinion, the real estate agent or the buyer of the house?

6. The house is being bought on "rent basis." C. A.

1. You do not make clear whether you mean that he probated the estate or handled the matter in some other way.

2. After a deed has been recorded its subsequent possession is unimportant.

3. It is not clear that either one of them is of any importance now. The important point is whether the public records show the title in your name. You can make a rough examination by looking up the tract indices in the recorder's office.

4. In some cases it might be important to guard against the possibility that the contract seller might resell to a second purchaser, who would have no notice.

5. If the facts are such that the attorney has not been paid and is entitled to a lien for his fees he could hold the papers under such lien.

6. Your rights depend largely on the wording of your contract.

MEXICAN DIVORCE.

Chicago, March 15 [Legal Friend of the People].—Will you kindly answer the following questions in your column in THE TRIBUNE:

1. Are Mexican divorces recognized in the United States?

2. How long is the necessary residence in Mexico to obtain a divorce?

3. What is the approximate cost for a divorce in Mexico? J. L. K.

1. Most of them are not based on adequate jurisdiction of the subject matter and hence are subject to attack.

2. It is more a question of good faith than length of time.

3. Depends largely on the attorney with whom you deal.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Test Your Facts

Below each of the following questions are listed three answers. Make your choice, turn to page 43 in the Want Ad section for the correct answers, and mark your score:

1. What is a peccadillo?

2. Congressman Martin Dies comes from what state?
[a] Texas, [b] Oklahoma, [c] New Jersey.

3. St. Simeon Stylites is remembered for having lived:

4. Who wrote the play, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois"?

Action to Recover Papers in Federal Court.

Washington, D. C., April 4 (AP).—The Dies committee placed seized communist documents in its official record today a few hours after Federal Judge George A. Welsh had requested at Philadelphia that no use be made of them until he could pass on a petition to recover the papers.

Philip Frankfeld is cited for contempt by Dies group.

Judge Welsh granted communist party attorneys a hearing tomorrow on their petition to recover the documents and to obtain warrants charging committee investigators with conspiracy to violate civil liberties.

Records Are Identified.

Subsequently Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] had an investigator identify the data and placed it in the committee's record. George F. Hurley, the investigator, said the documents included membership lists, and Dies observed that they showed communist members were active in a large number of organizations, among them the League for Women Shoppers.

The committee met defiance today from another communist party leader, Philip Frankfeld of Boston, and voted to cite him for comtempt.

The Boston communist, executive secretary of the communist party in New England, refused to answer a single committee question unless he was given permission to read a resolution which he said 10,000 citizens of Massachusetts had adopted in the Boston arena last Sunday.

Resolution is Barred.

Chairman Dies refused permission to read the resolution. Dies banged for order and then announced the contempt citation.

"The American people will issue a writ of habeas corpus against you," Frankfeld shouted as Dies ordered him from the witness stand.

The pudgy communist turned to the press table nearby and hastily distributed copies of the resolution he had tried to read. Frankfeld walked from the room with a capitol policeman. Smiling broadly outside, he told reporters he had been thrown out. Dies denied that he had ordered Frankfeld ejected.

City Gets Strike Ultimatum from 33 of Its Chauffeurs

Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works, was warned yesterday that unless the city allows time and one-half overtime to 33 chauffeurs employed by the department of electricity, the men will strike. Hewitt was told by George Mitchell, president of the Public Service Teamsters and Chauffeurs, local 733, that the city had 24 hours in which to answer the demand. The matter was referred to the city council finance committee last week by Hewitt and is now before a subcommittee.

MRS. MINNIE REINAGLE DIES.

Tampico, Ill., April 4 [Special].—Mrs. Minnie Reinagle, 82 years old, resident of Tampico for 20 years, died today. She was born at Ottawa, Ill., March 25, 1858. A son, Lloyd, of Tampico, survives.

Woman Gives Wrong Reply on Census; Takes Poison

Bridgeport, Conn., April 4 (AP).—Two policemen quoted Mrs. Mamie Brousseau, patient at a hospital here, as saying that she swallowed poison because she had given a census taker a wrong answer. She told him her son worked seven days a week when in reality he worked only six. Attendants said her condition was fair.

MRS. ROOSEVELT FINDS ANOTHER RADIO SPONSOR

Gets 13 Week Job for Soap Company.

Washington, D. C., April 4.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt will return to the air at the end of the month in a 13 week series of semi-weekly broadcasts for a soap company.

The Franklin Bruck advertising corporation announced today that Mrs. Roosevelt had been signed for two 15 minute programs weekly beginning April 30 and that her sponsor will be a soap company.

The agency would not reveal how much Mrs. Roosevelt will receive or whether the money will be paid directly to her or go to a charity. Secrecy surrounded these details, it was reported, because of the unpleasant publicity the wife of the President received over an earlier series of broadcasts.

In 1934 Mrs. Roosevelt reported her broadcasts receipts were $36,000, paid directly to the American Friends Service committee in Philadelphia. She paid $6,000 to a radio agent and turned over $4,000 to Miss Nancy Cook, a close friend.

In 1935 Mrs. Roosevelt's radio booking agent was quoted as having said she had made $119,000 for charity and turned down a million dollars more because suggested programs did not meet her specifications.

Her radio earnings were thrust into the national spotlight in 1937 when Representative Hamilton Fish [D., N. Y.], her home district congressman accused her of using a loophole to avoid payment of proper income taxes on her earnings.

The President's wife countered by producing a special ruling made by Attorney General Robert H. Jackson in 1934 when he was head of the legal staff of the bureau of internal revenue. Mrs. Roosevelt had deducted in full her charitable requests altho the income tax law is specific that only 15 per cent of one's income may be deducted for donations to charity.

Decides to Pay Taxes.

The ruling, creating an exception in her case, was based by Jackson on the ground that the money for the radio broadcasts was paid directly to the charity without passing thru her hands. Internal revenue regulations, applicable to ordinary citizens, definitely stipulate that assignment of income to a third person constitutes taxable income.

As a result of this controversy Mrs. Roosevelt disclosed on Dec. 12, 1938, that in the future she intends to pay income taxes on her future radio earnings.

The radio ruling was not the only loophole found by the New Deal to ease Mrs. Roosevelt's tax burden. Treasury officials last fall said Mrs. Roosevelt can pay part of her traveling expenses from the income.

Income Exceeds President's.

Mrs. Roosvelt's salary, according to informed estimates, has consistently ranged above the $75,000 figure her husband receives as President of the United States. In some years, it is said to have passed the $100,000 mark.

The money has come to her as an author, lecturer, column conductor and radio commentator.

UNION HEAD ADMITS ARMED GUARDS USED IN PERIOD OF STRIFE

Minneapolis, Minn., April 4. [Special].—Evidence that an armed defense guard was maintained by General Drivers union, No. 544, which has been involved in most of the Twin Cities' bloody labor strife, was given today by Carl Skoglund, alien president of the union.

Skoglund also admitted that he formerly was a communist and that union funds had been used in the successful defense of the accused slayer of William Brown, former president of the union. The information was brought out under cross examination in the trial in which removal of the union's officers is being sought by four members.

In questioning Skoglund, Attorney Arthur H. Anderson, counsel for the plaintiffs, alleged the union maintained a standing army of 300 men, who are given military drill.

Olympic Games SPEED KING?

It's HARD to tell... but EASY to pick a winning oil

IN ole swimmin' holes where water has filled abandoned quarries . . . and in luxurious tile pools . . . youngsters are screaming, "Hey, Dad: Watch me!"

Which one of them is destined to be the future speed king whose name will go down in the record books? Of course you can't tell; that is obvious.

But when you want to choose a winning oil for your motor, the answer is easy. You have signs as bright as a beacon to guide you . . . signs you will see all around you: Orange and Black Phillips 66 Shields.

Phillips has made a great name in the petroleum industry. Phillips has built a great reputation with car owners. And Phillips tells you frankly: If you want our best oil, remember we specify that Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality . . . the highest grade and greatest value . . . among all the oils we offer.

So pick a winning oil by pointing to the can marked with the Phillips 66 Shield. Remember this suggestion, when you are making the seasonal change to rid your car of winter-worn lubricant. Drain and refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

DEBATERS LEARN INCOMPATIBILITY ISN'T COMPATIBLE

At Least, Not with Divorce Laws of Illinois.

"What is incompatibility?" emerged as an unanswered question last night at a debate held by the Women's Bar Association of Illinois in the offices of the Chicago Bar association. Four young women who debated whether incompatibility should be made a ground for divorce in Illinois thought they knew the answer.

But their listeners, mostly women, were not so sure. Neither was Judge John J. Lupe of the Criminal court, Superior Judge John C. Lewe, nor Circuit Judge Phillip J. Finnegan, who had to hand down a decision.

Debaters Incompatible, Too.

"Incompatibilty is the state of being unable to live in harmony," Miss Antonia Rago, speaking for the affirmative, quoted from a dictionary. "Incompatibility eludes definition," retorted one of her opponents, Miss Olga Jurco, who quoted from the same dictionary. "It's unwillingness to make adjustments," offered Miss Coula Psaras, who sided with Miss Jurco.

Mrs. Gertrude S. Gardner, arguing affirmatively, changed the subject. "The divorce rate in Sweden, where mutual consent is a ground for divorce, is lower than in New York state, where the only ground is adultery," she said.

Miss Psaras had a reply to that: "Since the mutual consent law became effective in Sweden, the divorce rate there has risen meteorically."

Leave Question Beclouded.

But that question, too, was left somewhat beclouded when Mrs. Gardner declared that changing the legal grounds for divorce has never altered the divorce rate.

Both affirmative debaters argued that the nine legal grounds for divorce in Illinois are merely the evidences of incompatibility and that Illinois laws encourage perjury and collusion in the courts. The negative side based its arguments principally on the theory that easy divorces tend to weaken family ties.

"Make incompatibility a ground for divorce, and divorce will take the place of running home to mother," asserted Miss Psaras.

Debater's Face Is Red!

"Our laws are old fashioned," said Mrs. Gardner. "We recognize only the less important breaches of the marital contract, such as adultery." She blushed and added quickly, "Of course I'm not sanctioning adultery, but it's only one topic for conversation. General incompatibility is more serious."

Finally Mrs. Jean Smith Evans, president of the Women's Bar association, handed the question to the judges. After a huddle Judge Finnegan said:

"It's an embarassing situation, the vote was unanimous in favor of the negative side—but it was close."

Wren which yesterday flew in thru window in office of Joseph L. Schultz, 549 West Washington street.

Joseph L. Schultz had an early visitor yesterday and not the conventional kind that comes in thru the door. When he opened his electric appliance workshop on the third floor at 54 Randolph street he heard a tapping on the window. He opened it to a pert, bright eyed little brown wren, who stepped in sedately, looked all about and chirruped in friendly fashion to badly battered wooden Pinocchio on the workbench.

It was Schultz' theory that the spring winds had blown the small bird off her course. After partaking daintily of a breakfast of water and crumbs, she chirped a polite "thank you," hopped to Schultz' finger, and flew away.

W. K. VANDERBILT DAUGHTER GIVEN DIVORCE IN RENO

Reno, Nev., April 4 [Special].—Mrs. Consuelo Vanderbilt Smith Davis obtained a divorce here today from Henry Gassaway Davis on the grounds of mental cruelty.

They were married at Miami, Fla., Nov. 26, 1936. She is the daughter of W. K. Vanderbilt, and the decree provides that she take the name of Fair. She was the former wife of Earl E. T. Smith.

Mrs. Davis is a great-great-granddaughter of Commodore Vanderbilt, the first of the Vanderbilt line in this country. She was married to Davis in 1936. He had been married in 1927 to Miss Grace Vanderbilt, daughter of Brig. Gen. Cornelius Vanderbilt. That marriage ended in a divorce on Aug. 27, 1936, at Laramie, Wyo. Grace Vanderbilt and Consuelo Vanderbilt are cousins.

COUNCIL TO HEAR PLANS TODAY FOR GARBAGE TRUCKS

Ask Manufacturers for Complete Data.

Manufacturers of refuse hauling equipment have been asked to appear today before a council subcommittee which is considering a recommendation that the city purchase 100 new refuse trucks.

Ald. Roger J. Kiley [37th], chairman of the subcommittee, said that while the recommendation was made by Oscar Hewitt, commissioner of public works, and is based on a careful study, the committee wants to consider fairly all other suggestions.

Hewitt recommended that trucks be designed similar to the New York enclosed type truck recently tested here. Mayor Kelly has said that one advantage of such a truck is that it is made by no single company and that the city can ask for bids on trucks built to its own specifications. Under such a system the bidding would be open to all truck manufacturers, he said.

Costs About Equal.

While trailer manufacturers have contended the trucks would cost more than trailers and tractors, Hewitt maintains the cost would be no greater because fewer trucks would be required.

Tests by the street department show the cost of handling refuse in the new type truck is 63.44 cents per cubic yard; 85.36 cents in hired trucks; $1.036 in the city's old type trailers and 79 cents in new type trailers.

Hewitt informed the Kiley subcommittee that 100 new trucks would replace the present 150 hired trucks. City trailers would be used to augment the new fleet.

Argument of Trailer Makers.

Trailer manufacturers argue that because of long hauls the loading crews would be idle while the new trucks went to the dumps; that the trucks, 21 cubic yard capacity, could operate in only 60 per cent of Chicago's alleys and that complicated mechanism in the trucks would break down.

Hewitt says the large trucks can operate in 83.5 per cent of the alleys.

Hewitt said yesterday the New York sanitation department has been satisfied with the mechanism in the trucks and is now buying more of the same equipment. The street bureau recommends that to combat Chicago cold winters hydraulic piping on the truck be increased.

TRIBUNE RACE TO GIVE FIRST PARIS STYLES OF 1940 IN COLORS TOLD

The dramatic way in which THE TRIBUNE has become the first to reproduce in color the 1940 women's styles from Paris was told last night in a 15 minute broadcast "Fashions on Parade" over station W-G-N. The guest speaker was Mrs. Carter H. Harrison, wife of the collector of internal revenue. Mr. Harrison is a former mayor of Chicago.

Mrs. Harrison, credited with setting the styles for Chicago in the early 1900s, said that in those times the Parisian fashions were not known here until they had been sketched abroad and transmitted to dressmakers in New York and Chicago.

But this year TRIBUNE representatives were on hand when the fashions were released in Paris. The gowns and hats were rushed across the ocean by Clipper plane. In New York, models donned the new apparel and TRIBUNE color experts photographed them.

The pictures were sent to Chicago immediately by plane. They were taken to the rotogravure plant, layouts were designed, and you'll see the first set in this Sunday's TRIBUNE.

WOMAN SLUGGED, OFFICE IS SHOT UP IN $3,200 ROBBERY

Three quick shooting bandits took $3,200 yesterday in the offices of the Real Estate investment company, 7505 Cottage Grove avenue. Miss Theresa Peters, cashier, was slugged several times by one of the bandits as she tried to resist the holdup.

The bandits entered shortly after $3,000 had been delivered for use in the currency exchange operated by the company. One gunman seized the bag containing this money and then scooped up approximately $200 from the cash drawer.

As the bandits fled they fired several shots into the office ceiling.

"I sleep much better..my household duties don't tire me so much..since I've been getting the Vitality Boost!"

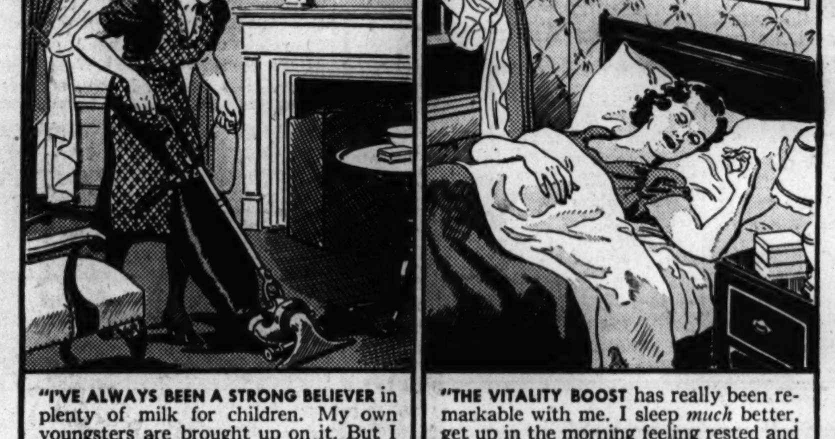
1203 Harvard Terrace, Evanston



"I'VE ALWAYS BEEN A STRONG BELIEVER in plenty of milk for children. My own youngsters are brought up on it. But I had no idea milk could be of so much benefit to adults until I tried the Vitality Boost! I'm convinced now!"

"THE VITALITY BOOST has really been remarkable with me. I sleep much better, get up in the morning feeling rested and ready for any daily duties. And I get through them a lot fresher, too . . . have more pep in the evening."

Try the Vitality Boost for 30 days! See if you don't feel like a million!

Mrs. Talbot is just one of the many, many women in Chicago and the suburbs who has enjoyed exceptionally good results with the Vitality Boost. The Vitality Boost is simple, pleasant, economical . . . just a glass of Bowman Milk, hot or cold, each night at bedtime. Yet, for people who find themselves not quite up to scratch, even though they're well, it's doing wonders. Try it yourself. The Vitality Boost is based on sound, scientific facts and should work for you, too. Here's why:

1) You take the milk when your stomach is empty. Preventing hunger pangs, it helps you get more restful sleep.

2) It reduces the tax on your energy store that even sleeping takes. (Your body's need of fuel each sleeping hour is actually 40% of the average for all your waking, working hours! That's because your heart keeps pumping, breathing continues, "relaxed" muscles are always under tension.)

3) It gives your body, in easily digestible form, a greater variety of nutritional essentials than any other food can provide!

Try the Vitality Boost for at least thirty days. Drink a full glass of fresh, pure milk at bedtime. You'll enjoy it particularly if the milk is Bowman's. More people in Chicago and vicinity drink Bowman Milk than any other kind. Produced with extra care, it has a specially delicious flavor.

BOWMAN Grade "A" MILK

Bowman is an independent dairy company. Chicagoans own it, Chicagoans operate it for the people of Chicago and vicinity.

M. E. SAMPSELL, INSULL UTILITIES ASSOCIATE, DIES

Headed Central Illinois Unit Before Crash.

M. E. Sampsell.

Marshall E. Sampsell, former president of the Central Illinois Public Service company when it was part of the late Samuel Insull's utility empire, died last night in his apartment in the Drake hotel after an eight months' illness. He was 66 years old.

Mr. Sampsell was born in Marshall, Tex., and was graduated from the University of Chicago in 1896. He received a degree from the Chicago College of Law in 1901. From 1902 to 1907 he was a clerk for the late Federal Judge Peter S. Grosscup.

Once Transit Lines Receiver.

During part of this time he was receiver for the North and West Chicago surface railways companies, the receiverships terminating with the enactment of the city traction ordinance in 1907. Later he became a director in various Insull concerns, as well as president of the Central Illinois Public Service company.

Sampsell was tried in the Criminal court in 1934 on a charge of embezzling stock from the public service company and was acquitted. The state accused him of taking 4,000 shares of stock from the company's treasury and using it as collateral for personal loans.

Loses Posts in Crash.

Sampsell married the former Edna Florence Smith of Chicago in 1900. Mrs. Sampsell died on June 28, 1932. Surviving are four sons, Marshall G., David S., Joseph C., and Bruce E. Sampsell.

WIFE TURNS COOL TO HUBBY'S LOVE, BUT NOT HIS CASH

New York, April 4 [Special].—Mrs. Sunny Joy Ingram Krakeur, who said she used to be an actress in Hollywood, testified in the Supreme court here today that her husband, Dick, pursued her affectionately after he had made an agreement to pay her $225 a month and stay away from her.

"The agreement was still good," Sunny Joy said. "I always rebuffed his attentions, even when we took week-end trips. And I ordered my hotel to keep him away from my room."

"A man is entitled to something for his money," remarked Justice John F. Carew. "If you had not rebuffed him he might have continued to pay the $225."

Just the same, the judge upheld the separation agreement, granted Sunny Joy's claim for $1,875, and refused Krakeur, a theatrical agent, an annulment.

ADMITS DRINKING WITH WOMAN WHO LEAPED TO DEATH

Los Angeles, April 4 (AP).—Capt. Edgar Edwards of the police homicide squad said today Lesley A. Williams, 33 years old, admitted that he and another man were with attractive Pearl Wessel, 40, a stenographer, when she plunged to her death from a Hollywood cliff Tuesday.

Williams previously had denied being with Miss Wessel. Today, Edward said, Williams told of drinking with Miss Wessel and another man when "suddenly she leaped from the car and ran to the cliff—I don't know why."

Williams is being held on suspicion of murder. A friend, Alberni Roggers, 30, also has been held but will be released, Edwards said.

GEORGE MARNEY, DEAN OF CAPITAL REPORTERS, DIES

Springfield, Ill., April 4 (AP).—George W. Marney, 61 years old, for many years political editor of the Illinois State Journal and dean of state capital news reporters, died suddenly tonight of a heart attack. Marney had been in ill health for more than a year, but continued active in his work. He was at his desk this afternoon but was stricken later at his home. He was a member of the staff of the Journal for about 38 years. His personal acquaintanceship with state officials and political leaders embraced a half dozen administrations. Marney never married. Surviving are two sisters.

JAILINGS OF WILD DRIVERS DOUBLE 2 MONTH TOTAL

Judge Frank M. Padden sent twice as many reckless motorists to jail, in March, when he took over the Safety court, than the preceding judge had done in the first two months of the year. This was announced yesterday by Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court.

In March 63 persons were jailed and 102 were fined. This compares respectively with 33 and 148 in February, and 22 and 56 in January. Judge Padden suspended the license of 52 of the 489 defendants, compared with 78 in February and 89 in January.

Yesterday Earl Cavness, 3739 South California avenue, was sentenced to five days in the county jail for reckless driving.

WIFE OF NAVAL OFFICER DIES IN LEAP OFF CLIFF

HONOLULU, T. H., April 4 (AP).—Mrs. Sydney S. Bunting, wife of a navy officer aboard the cruiser Astoria engaged in fleet maneuvers in the Pacific, plunged 600 feet to her death yesterday from Nuuanu Pali, a cliff 6 miles from Honolulu. Firemen and police retrieved the body.

Two letters were found in Mrs. Bunting's car, one to her husband and the other to her physician. Friends said Mrs. Bunting recently had undergone severe nervous strain because of the illness of her son, 12 year old Sydney Jr.

Police quoted the letter to her physician, Dr. William H. Wynn, as saying: "My mind is all mixed up and jumbled. I am unable to unravel it. Please forgive me. I hated to take this way out but did not see any other way."

25 U. S. Army Planes Will Survey Central America

PANAMA CITY, April 4 (AP).—Twenty-five United States army planes are scheduled to leave Albrook field Sunday for San José, Costa Rica, to acquaint the air corps personnel with the new La Sabana airport and permit Maj. Gen. Daniel van Voorhis and members of his staff to conduct an aerial survey of Central America.

HIT-RUN KILLER OF TWO WOMEN IS HELD TO JURY

Brother Testifies He Had 15 Drinks.

Norman Haiges, 37 years old, the driver of a truck which on Tuesday killed Mrs. Margaret Baine, 45, and her daughter, Lydia, 25, was held to the grand jury yesterday on a charge of manslaughter at the recommendation of a coroner's jury.

Haiges was accused by his brother, Ralph, 32, who was a passenger in the truck, of driving the machine after consuming 15 drinks of whisky.

Swerved to Avoid Trolley.

Haiges drove in front of a street car at Halsted and Van Buren streets and swerved his truck to avoid it. The truck struck the two women, plunged over the curb, and then smashed against a pillar. The women, typists who lived at 2619 Jones street, were waiting for a street car.

Ralph Haiges testified yesterday that he and his brother had been drinking in taverns since 9 o'clock in the morning.

"Norman had no more control of the truck than if he was flying a kite," said Ralph. "I had been trying to get him to let me drive because he was intoxicated."

Admits He Had 10 Drinks.

Norman Haiges also testified. Admitting that he had had at least 10 drinks, Haiges said that his head was clear before the accident, but that he remembered nothing after losing control of the truck.

In the Safety court Haiges has a record of serving three jail terms, 130 days in all, on traffic charges. He was sentenced twice for drunken driving and once for reckless driving. He lives at 130 South Leavitt street.

Mrs. Ida Strossman, 80, died in the Copley hospital, Aurora, of injuries suffered Saturday night when she was struck by an automobile after alighting from a bus near the hospital. The driver of the car was William J. O'Brien, 342 Seminary avenue, Aurora.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 235 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 181 were killed in Chicago, where 5,230 were injured in the same period.

NEW DEAL WILL MOVE 242 DEAD FROM LAKE AREA

Carbondale, Ill., April 4 [Special].—Removal of the dead whose bodies were in the way of Crab Orchard lake, which the New Deal foisted on Illinois, will begin next Monday, C. E. Hamilton, manager of the project, announced today.

The work will be under the supervision of G. W. Robinson, a funeral director of Creal Springs.

A total of 242 bodies lie in five privately owned cemeteries near the outer area of the 7,000 acres which will be flooded by the state's largest artificial lake. Relatives of the dead fought long but unsuccessfully in the courts against disturbing the bodies, some of which have lain there for 100 years.

Families have until tomorrow night to notify project officials that they want their dead moved to private cemeteries. Otherwise the bodies will be reburied in a 15 acre cemetery provided by the government.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Rebecca Edelman.

Funeral services for Mrs. Rebecca Edelman, who died Wednesday at the age of 103 years, were held yesterday in the chapel at 704 South Pulaski road, with burial in Waldheim cemetery. Mrs. Edelman lived at 4224 West 14th street. She had resided in Chicago since coming from Russia 65 years ago. Mrs. Edelman had never missed her weekly services in the B'nai Ruven synagogue until she became ill last Saturday. On Sunday, for the first time in her life, Mrs. Edelman was forced to consult a physician. She leaves three sons, Louis, Hyman, and Abe; two daughters, Mrs. Sadie Katz and Mrs. Rose Katz; 28 grandchildren, and 16 great grandchildren.

John Deinlein.

John Deinlein, 94 years old, a veteran of the civil war, died yesterday in his farm home on route 59A, west of Ivanhoe in Lake county. His death, it was said, left Silas Nichols of Waukegan as the only Grand Army veteran still living in the county. Mr. Deinlein was a native of Germany. He enlisted early in 1864 and was discharged from the army late in 1865. He had lived since that time in Lake county's Fremont township. Surviving are four sons, Fred, John, Leo, and Sylvester Deinlein. Funeral services will be held in St. Mary church, Antioch, at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Miss Martha Sudler.

Miss Martha Virginia Sudler, sister of Carroll H. Sudler of Lake Forest, retired business man and former director of the Federal Housing administration for northern Illinois, died yesterday of pneumonia in Hot Springs, Ark. She had lived abroad for many years, altho making Chicago her formal home. She also leaves another brother, Charles E. H. Sudler, and two nephews. She will be buried Monday at Sudlersville, Md., her birthplace.

Mrs. Nora Butler.

Mrs. Nora Butler, a resident of Chicago for more than 50 years, died yesterday in her home at 5438 Aberdeen street. She was the widow of John J. Butler. A son, John, head teacher of the Graham branch of Englewood High school, survives. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10:30 a. m. from the home to Visitation church, with burial in Mount Olivet cemetery.

Craven Laycock.

Hanover, N. H., April 4 (AP).—Craven Laycock, 73 years old, dean emeritus of Dartmouth college, with which he had been associated for 42 years, died suddenly today. He was born in England.

John R. Robertson.

John R. Robertson, 74 years old, co-owner of a real estate firm founded in 1888, died of a heart attack yesterday while waiting for a bus at 103d and Leavitt streets. He lived at 10044 Leavitt street. Robertson and his brother, Douglas, subdivided 3,000 acres of land on the south and southwest sides and in the area which is now Glen Ellyn. Also surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Tom Lee Brown. Funeral services will be held in the home at 11 a. m. tomorrow. Burial will be in Mount Hope cemetery.

Charles W. Schick.

Funeral services for Charles W. [Daddy] Schick, past commander of the department of Illinois, American Legion, were held yesterday in the Naval Reserve armory. More than a thousand persons attended the military rites. Mr. Schick, who died Tuesday in his home at 4300 Lake Shore drive, was 83 years old and the oldest member of the Legion. He had served as a naval officer in both the world war and the Spanish-American war. Burial was in Dixon, Lee county.

Dr. Joshua Rossett.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MERIDA, Mexico, April 4.—Dr. Joshua Rosett, New York physician and former Columbia university faculty member, died here today. Accompanied by his wife, he came here to visit the Mayan ruins. Dr. Rosett was given two blood transfusions after he suffered a hemorrhage in nearby Chicken Itza. Mrs. Rosett left for New York by plane to arrange the funeral.

Henry Einbecker.

Funeral services for Henry Einbecker, who died Wednesday, will be held at 2 p. m. today in St. Nicholas church. Mr. Einbecker was born in Chicago in 1860. He had been a harness maker. He leaves his widow, a daughter, Alice, and four sons, George, William, Henry, and Clement Einbecker. The family home is at 10006 La Salle street.

Nicholas J. Werner.

Nicholas Joseph Werner, 82 years old, a veteran printer, died yesterday in the home of his nephew, Dr. Charles D. Parker, 1243 North Ashland avenue, River Forest. Mr. Werner was employed by the St. Louis Globe-Democrat for many years. He was a member of several printing societies and a contributor to typographical journals.

Alexander F. McKeown Jr.

Alexander F. McKeown Jr., 44 years old, 946 East 48th street, died yesterday while riding in a friend's automobile. Heart disease apparently was the cause. Mr. McKeown for the last 10 years had been head of a real estate company at 205 West Wacker drive. His widow, Marie, survives.

A Census Taker's Call Bares Woman's Suicide

A census enumerator came across tragedy—and one name less to list—in his travels yesterday. He was making a survey in the rooming house at 3958 Ellis avenue. Mr. and Mrs. William McNabb, the operators, accounted for all of their roomers but one, Miss Anne Anderson, 45 years old, who had registered on March 9 from Detroit, Mich. They went to her room. They found her dead. On the table and in her purse were suicide notes. She had taken a sleeping drug.

BARNUM'S IDEA FOOLS GERMANS ABOUT LINCOLN

New York, April 4 (AP).—The official German radio got a couple of famous Americans mixed up tonight, giving Phineas T. ["there's a sucker born every minute"] Barnum credit for a historic quote of Abraham Lincoln.

In a broadcast to the United States, the German speaker, castigating French Premier Paul Reynaud for his radio speech to America Tuesday, had this to say:

"Premier Reynaud ought to know that world famous saying, 'You can fool some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all the people all of the time,' a saying which was coined by none other than Phineas T. Barnum, America's famous circus manager, who coined this as a showman."

Patient Fires Hospital in Attempt to Escape

Milledgeville, Ga., April 4 (AP).—A fire, which authorities said was started by a patient trying to escape, enveloped one section of the state hospital tonight, forcing evacuation of 1,700 mental patients from the three story structure. The fire was started in the attic by a patient who broke through the ceiling of his room, Dr. T. C. Clodstelter, resident physician, said. Hospital attendants marched all of the occupants safely from their quarters. Firemen were prevented from entering the building by smoke. Fire apparatus called from Macon, 35 miles away, aided local and institution firemen.

HORLICK LEAVES HIS MILLIONS TO RACINE BROTHER

Only Two Other Bequests Made in Will.

Racine, Wis., April 4 [Special].—The fortune of William Horlick Jr., who died Monday, will go almost intact to his brother, Alexander J. Horlick of Racine, altho the brothers had been estranged for many years.

Horlick's will was filed in Probate court today. Bernard F. Magruder and Attorney George Smalley, named as executors, in their petition for probate estimated the value of the estate at 5 million dollars in personal property and $100,000 in real estate.

$200,000 to Secretary.

Horlick made two specific bequests—$200,000 to Miss Andrea Pultz, for years his private secretary, and $500,000 to Mabelle Horlick Sidley, his sister, who died in 1938. The half million dollar bequest will go to Mrs. Sidley's estate.

The bequests to Mrs. Sidley and to Miss Pultz carried this notation in the handwriting of Horlick:

"For many kindnesses both have shown to those I love."

The will was written Jan. 30, 1931, and bore a later codicil replacing Mortimer Walker with Smalley as co-executor.

Drawn Before Parents' Deaths.

The will was drawn before the death of his father, mother, and sister. It specified that the residue, after the $700,000 bequests to Miss Pultz and to Mrs. Sidley, be given to his father and mother equally, and in the event of the death of either, to the survivor, or in the event of death of both, to his sister and brother.

Then the will provided that in the event of the death of his parents and either his sister or brother, the entire residue was to go to the survivor, which in this case was Alexander J. Horlick.

STATE GETS LOUIS FIRST; EX-WIFE MUST WAIT TURN

Louis Gurgone, 537 West 57th street, a bartender, is scheduled to appear before Judge Joseph Sabath today to tell why he is in arrears on payments to his divorced wife, Helen, for support of their son, Phillip, 8.

Yesterday, however, Gurgone was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail. The bartender was convicted of fraudulently receiving $130 in state unemployment compensation checks last fall while he was making $25 a week drawing beer and mixing martinis.

Judge Joseph Fleming of East St. Louis, sitting in county court, imposed sentence. "Now I'll be further behind in payments to Mrs. Gurgone," protested the bartender. "When I get out of jail, she'll have me thrown back in."

Judge Fleming said he doubted any court would make him pay for the time spent in jail, and ordered that he be allowed to attend the support hearing today.

3 HOTEL BANDITS GET $109.

TEST YOUR HORSE SENSE

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Select the answer which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 41.

1. The average child cannot distinguish between morning and afternoon until it reaches the age of 3 4 5 6.
2. The floor beams of a house are called Sills Joists Studs Rafters.
3. In passing through the Panama canal from the Atlantic to the Pacific your general direction of travel would be North Northwest Southeast West.
4. The occasional conflict between our western sheepmen and grain farmers was exemplified by David and Jonathan Cain and Abel Samson and Delilah Moses and Aaron.
5. Which of the following is usually sold by the cubic yard, Coal Gravel Coke Corn?
6. The air pressure is measured by a barometer. The pressure decreases approximately 0.1 inch of mercury for every 90 feet of ascent. If you found that the barometer reading was 30.1 inches of mercury at the foot of a hill and only 29.3 inches at the summit, what is the height of the hill?

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note: The last question counts 5 points.]

Wins in Court

MRS. GLADYS KATHREIN.

When Mrs. Gladys Kathrein, 28 years old, sought a temporary support order yesterday, her husband, Louis, 40, pleaded he could not afford to pay her because he had to spend $15 to $20 a week for entertainment expenses.

"In connection with your work?" inquired Judge Cornelius J. Harrington.

"Your honor, this man is a shipping clerk," interrupted Mrs. Kathrein's attorney. "He has no expenses in the line of duty. He spends the money for his own pleasure and entertainment of other women." Kathrein denied the charge.

Judge Harrington ordered Kathrein to pay $10 a week to his wife, who lives at 4415 North Clark street. She has a suit for separate maintenance pending.

LUND WILL CARRY ROAD FUND FIGHT TO HIGHER COURT

Springfield, Ill., April 4 (AP).—State Representative Arnold Lund [R., Riverside] served notice today that he would carry his suit to impound $74,000,000 in state highway funds to the Illinois Supreme court.

Charging that hundreds of new payrollers have been added to the statehouse machine for the primary election campaign, Lund filed notice of appeal in Sangamon County Circuit court where earlier this week Circuit Judge L. E. Stone denied him permission to file his suit.

Defendants in the suit, which charged that lump sum appropriations were illegal, are Gov. Henry Horner, State Auditor Edward J. Barrett, and State Treasurer Louie E. Lewis.

Boy of 4 Plays Cowboy with Revolver; Kills Self

Indianapolis, Ind., April 4 [Special].—Rummaging thru the attic of his home today 4 year old Donald Robert Knight found a revolver and substituted it for a toy pistol in playing cowboy. A few minutes later he shot himself fatally.

WOMAN SUSPECT IN SHOPLIFTING IS JAILED 32D TIME

Mrs. Mary Martin, 45 years old, was held by the New City police yesterday as a shoplifting suspect. It was her 32d arrest since 1919. She was unable to explain the finding of a man's suit hidden on her person after she left a department store at 4805 South Ashland avenue Wednesday night. Nick Daliassanro, 28, who was near the store when she was seized, was also held for questioning. Mrs. Martin gave her address as 953 West 18th street.

MRS. ALTHA HOWARTH DIES AT 79.

Pecatonica, Ill., April 4 [Special].—Mrs. Altha Howarth, 79 years old, widow of Henry Howarth and a resident of this community all her life, died yesterday in a Rockford hospital. Two sons survive. Funeral will be held here tomorrow.

TRAINING SCHOOL FOR GREAT LAKES SEAMEN IS URGED

Members of Chicago lodge No. 3 of the International Shipmasters' association met in the Morrison hotel yesterday and adopted a resolution asking the federal government to establish a school in or near Chicago to train seamen for Great Lakes service.

Similar stations are already being operated at New London, Conn., and Hoffman Island, N. Y., for the maritime service, according to Capt. L. Haugmeland, chairman of the lodge's navigation committee. Haugmeland said these stations train seamen so that they can readily be absorbed into the navy, coast guard, or marine corps in time of war.

Stressing the importance of such training, Haugmeland said that the locks at Sault Ste. Marie handle 17 million tons more shipping in the eight month season on the lakes than the amount handled in 12 months by the Suez and Panama canals combined.

Copies of the resolution were sent to the chief of the maritime service and the commandant of the coast guard in Washington, D. C.

C. C. SHAMBAUGH OF ALLEGAN DIES.

Allegan, Mich., April 4 [Special].—Charles C. Shambaugh, 84 years old, of Allegan, died at the home of his son, Clarence, in Toledo, O., last night. Funeral will be held here Saturday.

A Boy and His Dog -- and High Adventure

There is no stimulant for growth in a boy's character—no food for the sinews of a sturdy manhood—that surpasses owning, living with and caring for a dog.

A boy with a dog is blessed with golden opportunities for high adventure. A boy without a dog misses many experiences that establish life's fundamental values.

Think of this when you select food for your dog. He deserves the best. And the best is easily supplied today, if you feed him Ideal Dog Food—"the 7-Course Meal."

Ideal Dog Food is an expertly planned, successful diet for normal, modern dogs—an ideal combination of seven important, proved ingredients, chief of which is good, red meat. Feed "Ideal" and save the labels.

MOTHER AND HER 3 CHILDREN SLAIN IN PUZZLING CASE

Los Angeles, Cal., April 4 [Special]. —The bodies of a mother and three of her children were found in their home today. Their skulls had been crushed and the mother's body was partly burned.

Police strove tonight to unravel the tangled account of the killings given by the only survivor of the massacre, a fourth child, Chloe Davis, 11 years old.

The dead were Mrs. Lolita Bjorkman Davis, 36; her two daughters, Dephne, 10, and Deborah Ann, 7, and a son, Marquis, 3. The father is Barton Davis, a grocery employé who formerly lived in Grand Rapids, Mich. He told a doctor two weeks ago he feared his wife was losing her mind.

Girl Calmly Tells Story.

Chloe, a little girl in pigtails, appeared unaffected by the tragedy in which she said she had participated. She calmly told police how the killings began soon after her father left for work. From her account, which varied in some respects, officers pieced together her story as follows:

"I was awakened by a lot of racket. I asked mother what was going on and she told me demons were after all of us. She thought she had killed my aunt's little girl a long time ago. She said she was going to kill all us kids and then kill herself.

"Daphne was stretched out in the bathtub. Marquis and Deborah were on the kitchen floor. Mother said she was going to kill me, too, and started hitting at me with a hammer. I snatched it away.

Mattress Set Afire.

"She made me help her carry a mattress from the bedroom into the hall, where she lay down on it and set it afire and lighted her hair. As her nightie burned off she screamed: 'Hit me, hit me! I can't stand the pain.' I did.

"Then I heard Mark in the kitchen. I hammered him to make him stop groaning. Then I changed clothes and washed up. When I went out to go to a neighbor's to tell them what had happened, I locked the door. I was afraid those demons mother had talked about would get in."

Police Captain Edgar Edwards said he believed the girl also killed her two sisters.

ASSIGN M'GARRY CASES, SONSTEBY IS TOLD BY COURT

Judge Harry M. Fisher in Circuit court issued a mandamus writ yesterday to compel Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court to assign cases to Judge Eugene L. McGarry. The execution of the writ was delayed, however, until next Wednesday, the day after the primary. Meanwhile Justice Sonsteby's attorneys are expected to appeal the case.

Judge McGarry, who is a candidate for renomination in the primary, was indicted last fall on charges of malfeasance and conspiracy to accept false bail bond acknowledgements, and was relieved of his bench duties early in December. The indictments were quashed on a technicality in Criminal court but the state's attorney's office has carried the case to the Appellate court. Judge McGarry is also under investigation by the Chicago Bar association.

Judge Fisher held that it was mandatory for Justice Sonsteby to assign cases to associate judges. He said that as a matter of good taste Judge McGarry probably should not sit on the bench until matters concerning him are cleared up.

He Pays $404 for a Big Hello and Little Bump

Joseph Vihon of 1513 Morse avenue drew $404 from his postal savings yesterday. He walked out of the postoffice in the United States courthouse and things began to happen. A stranger walked up and greeted him effusively. Another jostled him. Then both stepped into an automobile and drove away. As the car swept around a corner Vihon reached into his overcoat pocket and cried "Pickpockets!" Police are looking for the men and the $404.

WOMAN, 77, GETS LIFE TERM FOR MERCY SLAYING

Allentown, Pa., April 4 [Special]. —Miss Margaret Cowan, 77 years old, a former nurse, was convicted of murder and sentenced to life imprisonment today for the "mercy slaying" of her sister. After calmly hearing the verdict, the elderly woman told deputies who led her away: "I would rather have gotten the electric chair."

She testified that "Our Heavenly Father" told her to kill Mrs. Louella Saeger, 67, a patient in the Allentown state mental hospital for two years. Last Aug. 15 she gave her sister cupcakes treated with a narcotic to lessen the pain, she related, and then fired two shots into her body "to put her out of her misery."

The jury, which returned its verdict after night long deliberations, recommanded mercy.

Seize Physician Accused in an Illegal Operation

Dr. Otis J. Baldwin, 623 North Latrobe avenue, was held by Austin police last night in connection with an alleged illegal operation performed on Mrs. Anna Bjerke, 37 years old, on March 9. Dr. Baldwin was arrested by Sergts. Francis Donohue, Ollie Karwoski, and Patrick Meehan of Coroner A. L. Brodie's staff on Mrs. Bjerke's complaint. Mrs. Bjerke, who lives at 5123 Irving Park boulevard, was reported in a serious condition last night in the Franklin boulevard hospital.

KILLS AUNT, 69; SQUANDERS HER $300 ON SPREE

Hides Body in Bathtub for Three Weeks.

Belleville, Ill., April 4 [Special].—A young man confessed to police today that he killed his elderly aunt three weeks ago and kept her body hidden in her home here while he squandered the $300 she had received from selling her house. Police found the body covered with rugs in the bathtub.

Edward Fifel, 28 years old, calmly told of crushing with a flatiron the skull of Mrs. Louise May, 69, a widowed aunt who had raised him as her own son. Fifel, an orphan, spent two years in a home for the feeble minded during his childhood.

'Fussed' About His Idleness.

"I killed her to stop her from fussing at me about money and my lack of a job," he related. "She was bothering me about money from the time I came home March 14 after an evening at a tavern.

"She awoke when I came in and asked me what I had done with a $35 payment I had collected on the house sale. I had spent it. She also told me it was about time I was getting a job.

"I walked over to the stove in the bedroom and picked up an old iron. She was starting to lie back in bed when I hit her with it. She made a grab for my hand, then rolled onto the floor."

Visits Tavern After Killing.

Fifel said he put the iron in a cupboard and went out to a tavern where he had five drinks of whisky in rapid succession. He returned to the house about 1 a. m., covered the body with a coat, and then went to sleep in an adjoining bedroom.

The next day he put the body in the bathtub and covered it with rugs and rags. He cleaned up the house, obtained the remaining money from the sale of the house, and took a room at a boarding house. In the ensuing three weeks he spent all of the money gambling and drinking.

He was playing cards in a tavern when he was arrested last night.

Ask Brooklyn for Data on Unsolved Killings Here

Lieut. Thomas Kelly of the state's attorney's office yesterday telegraphed District Attorney William O'Dwyer of Brooklyn, N. Y., to learn if he had any evidence connecting the activities of the alleged "murder syndicate" uncovered there with unsolved crimes in Chicago. O'Dwyer had stated that at least 1[illegible] of the killings committed by the syndicate were outside New York, five of them in Chicago.

MILKMEN'S UNION AGENT GIVES UP ON THEFT COUNT

John M. O'Connor, business agent of the Milk Wagon Drivers' union, local 753, surrendered yesterday on a warrant charging him with stealing a truck key and route book from George Wadas, a driver for the Pure Farm Products company, 1938 Augusta boulevard. O'Connor, who denied the charge, will be arraigned this morning before Judge William V. Daly in South State Street court.

On Wednesday the company filed suit in Superior court for an injunction to restrain the union from interfering with deliveries. Attorneys for the company charged that union drivers damaged seven company trucks and 12 cases of milk Wednesday.

Judge Grover C. Niemeyer yesterday set hearing on the injunction suit for Monday and warned against any terrorism by the union.

Admits Taking $22,000 Loot from Miami Beach Homes

Miami Beach, Fla., April 4 (AP).—Police Chief H. V. Yocum reported today that Joseph Carter, 26, of Miami had admitted taking $22,000 of loot from the homes of wealthy Miami Beach residents in the last two weeks. Carter came under suspicion because of his size 4½ shoe, which detectives said matched footprints found near the burglary scenes. The police said diamond rings and pearls were recovered from the prisoner's room in Miami and two diamond bracelets from a buried hiding place.

Woman Heads Jury to Try 17 in N. Y. for Sedition

New York, April 4 (AP).—Eleven men and a Brooklyn housewife as forewoman were selected late today as the jury in the sedition trial of 17 men indicted for conspiracy to overthrow the United States government and set up a dictatorship. The forewoman is Mrs. Helen R. Titus. Two alternates remained to be chosen for the trial, which is expected to last between six weeks and two months.

JOHNSON, 12 AIDS FACE COURT IN TAX CASE TODAY

William Johnson and William R. Skidmore, reputed heads of Chicago's organized gambling, and 11 of their associates are to be arraigned this morning in Federal court to answer indictments charging conspiracy to evade income taxes.

Johnson and Skidmore also will be arraigned individually on charges of income tax evasion. The government claims a shortage, with penalties and interest, of $2,237,232 in Johnson's case.

Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, yesterday filed an income tax lien against Johnson with Hoyt King, clerk of the District court. This lien prevents Johnson from disposing of his properties while the income tax case is pending.

ROB BUTCHER SHOP OF $74.

Two robbers got $74 yesterday when they held up Theodore Michales, his helper and a woman customer in Michales' butcher shop at 3946 South Albany avenue.

RESPECTABLE 8 YEARS; EXTRADITION SOUGHT AS PAROLE VIOLATOR

Springfield, Ill., April 4 (AP).—State parole officers today prepared extradition papers for the return of Winifred Phillips, 30 years old, whose eight years as a respectable factory worker in Oklahoma ended this week with his arrest for parole violation.

Phillips was released from the Oklahoma City jail on a writ of habeas corpus, while friends joined in his fight against returning to prison because he violated his parole from an Illinois prison by leaving the state.

Phillips was arrested in Oklahoma City yesterday as a fugitive because he left Illinois in 1932 in violation of the conditions of his parole. Since he was paroled from the state prison at Menard he has married and is the father of three children.

SUPREME COURT ASKED TO VACATE BIOFF BOND BAN

Attorneys for Willie Bioff, Hollywood union boss, appeared yesterday at Springfield in a new move to keep Bioff from serving an 18 year old sentence of 6 months in the Bridewell for pandering.

The Illinois Supreme court on Wednesday refused to issue a writ which would release Bioff on bond, pending a high court review of his case. Yesterday State Senator Abe Marovitz, high priced criminal court lawyer, and his associates petitioned the court to vacate its ruling. Court attaches said the motion will be considered during the current term.

Unless Chief Justice John Prystalski of the Criminal court, who denied Bioff a writ of habeas corpus, grants a further stay for the appeal, Bioff is scheduled to enter the Bridewell on Monday.

INSTALMENT XXIX.

GOLD FEVER.

Santee gave the sheriff his orders.

"Now get a crew together—say 10 men—order your dynamite, hire a dozen pack horses for the tools and let's get busy."

By midmorning Sheriff Lovejoy had rousted out a crew of workmen. He chose only those men who had had experience in blasting, like prospectors and miners. He explained the job to them, then hired the pack horses, collected tools and dynamite and set out. Santee, like a conquering crusader, rode across the bridge at the head of his workmen.

In Santa Luz he had suceeded in finding Ross Colver, who was waiting out the time limit of two more weeks that had been set for securing the right of way. Colver was on his way up here now, and when he arrived he would find the Rio Medio back where it belonged. Surveyors were coming with him to stake out the boundaries, and the legal end of it was already in the hands of the company lawyers, who were only waiting Colver's final word.

They arrived at the canyon after midday and Santee explained the diversion to the sheriff, who had not bothered to come out and see it before.

As they progressed up the canyon, Santee noticed that some of his men were dropping behind. Once he turned in the saddle to see two of them dismounted in the dry stream bed. They seemed to be examining something. Santee rode on ahead, but when, 15 minutes later, his men were not in sight, he halted Sheriff Lovejoy and they turned back.

The 10 workmen, all dismounted, were picking up rocks from the bed of the stream.

Santee rode in among them and said, "What's the trouble here?" in a voice that was firm with authority.

The nearest man came over to him and shoved a rock at him. "Look at that, mister."

Santee looked. "What is it?"

The others were gathered about him now. Three or four of the men, prospectors, said in a chorus, "Gold bearing ore. Rich ore, too."

Santee handed the rock back. "Interesting," he commented, "Let's be on our way, tho."

"You ain't gettin' me on my way," one man said. "I've quit. I'm goin' to look around here for about two hours, then ride back and stake out my claim."

"Where?" Santee asked.

"Right where you're standin', maybe."

Santee laughed. "That would be foolish. In a day or so the place where I'm standing will be running four feet of water from bank to bank.

The men looked at each other and one man spoke up: "Maybe you don't savvy what this means, Bales. There's gold here. Gold! The whole damn river bed! It's worth a hell of a lot more than havin' water here!"

Santee stared at them with growing anger. "The court says to put this river back in its course. And it's going back."

One of the workmen, a husky prospector, came up to Santee and put a hand on his horse's neck. "Now that's where you're wrong. I wouldn't want to say for certain, but this looks like a strike, and a good strike. And nobody's goin' to turn a river onto the claim I stake out."

Santee turned to Lovejoy. "Sheriff, what are your orders?"

Lovejoy, however, was an old timer, and all his life he had lived in a country where the raggedest prospector might turn into a rich man inside a month. He said, "Let me see that ore!"

Santee reached out and knocked the ore out of the hand of the man who was offering it to Lovejoy. "That's not the question!" he said sharply. "You've got a court order. You're bound to carry it out."

"Don't be a damn fool, sheriff," one of the men said dryly. "We got a strike here. Stake out a claim and you'll be a rich man. You goin' to let that loudmouth talk you out of a fortune?"

"He's got a court order."

"They come a dollar a dozen," the husky prospector sneered. "Hell, give me a day and I'll get you five that'll tell you to keep the river out of this canyon."

"This is my land!" Bales shouted.

"Now, is it?" the husky prospector mocked. "Accordin' to the story goin' the rounds, it ain't your land until you get the river moved back here. Your land goes three miles west of the Rio Medio and this ain't the Rio Medio—yet."

"It's Drury's then. He'll kick you off it when he finds there's gold here. You won't get a poke full of dust out of it!"

The prospector snorted. "Since when does a man own a water course? Hell, they're public domain. Else how do you figure these Mex hoemen to the south can use this water?"

Santee made his first mistake then. He said, "Do whatever you want. I'll go back to town and get a crew that will do this job for me."

The prospector turned to his mates. "Hear that?"

They crowded up to Santee, their faces threatening. They had even forgotten that the mild Lovejoy was among them.

Santee made his second mistake now. He tried to yank his horse into a rear. The husky prospector grabbed the bridle and held the horse down. A second and third reached up and yanked Santee out of the saddle and threw him on the ground.

"Wait a minute, now," the husky prospector said. "We got to work this careful. Let me talk a minute."

At their nods he went on, Lovejoy listening attentively. "This ranny has got a court order. All right, all we need is a few days to hunt up a judge and get another court order. Now it don't matter who's right in this business, because we'll hire lawyers and he'll hire lawyers, and it'll take two months of lawin' to get a decision. By that time we'll have a fortune, all of us, out of this ore. All right, here's what we ought to do. We'll hold this jughead until we can get Lovejoy a court order restrainin' Bales. Today we'll go up and down the creek putting up our monuments. Tonight we'll register our claims. Me, I'll ride for the court order. Joe will file my claim. After we got 'em all filed, then we'll turn the town loose here." He laughed. "Hell, if they turn that river on a couple of hundred claims, we'll law 'em in court till we're gray."

The men yelled assent, excitement in their eyes. The spokesman turned to Lovejoy. "You with us or ag'in' us, sheriff?"

Lovejoy looked surprised. He said: "Well, I——"

"You're with us," one man shouted. "You damn well better be. We elected you."

"Can't you arrest this Bales on a charge of disturbin' the peace till Mel gets back with the court order?"

"I could," Lovejoy admitted.

"You will. Now git off your horse and start hunting your location, sheriff."

Sheriff Lovejoy, avoiding Santee's eyes, dismounted, the fever starting to stir him. Santee cursed him with savage bitterness. He offered bribes, he threatened, he cajoled, and the longer he talked the dimmer became the possibility of victory. He was talking to men already drunk with riches. Desperation was in his voice and his eyes and, as he talked, they laughed. They appointed a couple of men to guard him while, wild with the gold fever, they staked their claims up and down the creek and put up their monuments. Only darkness stopped them.

Then came the race for town. The dynamite and tools were forgotten. Santee, tied in his saddle, was put in front so they could not lose him, and then the stampede began. It was a wild ride, for these men were willing to kill their horses if they could get to a brother or a friend in time so that he, too, could stake out a claim on the remaining territory.

In town, Sante was hustled into the jail, chained in the one empty cell with a padlock, and then forgotten. In the 15 minutes after the news broke, every house in town was lighted up. Horses were at a premium. Nobody knew the truth, except that rich gold bearing ore had been found in the bed of the Rio Medio.

EASY MEALS AID WOMAN WHO'S HOUSECLEANING

Mop and Pail Time Isn't Big Dinner Time.

Spring housecleaning time is quick lunch and easy dinner time. After a hard session with mops, pails, and dust cloths, no woman is in the mood for preparing a big dinner.

So, if milady is smart, she'll turn to one of her little Mary Meade booklets of easy meals for her menu inspiration. Three booklets the spring housecleaner will find especially helpful are "Pantry Shelf Dinners," "Glorifying the Leftovers," and "When the Business Woman Cooks."

These booklets are on sale for 3 cents each at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street, and in the Tribune Tower lobby. They will be mailed for 5 cents each in stamps. Mail requests should be addressed to Mary Meade.

Other cooking booklets by Mary Meade are:

Hard Rolls Filled with Relish Aid Spring Teas

Tiny hard rolls filled with cucumber-tuna relish make delicious snacks for the springtime tea. To make the filling, mix ½ cup each of chopped cucumbers, celery and tuna. Add 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons chopped pimientos, ¼ cup broken pecans and ¼ cup salad dressing. Chill until time for serving and then fill tiny hard rolls, which have been well buttered. Garnish with thin strips of pimiento and chopped sweet pickles.

SIMPLE PROOF THAT BAB-O DISSOLVES GREASE

Acts Faster—Saves Time, Work, Money!

1. Scour one half of dirty pan with ordinary "lazy" cleanser. Notice how hard you work—how slowly dirt disappears.

2. Now try Bab-O. See how it dissolves grease so dirt gently wipes away, leaving pan clean, shiny, with far less work.

It's Grease That Makes Dirt Stick! Read How Grease-Dissolving Bab-O Acts Faster—Saves You Time, Work, Money Too!

● It's true—today's cleaning problem is grease. But just try to dissolve grease with ordinary "sluggish" cleansers! See how you have to scour and scrub! Then try Bab-O—and see the amazing difference. For Bab-O, perfected especially to meet today's cleaning problem, contains an active special ingredient that quickly dissolves grease, so dirt easily wipes off. And because Bab-O does dissolve grease, it works faster. A little does more cleaning, so you can use less of it. Get Bab-O at your grocer's today. You save time, work, money too!

NOTE: Bab-O is white—stays white even when wet—because it contains only pure cleaning ingredients.

For Man-Sized Appetite

Have you ham leftovers to use? Then put them into this spaghetti dish that should be labeled "For man-sized appetites only." Pile hot canned spaghetti in tomato sauce in the center of a large chop plate and surround it with plenty of browned dices of leftover ham and sauteed mushrooms. With it are served a tart jelly, cucumber pickles, and hot biscuits.

MANY A TASTY DISH CREATED IN COMBINING NEW CANNED SOUPS

Have you ever stopped to think about the amount of time today's homemaker saves on canned soups alone? No cleaning and preparing of vegetables, no cooking and clarifying of broth, no actual soup cooking to take up the time and temper of the modern cook.

She simply opens a can and a few minutes later has lunch on the table. The list of canned soups now available is a long one and is made even longer by the many possibilities of combining two or more soups. Some good soup combinations you may want to try:

Chicken noodle soup and cream of tomato soup.

Cream of spinach and cream of mushroom.

Cream of spinach and cream of celery.

Fruit Juice and Honey Join Well on Pancakes

A fruit juice and honey sirup is just right for fritters, waffles and griddle cakes. To make the sirup use equal parts fruit juice and honey, half as much butter, and a little grated lemon rind. Boil them all together for about five minutes and cool somewhat. Thick fruit nectars are especially good in this recipe.

Omelet Becomes Treat with Sausage, Hominy

A sausage and hominy omelet makes an unusual breakfast treat and it's equally effective as a luncheon dish. Brown sausage links in a skillet, remove them and pour off all but 4 tablespoons of fat. Add one No. 2½ can drained hominy, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper and heat thoroly. Add 3 eggs which have been beaten with 6 tablespoons milk. Cook only until the eggs are set, turn onto a chop plate and arrange links over the top. Bundles of asparagus or broccoli make a nice accompaniment for luncheon.

SLICE THIS CAKE AND YOU WILL FIND A PUDDING

Here's a brand new dessert that will arouse curiosity as well as exclamations of approval. It looks like a cake, but you'll be surprised to find that it's really a pudding when sliced.

CREAM CRUMB PUDDING.
[Serves 6.]

1½ cups fine dry bread crumbs
4 tablespoons sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
4 tablespoons melted butter
2 cups applesauce
2 packages cream cheese
3 tablespoons cream

Combine crumbs, sugar, cinnamon, and melted butter and blend well. Butter a deep round baking dish. Sprinkle bottom with one-third of crumb mixture. Cover with half of apple sauce, and repeat, making top layer of crumbs. Bake in moderately slow oven [325 degrees] about 20 minutes. Chill thoroly in refrigerator. Unmold and ice with cream cheese and cream blended together. Cut in slices for serving.

Sawyer's BAKER BOY CRACKERS

"Now that's what I call good coffee"

How pleasant it is to sit by the fireside with "the only one" . . . and recall the nice things he said about the midnight supper you prepared . . . and how proud you were when he exclaimed . . . "NOW THAT'S WHAT I CALL GOOD COFFEE!"

A FEW SIMPLE RULES for making good coffee. (1) Carefully observe timing for each method. (2) Measure 2 level tablespoons of coffee to each cup of water. Vary water slightly for exact strength desired. (3) Keep your coffee-maker clean.

"I'm always proud to serve Hills Bros. Coffee . . . people always like it. And Hills Bros. Coffee is so easy to make—The Correct Grind works perfectly in any kind of coffee-maker if you just follow carefully the directions that appear on the side of every Hills Bros. Coffee can. But don't regrind Hills Bros. Coffee—you'll lose aroma, flavor, and freshness."

"I never worry about results when I use Hills Bros. Coffee in my PERCOLATOR. I start with either hot or cold water and let it perk slowly 7 to 10 minutes after steady perking starts."

"I make Hills Bros. Coffee by the DRIP METHOD and it's wonderful. But the water must take 6 to 8 minutes to drip through to the lower section. If it drips through too fast the coffee is weak."

"Everybody likes the way I make Hills Bros. Coffee in my OLD-FASHIONED COFFEEPOT. I bring the coffee and water to a boil, stir, add a little cold water, and move pot aside 5 minutes to settle."

Write to Hills Bros. Coffee, Inc., San Francisco, for your free copy of "The Art of Coffee-Making."

"I'm thrilled with the success I have with Hills Bros. Coffee in my GLASS VACUUM-MAKER. I put the upper bowl on after the water boils and keep the coffee in contact with the water for 5 to 7 minutes."

Hint of the week

Serve coffee promptly after making. If it's necessary to let coffee stand after it is made, keep it on a warm spot on the stove where it will not boil. Cool coffee cannot be reheated without injury to flavor.

"My favorite way to make coffee is by the STEEPING METHOD. Put Hills Bros. Coffee in a sauce-pan and pour on boiling water. Stir well and cover. Stir again in 5 minutes. Steep for 10 minutes more."

GAY GARLANDED SPRING ARRIVES AT THE GROCERY

She's Wearing a Bargain Dress for Debut.

BY MARY MEADE.

Spring has come to the grocery. She wears a garland of red, ripe strawberries and bears a sheaf of tender asparagus tips in one hand and a basket of fresh eggs in the other.

At least that's how the food news appears to this bargain sleuth. Strawberries and asparagus are rapidly getting down to a price level where they can be mentioned in the same breath with bargains and need no longer be dragged in only as a possible lift to budget burdened menus.

Shortcake Time Is on Way.

The first shipment of Louisiana strawberries arrived this week. And their general quality bore promise of a good shortcake season to come. Larger receipts and a substantial price decrease can be expected within a few weeks. At present there is a wide range in the quality of the juicy red berries and a correspondingly wide range in price. Some of the berries tend to lack flavor, others are small or green, but those that are good are good indeed.

Those tender fine flavored stalks of asparagus come all the way from California. Quality for the most part is good. Next time you feel like splurging try some of the extra fancy thick stalked quality. It will be a treat to your taste if not to your pocketbook.

Eggs were included in the trio of spring cultures because this is their season to shine. The creamy puddings, pies, custards, and angel food and sponge cakes they make are shining bright lights on anybody's spring menus.

Pork Bobs Up Again.

Not precisely a spring bargain, but very much in the bargain news this week, is our old friend, pork. It bobs up at somewhat special prices in a nation-wide economy sale. The prices are only somewhat special, because they're already low enough to make last year's low prices look high. Pork loin roast—the end cuts, wear particularly attractive price tags—is one of the most widely featured cuts in a list that includes practically every cut that comes from a hog. Bacon and lard also are not to be overlooked in the bargain buys.

Vegetable bargains are becoming more frequent. Bunch beets, cabbages, and radishes are all cheaper again. Green beans are finding their way back to the market again and are about half the price they were a short time ago.

For standout buys, choose broad-leaved spinach from Texas, dry onions, celery, and carrots. Look over the heads of lettuce you select carefully. Much of it is of only fair quality.

Here Are Best Fruit Buys.

Apples, oranges, bananas, and rhubarb are your best fruit buys. Grapefruit is slightly higher again this week and fresh pineapple from Cuba and peaches from South America are nice but definitely luxuries.

Other good meat buys that you might consider are almost any cut of veal, which is being widely featured at tempting prices, and beef cuts, particularly steaks and chuck roasts.

Perhaps it's in anticipation of summer that the fellow behind the meat market is featuring cold meats. Can picnic weather be on the way?

BAKE YOUR EGGS ON SUNDAY MORN; IT'LL BE A TREAT

Next time there are a few extra minutes to spare on Sunday morning, try baking the breakfast eggs this new and attractive way:

EGGS SUPREME

6 eggs whites
6 egg yolks, unbroken
6 slices of bread
Salt and pepper to taste

Toast the bread to a light brown color, butter it lightly and trim the corners if desired. Then beat the egg whites stiff, adding a pinch of salt. Pile the beaten whites high on the toast slices, and make a shallow well in the center of each mound. Then drop a whole yolk into each well, place the toast slices and eggs on a rack and bake them in a moderate [350 degree] oven until the white is lightly browned. Remove from the oven, drop a small amount of butter on the yolk and serve hot.

Party Dish: Strawberries Used with Angel Food Cake

Fresh, sweetened strawberries or frozen berries combine with angel food cake to make an easy but luscious dessert for party occasions. Order an uniced angel food cake from the baker or grocer, cut it in sections for serving, then fill the center of the ring with the juicy, chilled berries. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired, and serve.

WANT SMOOTHER HANDS? CHANGE TO PURE, GENTLE IVORY AND SEE THE DIFFERENCE!
IVORY SOAP

THINK TWICE before you put strong soap into your dishpan! It may be fine for your wash—but ask yourself this: Would you use it on your face? . . . Then why-oh-why let it come in contact with your hands in the dishpan 3 times a day?

Change to gentle Ivory Soap instead—and in 2 weeks you'll see the roughness and redness from strong soaps gone—your hands smoother and softer! So always make sure you have Ivory in your kitchen for dishwashing. Help your hands stay smooth. Ivory is the pure soap many doctors advise for babies—yet it costs less than granulated washday soaps. For smoother hands, change to Ivory for dishes today.

BATHROOM TISSUE IS SUCH AN Intimate THING

WHAT about that bathroom tissue you bring into your home? Can you say positively that it offers the maximum possible protection against irritation which may be due to roughness or to the presence of impurities ... that it is free from dust and dirt? Does it come to you fully wrapped?—protected? Think of these things. Think of your family. Then ask yourself which is more important, a trifle saved ... or comfort and safety. Say Seminole to your dealer—and be safe. Seminole is soft, absorbent, fully wrapped. Full 1000 sheets to the roll. Thrifty, indeed—but first of all, it's safe!

SCIENTIFIC LABORATORY SAYS:

"It is desirable for toilet tissue to be—(1) SOFT, (2) UNGLAZED, (3) free of harmful ground-wood slivers or other imperfections ... and (4) protected by a complete wrapper."

SEMINOLE TISSUE meets all four requirements!

THIS TENDER NEW ASPARAGUS IS AN INSPIRATION!

Suitable as Main Dish or in Minor Role.

There's something about these tender young asparagus stalks now appearing on the market in rather generous quantities that will inspire you to give a spring luncheon.

Asparagus is good in other rôles, too, but it does make an especially suitable luncheon main dish in the spring. Here are a few asparagus dishes that might well be the mainstay of a party luncheon. Some of them can play a less important part in a dinner menu, if you like.

ASPARAGUS IN TOASTED ROLLS.
[Serves 6.]

- 6 round yeast rolls or buns
- 2 cups cooked asparagus, cut in inch pieces
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 cup milk
- 2 eggs
- ½ cup grated cheese

Cut off tops of rolls and scoop out insides, leaving firm walls. Brush inside and top of roll with melted butter and place under a broiler flame to toast until a golden brown. Melt the tablespoon of butter in top of double boiler; blend in flour and add milk. Cook until creamy and thick, stirring constantly. Carefully beat in eggs, mixing well. Add asparagus and cheese and heat until cheese is melted and asparagus is heated thru.

ASPARAGUS SOUFFLE.
[Serves 6.]

- 1 pound bunch fresh asparagus
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 eggs

Cook asparagus until tender and cut into 1 inch pieces. Melt butter, blend with flour, then add milk gradually and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add salt and pour into slightly beaten egg yolks. Add asparagus. Whip egg whites until stiff, fold into asparagus mixture, and turn into buttered casserole. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate [350 degrees] oven until firm, 45 to 60 minutes. Serve immediately.

French Fried Asparagus.

Drain cooked asparagus and dip into beaten egg and then into fine dry crumbs. Fry in deep, hot fat at 375 degrees [hot enough to brown an inch cube in 40 seconds]. Cook until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle with salt and serve with cheese sauce.

ASPARAGUS AND HARD COOKED EGGS EN CASSEROLE.
[Serves 6 to 8.]

- 2 pounds asparagus
- 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 2 cups medium white sauce
- 6 hard cooked eggs, sliced
- ½ cup buttered crumbs

Wash and cook asparagus whole. Add peppers to white sauce. Arrange layer of asparagus in bottom of greased casserole, cover generously with sauce, and add layer of egg slices. Repeat until dish is full. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate [350 degrees] oven for 20 minutes.

New Idea for Dessert

Fresh as a spring breeze is this new dessert idea combining crushed macaroons, pineapple, nuts, and raisins in a custardy gelatin pudding. To make it, soften 2 tablespoons plain, unflavored gelatin in ¼ cup cold water and dissolve with ½ cup sugar in 2 cups scalded milk. Add ⅛ teaspoon vanilla and fold slowly into 5 well beaten egg yolks, stirring until cool. Add ¼ pound macaroons crushed, ½ cup blanched almonds, 1 cup well drained pineapple chunks, and ¾ cup raisins, and fold in 5 stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into mold and chill until firm. This will serve 12.

A DESSERT THAT BRINGS FAR EAST TOUCH TO TABLE

You'll bring a novel touch of the far east to the table when you introduce this spicy Arabian dessert to your guests. It's made with peaches, cinnamon, and cloves and molded in colorful orange flavored gelatin.

ARABIAN PEACH MOLD.
[Serves 6.]

- ¾ cup peach juice
- ¼ cup vinegar
- ⅓ cup sugar
- 12 cloves
- 1 stick cinnamon
- 1 cup canned sliced peaches
- 1 package orange flavored gelatin

Combine peach juice, vinegar, sugar, cloves, and cinnamon and bring to a boil. Add peaches and let simmer 10 minutes. Remove peaches from the sirup. Strain the sirup and add water to make 2 cups. Dissolve gelatin in hot liquid. Arrange peach slices in individual molds. Cover them with the cooled gelatin. Chill until firm and unmold. Serve on dessert plates or in sherbet glasses.

RHUBARB CHIFFON TARTS ARE FULL OF SPRING SPIRIT

As full of the spirit of spring as a May day dance are these dainty little rhubarb chiffon tarts. They're good and not too frothy—the whole family will like them.

RHUBARB CHIFFON TARTS
[8 tarts]

- 2 pounds rhubarb
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 eggs, separated
- 8 baked tart shells

Cut rhubarb in 1 inch pieces; cook in top of double boiler until tender. Add no water. Add half the sugar to the well-beaten egg yolks and continue beating until thick. Fold in cooled rhubarb. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Add remaining ½ cup sugar, beating to make a meringue. Fold into rhubarb and egg yolk mixture. Turn into baked tart shells and bake in a slow [325 degrees] oven until set, about 20 minutes.

BAKED TART SHELLS
[8 shells]

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅔ cup shortening
- 5 tablespoons cold water [about]

Sift flour and salt together. Cut shortening into flour mixture. Add water, stirring only enough to moisten all dry ingredients. Roll thin, place in individual tart pans, and prick dough with fork. Bake in a hot [450 degrees] oven for 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool.

Water Is Important Link in Cooking Sausages

What's the best way to cook link sausage? If you'd have them whole skinned and juicy, put them in a cold skillet and cook them very slowly. It's a good idea to add several tablespoons of water to the pan and cover it, allowing the little sausages to steam for about five minutes. Any remaining water may then be poured off so that they will brown. Brown them slowly with frequent turning.

Clips, Brooches, Pins, Rings Take Extra Pennies

BY REA SEEGER.

Every extra penny these days goes for costume jewelry . . . telling trifles that make the simplest jacket and skirt something distinctly individual. Clips, brooches, lapel pins, earrings, and necklaces teamed with bracelets are glittering highlights to accentuate sleek streamlines, not only of suits in wool and silk, but daytime dresses.

New this spring are the silver metal creations with extremely modest price marks; earrings that are small leaves exquisitely copied in companion clips and even bracelets; unusual clips in shell shape with a small crab; realistic silver metal orchids and other flowers; a long clip copying three or four ostrich plumes tied with a bow. These pieces are exquisite, the originals designed for well known movie stars . . . and silver is high fashion for spring as it goes with every color promotion.

Earrings are getting a tremendous play. Dainty little affairs are made of realistic colored enamel, tiny hyacinth blossoms, wee pansies and violets each with leaves in green for contrast.

The romantic bow knot clips that went over so effectively some weeks ago have returned in smaller sizes and with lower price marks. Chartreuse green, bonbon pink and blue, sugar white and gleaming black enamel are used together with plenty of small winking rhinestones.

A few bracelets to match are made of three or four bow knots strung on a small fine chain. The clips are ideal summer and spring pins to accent the necklines of prints, sheers, and pastels, or to pin thru the lapel of a summer suit.

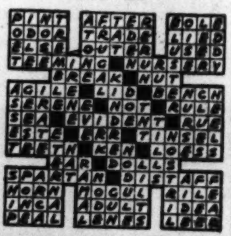
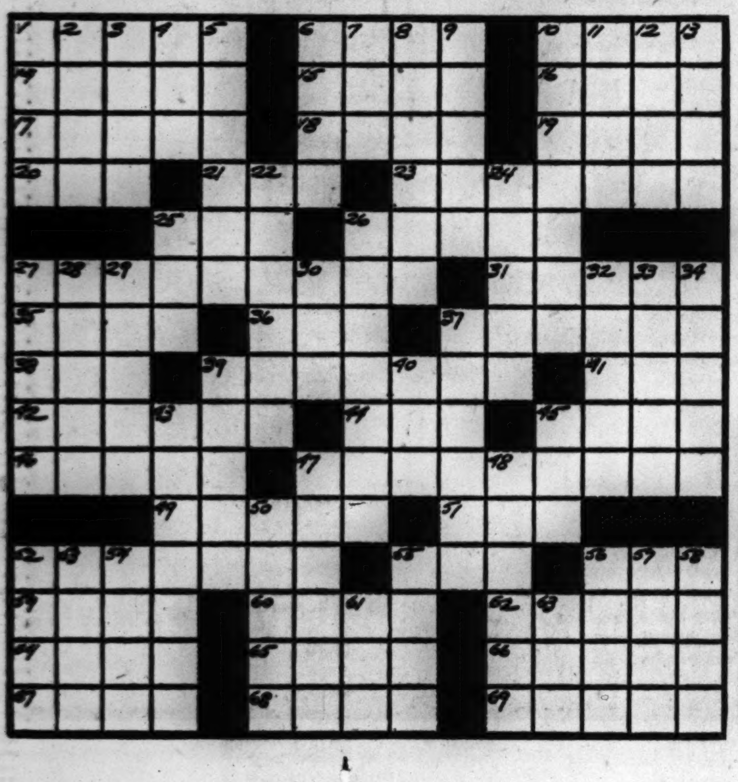
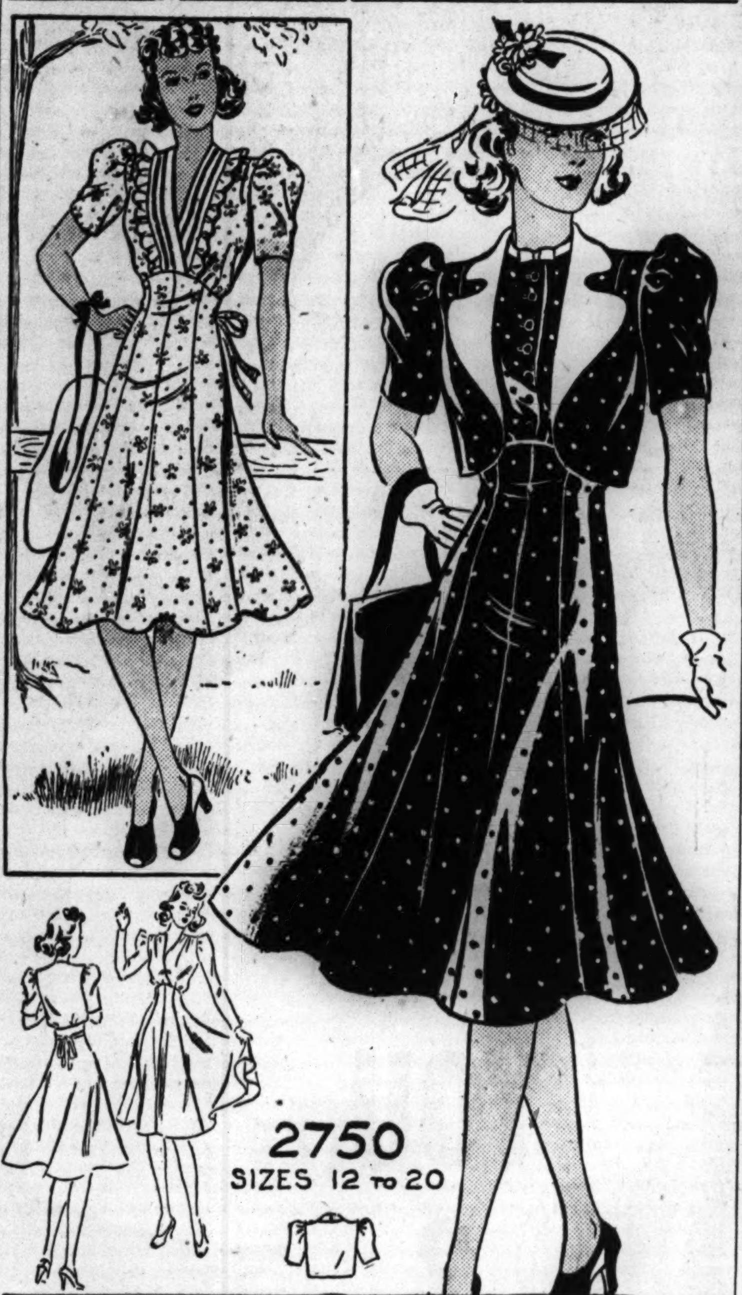
PUZZLE OF THURSDAY, APRIL 4, SOLVED





One-Piece Frock and Bolero



MISS' BOLERO FROCK.

The one-piece dress is attractive in itself, but the pattern provides a bolero to complete the costume. Unusual styling recommends this outfit to the discriminating. The waistline is high above the gored skirt, the sleeves puffed, either short or long, and the bodice variously styled. Two suggestions are illustrated. One has a V neckline with surplice front to contrast. The other has a high neckline with bound finish and tiny bow to match the lapels of the brief bolero.

Both silks and cottons make up well, in either plain or printed materials, dark or light.

Style No. 2750 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20. Size 16 requires 4⅝ yards of 39 inch material for dress and bolero, with ⅝ yard of contrasting; 3⅝ yards for dress, with ½ yard of contrasting.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Rap Traditional Schooling as Masterful Folly

Three educational leaders, speaking yesterday before the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, attacked conventional schooling methods as inadequate. One declared that traditional secondary school programs constitute "wasteful folly or even criminal misfeasance in the [teaching] profession."

While nearly 2,000 delegates in the Stevens hotel heard these attacks, the commission on institutions of higher learning, of which Dean A. J. Brumbaugh of the University of Chicago is secretary, added Mundelein college and eight other colleges to the association's list of accredited schools.

The most violent attack on traditional schooling was made by Thomas H. Briggs, professor of education at Columbia University Teachers' college. Briggs demanded radical reform of high school courses to give students better preparation for the problems which will confront them after graduation.

"Already we have developed a recognition of the inadequacy of a large part of the traditional program of secondary education," he said.

He urged that secondary school students be prepared for citizenship, taught how to study independently and to enjoy the best types of recreation which will be available to them after they leave school and given definite preparation for a vocation.

H. E. Hawkes, dean of Columbia college, Columbia university, quoted preliminary results of an eight year study of "progressive" schooling to show that graduates of such schools are superior to graduates of conventional schools.

Donald S. Bridgman of the personnel department of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, New York, told the meeting that industry wants graduates who have been taught to understand social problems and to build a philosophy of life as well as learn a profession.

"Without faith in man's search for personal integrity, the demands of men for their share in the fruits of civilization may lead to dictatorship rather than to the increase of freedom," Bridgman said.

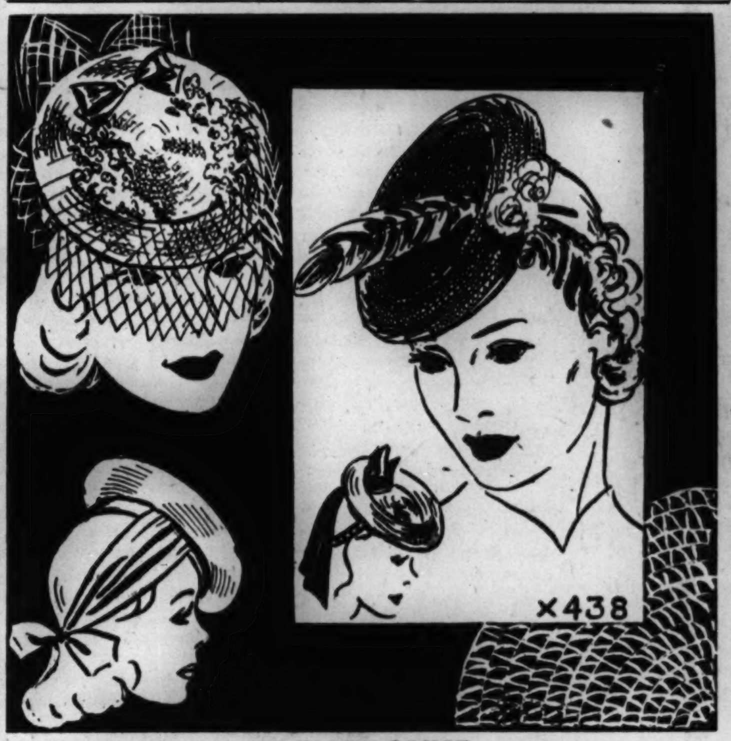
Version of French Sailor



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

A new version of the French sailor's hat is this pillbox number with its pert trimming on the crown. The feather may be substituted for a flippant ribbon or a gay bunch of flowers. It is a quick and easy crochet job and the hat is a type which is becoming to almost every one. Only four spools of guimpe are required, and carpet warp may be used for gay little summer headpieces.

For instructions in crocheting the French sailor hat, No. X-438, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

House of an Era.

Maurice Sterne, one of the best known living American artists, who with Edward Millman of Chicago and Emerton Heitland of New York is a juror for the International Water color show to be held at the Art institute late this month, returned to New York yesterday and to the house he is doing over at Mount Kisco. A place with beautiful grounds, magnificent trees, and a burbling brook on the property, Sterne, with the help of an architect, is effacing some of the ugliness of the house itself. It must have been a bootlegger's mansion, Sterne says, or a gangsters' hideout. He arrives at this conclusion not only because of its ugly pretentiousness, but because the windows are shattered, not in casual fashion as if from rocks thrown by small boys, but efficiently, as if the police had surrounded the place and shot their way in. Also, in one of the rooms upstairs there were hundreds of empty gin bottles.

Pineapple Picture.

When we last saw Maurice Sterne, before this visit to Chicago, it was in San Francisco when he was working in his studio there on murals for the Treasury building at Washington, D. C. He was to leave shortly for Honolulu to do some pictures for a pineapple company, which also has commissioned such artists as Georgia O'Keefe, Pierre Matisse, and Pierre Roy to do work. Like Miss O'Keefe, who overlooked the beauty of the pineapple in favor of the papaya (which might be considered a commercial rival) and later had to be sent a pineapple by air mail from the islands to New York to paint, Artist Sterne became enchanted with an island bower—the white bird of paradise.

• • •

It was only after he returned to New York that Sterne was haunted by the remembrance of the beauty of the pineapple, and that a picture took form in his mind—the picture of a brown skinned native child offering a pineapple to a white child, on a strip of beach. He vainly searched in the markets of New York for a Hawaiian pineapple to paint, but he could find only the smaller, less golden products of the West Indies. The pineapple company, which had paid his expenses to Honolulu to see growing pineapples, and commissioned him to paint a picture, sent him, by air mail, a plaster cast of a pineapple which he, sculptor that he is, promptly threw out of his studio. Finally, from some sketches he had made and from memory, he completed the picture. The painting he made in Honolulu of the white bird of paradise, with its pale blue blossom coming from a rosy heart, may be sent to a Chicago exhibition next autumn.

Soothing Reply.

It was at the Saturday matinée of Robinson Crusoe at the Goodman. The younger of two lads sitting next to Philip A. Grey fidgeted considerably and finally said petulantly, "I don't like this show."

Sir Adrian Boult's Letter.

Excerpt from a letter by Sir Adrian Boult, who conducted the Chicago Symphony orchestra at Ravinia last summer, from Bristol, England, to a Chicago friend:

Last week I went to Holland for one of the subscription concerts in Amsterdam. . . . The Dutch are courageously keeping up a peacetime atmosphere of brilliant lighting and all things looking just as usual, but there are many air raid shelters to be seen about the streets as in London or Bristol, and all their pictures have been hidden away. I am told, too, that Holland is as much an island as England. They have a wonderful defense in a big flooded area which is too shallow to sail over and too deep to send tanks and horses thru.

Some people, in particular an interested artist I was talking to at the Lucerne festival (it may have been Huberman or Rachmaninoff or possibly Casal—I have stupidly forgotten), place it among the first two or three great orchestras of the United States. I hope America, if it does not recognize it, soon will, he wrote.

Thousands upon thousands of women have now learned to use a sensational, scientific discovery for hygienic purposes. This boon to womankind is not a poison, yet actually kills germs at contact. It is called Zonite, and its action is amazing when used for feminine hygiene. It instantly kills germs and bacteria on contact, yet it is proved safe—will not harm delicate tissues. And Zonite deodorizes—assures daintiness. Helps keep one fresh, clean and pure. So successful has Zonite been that over 20,000,000 bottles have already been used. Get Zonite from your druggist today. It's surprisingly easy and economical to use. Ideal for feminine hygiene. Follow the simple directions and enjoy proved hygienic protection that you may never have known before.

The Housewife

Have you seen the delightful table centerpieces of a material that looks like porcelain and that is delicately colored and fashioned in the forms of flowers? Low containers hold these little "English gardens," and they come in various sizes for a table desk, a lamp table, or living room table, or for the center of the dining table. We liked best an exquisite cluster of lifelike apple blossoms. There were, as well, large and small water lilies and tiny flowers that looked like tulips.

Piatigorsky's Cello Sings in Stock Concerto

BY EDWARD BARRY.

"He gets bigger every year," said the lady in the next seat last night as Gregor Piatigorsky, after ducking thru the door that leads out onto the stage of orchestra hall, drew himself up to his full eight feet [more or less] and faced the house. The purpose of this visit of the giant Russian cellist was to make his 13th appearance with the Chicago Symphony orchestra and to play Frederick Stock's concerto under the composer's own direction.

This he did in a manner which emphasized once again his phenomenal technique and his ability to make the cello, on occasion, sing with a heart storming intensity and beauty of tone, but which did not render the concerto completely comprehensible to an Elmo Dullard like the writer of this review. Perhaps this is recondite music which requires several hearings before its mysteries stand revealed—or perhaps last night's performance was of an unusually static quality and failed to exploit to the full the musical and emotional momentum which the concerto doubtless possesses.

At any rate only the second movement, with its gently curving lyric themes, shone with a steady, lovely light of its own. The first and third [to change the metaphor once again] sounded labored and difficult in spots.

Preceding the concert was a miscellaneous program in which the symphonic suite, "Evocations," by the important living Swiss composer, Ernest Bloch, came to its first Chicago performance. This serious, introspective music, full of the sturdy almost grim—integrity which is a characteristic of its creator, was plausibly presented and made a good impression.

The evening featured also the annual presentation of Beethoven's fifth symphony. Mr. Stock and his men gave the work's lines a spacious sort of grandeur and its surfaces a subdued richness of color. That was an overwhelmingly beautiful treatment of the last movement's triplet theme.

Skirts Shorter, Shorts Longer, Fashion Edict

BY JUDITH CASS.

THOSE smart career girls who compose the membership of the Fashion Group have rung the bell again and have given THE best fashion show of the year. It isn't surprising, of course, for the organization, which is a "noncommercial one of women professionally engaged in the field of fashion in all its aspects," should be tops in putting on a fashion show. Just the same, it is a distinct pleasure to be able to record that the Fashion Group's third annual show yesterday was a knockout, to express it tersely if not too elegantly.

The show was given following luncheon in the Gold ballroom of the Congress hotel. The choice of a place was brilliant, for the mirrors around the walls of the room reflected to great advantage the stunning models as they walked up and down the runway. Consequently, no one had a bad seat.

Political Theme Rules Naming of Costumes.

Before the show started this reporter thought that the models on the runway couldn't be any more attractive and smart than were the costumes of the several hundred women who poured into the ballroom. We were wrong, however, for only the hats of the audience held up when compared with the nominations sponsored by the Fashion Group for this spring.

It would be difficult for a woman on a cold and blowy April day, however, to wear the sort of spring suits and gowns that were displayed in the show. Impossible, as a matter of fact, unless she wanted to be laid up with pneumonia the next day.

It won't be long, tho, before spring really will be here and then without a doubt we shall see the women who saw yesterday's show appearing in the "dark horses," or "bodies politic," approved by the fashion experts. They did not deviate from the political theme once and their show portrayed Basic Principles with subheads entitled The Youth Movement, Body Politic [long torso], The Upper Half [bloused silhouette], and The Vanishing American [silver silhouette]; Hems and Haws [not from the Congressional Record]; Dark Horses; Another County Heard From; Landslide [the people's choice], and Planks in Our Platform. The last named part replaced the bride and her attendants that have ended every other fashion show we ever attended. Praise be for something new under the sun!

Skirts Are to be Shorter and Shorts Longer.

Skirts 18 inches from the floor are the Fashion Group's recommendation, with the precaution added that this is not an arbitrary rule, for the length of a skirt must depend somewhat upon the height of the wearer and upon the sort of legs she has. Having seen girls with all sorts of underpinnings in the briefest of shorts this winter in Florida, we welcomed the group's edict that shorts, to be smart, must be longish, just a bit above the knee. A pretty bride-to-be, Miss Joeine Norcott, modeled the only pair of shorts displayed yesterday.

Miss Nancy-Leigh Bowes and Miss Mary Alice Bacon were the only other nonprofessional mannequins. Miss Bowes, lovely as always in a white tulle ball gown, and Miss Bacon in an exquisite pale apricot lingerie evening gown with gladioli the same color in her blonde hair. A huge gardenia was tucked into Miss Bowes' dark hair.

The Fashion Group show is informal enough so that when the "mike" went temperamental and made the announcer's voice sound as if she stuttered, it did not detract in the slightest from the success of the affair. The only criticism heard was from those who had midafternoon appointments and they wished the show had started earlier, for they hated missing any of it.

Even Men Are Noted Among Feminine Spectators.

Some of those who enjoyed the luncheon and show were Mrs. Farwell Winston, Mrs. John C. Murphy, Mrs. John L. Cochran, Mrs. Ambrose C. Cramer, Mrs. Henry Faurot Jr., Mrs.

Flowers Must Be White This Spring, It Seems

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Greatest Show on Earth, Et Cetera.

Dayton, O., April 4.—Spring is in rehearsal on a stage that stretches from Maine to California. . . . I watched one of the rehearsals last night from my room at the Van Cleve hotel. . . . It was staged against a blue backdrop and it was thrilling. . . . At the signal of an unseen conductor there was a crash of thunder that shook the earth and split the sky gutturally. . . . And just as the first deep boom of the percussion section of the orchestra died away the spotlight man gashed the blue sky with lightning. . . . It was an incredible zigzag lighting effect. . . . It danced across the sky in the twisting pattern of a conga chain, from stage right to stage left, and as it made its exit the orchestra clashed its cymbals, the brasses brayed, the woodwinds moaned deeply, and the earth trembled at the orchestral impact. . . . The timing was perfect.

Like most rehearsals, this one continued far into the night. . . . They tried it over and over. . . . First thunder. . . . Then the lightning. . . . Then the sound effects man was given his innings with wind and rain and sudden pelting showers. . . . The stagehands should have been given a fat fee for overtime. . . . I saw them setting the stage for hours, moving a cloud here, extinguishing a star there, ejecting an inquisitive moon that occasionally struggled thru the backstage tangle to watch the rehearsal. . . . Then, at dawn, every one went home, and when the sun came up the tired white clouds were sleeping on the bosom of the sky and the moon had gone to a theatrical boarding house to refresh herself for the next rehearsal.

There is no doubt that spring is the greatest show on earth. . . . The set decorators already are tinting the leaves of trees that have been in warehouses all winter. . . . The sound effects man has gone up in the mountains to turn on the faucets of brooks and rivers which will babble in the lobby. . . . The birds are rehearsing for their first entrance, a chorus number that will top even Phil Spitalny's girl choir. . . . Timed to a split second, the buds of bushes and trees will unfold in a harmony of

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

Just wishing never did a single thing to transform dry, ugly hair into the traditional crowning glory. But it seems to us that there's far more conversation than action about it; nine out of every 10 women we run into bewail the dryness, but blessed few of them ever DO anything about it.

For those who are willing to do something more constructive than complain there is a wonderful little beauty bargain available these days in the shape of an ensemble of four fine preparations specially created for the treatment of extremely dry hair.

With these you can put yourself on a sound, simple corrective program. For instance, there is an oil, which should be heated and applied to the hair and scalp about an hour before shampooing. Then there is a shampoo—a rich oil and soap combination that cleanses marvelously and leaves the hair lustrous. After the shampoo, you can use a special scalp cream, applying it when the hair is about half dry. Just a tiny bit of this is applied—and then you brush, and the hair specialist who makes this insists that you brush UP!

For use between shampoos on your bone dry hair there is an unusual preparation—a luster oil—that is used sparingly when you brush. It calls up the gloss like nothing we've ever seen before!

And that's all you need. It's no complicated business at all, just the use of a couple of things now and then. The luster of your hair will come back in no time.

These preparations are in three ensembles: One for prematurely gray hair, one for brunette or auburn, and the third for blonde or white.

Etchers' 30th Annual Show Fine as Usual

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The 30th annual exhibition by members of the Chicago Society of Etchers has just opened at the Roullier galleries, Fine Arts building. It is an attractive show, filled with intriguing prints. This is one of the annual exhibitions that invariably fulfills the hopes of those who anticipate its coming.

The current edition is as fine as any which have preceded it. There is a variety of subject matter and a variety of technique—in fact "etching" covers now some six different ways in which to achieve a fine print.

Several prizes are awarded in this exhibit. A new prize, given anonymously, for imagination and technique, went to "Davey Jones' Locker" by Margaret Ann Gaug, an undersea fantasy. The Chicago Society of Etchers prize was given to the beautiful "Penitente Prayer" by Gene Kloss. The Charles Muller Purchase prize was awarded to an aquatint, "Morning Light, the Great Smoky Mountains," by F. Leslie Thompson.

At the Tudor gallery, Chicago Woman's club, 72 East 11th street, an exhibition of sculpture by Warner Williams has opened to continue thru April. It is a delightful exhibit. Mr. Williams has succeeded in transforming sculpture into something warm, likable, and livable. These portraits of children in bas-relief are as intriguing as any we have found upon canvas.

The head of Conner Newman, carved from white marble, is exquisite. Among the older sitters Mr. Williams has met, too, with great success. The portrait of Wayman Adams, that of Dr. Irving S. Cutter, of Felix Borowski, and of Elizabeth Orton Jones are outstanding as portraits and as works of art. They are sensitive, direct, thoughtful, and creative. The people come alive as one looks at them—this is portraiture carried to a high peak of satisfaction; it is creative art at its best.

One must walk up an entirely different flight of stairs to catch the significance of the April exhibit in the Katherine Kuh gallery, 540 North Michigan avenue. Here is painting by Robert Jay Wolff and your guess is as good as mine as to what his ultimate goal may be. At the moment he seems to be probing the mysteries of color and formless rhythm; it seems to us it might be better were he to transfer to another line of thought but, for those who like the abstract, Wolff sets a fairly full table—with scratches and everything.

It is unique, this annual show, in that it never lacks for a backer, it always wins rave reviews from the aisle sitters, and it plays ever to packed houses. . . . It has no competition: Not even "Gone with the Wind" cuts into its attendance. . . . It needs no master of ceremonies, and it plays on a "grind" policy, that is, continuously. . . . It has no particular hero, no particular villain, and it contradicts Shakespeare's dictum that the play is the thing because it has no plot. . . . It has occupied the same theater for centuries, and it was the first air conditioned theater of all.

◆

The cast is not culled from Actor's Equity or Screen Actors' Guild. . . . The actors are birds and bees, chickens and ducks, dogs and cats, horses, donkeys. . . . Love scenes are played by boys and girls and their elders. . . . The colors range from the white birches of Maine, the magnolias of South Carolina, the mint of Kentucky, to the golden oranges of California. . . . The theater is perfumed with a variety of fragrances and scents, one more appealing than the other. . . . The prop men tie apples on trees and hang grapes and cherries from vines and limbs. . . . Out of the damp, good earth blossom the reds and greens and yellows and violets that form the theater carpet. . . . On western plains, wild flowers suddenly glow to life, and in the hills bears stretch their arms and demand breakfast after a slumber that would rival the repose of old Rip Van Winkle. . . . The sun arises early to sweep the ice from lakes so that assistant property men can crowd blue surfaces with canoes.

◆

It is a huge theater, yet every seat is equally good. . . . The poor get the same accommodations as the wealthy at this particular show and there are no ticket "specs." . . . It is the one stage on which you see no microphones. . . . It is the one program on which are uttered no commercials. . . . The big red letters on the box spell SPRING. . . . It is a program on which every one shares in the pot of gold without the lottery identification of a telephone book. . . . No matter how often it plays, it is ever new and the only ad libs are April showers, the sudden song of a thrush, or the noise of a dog barking at the moon.

◆

Lacking every type of act that other revues rely upon, this annually is the greatest show on earth because it sends you out with a song on your lips, a lilt in your heart, a new sparkle in your eyes. . . . It is infinitely thrilling, this super-super-colossal production of God, Inc. . . . There are no cues, no introductions, no Joe Miller jokes. . . . It just happens.

Frank Hibbard, whose turban was trimmed with red roses; Mrs. Frank A. Lagorio, with blush pink roses nodding on her hat; her daughter, Miss Carlotta; Mrs. Silas H. Strawn, with a deep yellow corsage matching the birds and flowers that trimmed her hat; Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland, Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, Mrs. James A. Cathcart, with tiny red berries and white flowers on her hat; Mrs. Roger Faherty and Mrs. John L. Irving in a perky white sailor with two black quills and a black veil trimming it.

Also Mrs. Gordon Loud, in a geranium red hat; Mrs. John W. Gary, Mrs. John C. Pitcher, Mrs. Walter B. Wolf, Mrs. Chrystal Knutson, Mrs. George A. Ranney, Mrs. Kenneth Parker, Mrs. Thomas H. Heed, Mrs. Lucius A. Crowell, Mrs. Herbert Kohler, Mrs. Inez Stark, in a stunning black and white printed turban with gloves to match; Mrs. Kenath Sponsel, Mrs. Fred Herendeen, Mrs. Horace Wetmore, Mrs. Leander McCormick, Mrs. Hermon Chor, Mrs. Chauncey B. Blair, Mrs. Frank C. Gordon, Mrs. Eugene Howard, Mrs. Robert White, and Nathaniel Owings, Frank Breckinridge, and several other brave men.

Dinner Parties to Precede Christopher House Benefit.

Dozens of dinner parties have been planned for tonight on the north shore to precede a benefit in the Country Club of Evanston for Christopher House. Cornelia Otis Skinner will give a program of monodramas. Among the boxholders are the John H. S. Lees, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Dawes, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Slade, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Walrath, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Louis, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Tyler. A group of sub-debs will usher. William A. Marriott of Wilmette is president of the board of the settlement house, and Mrs. Charles M. Hardin of Evanston is general ticket chairman of the benefit.

John A. Stevenson, who will address members of the English Speaking union at a luncheon meeting at 12:30 o'clock today at the Palmer House, is arriving this morning from Ottawa, Canada. He will attend the luncheon with Mrs. John Crerar and will be the week-end guest of Mrs. William G. Hibbard in Winnetka while he is here. Mr. Stevenson, who is Canadian correspondent for several American newspapers, will speak on "Canada in Her Second European War." At the speakers' table will be George Spaulding, acting president, and Mrs. Spaulding; the Herbert Bradleys, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Hecht Jr., and the Alan Dixons.

Mrs. Ryerson Jr. Hostess at Cliff Dwellers Tea.

Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson Jr. will be hostess at the Cliff Dwellers tea following the concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra this afternoon. Assisting her will be Mrs. John P. Murphy, Princess Rostislav, and Mrs. Arthur G. Cable.

An exhibition of portraits and other paintings by Alice Mason will open with a tea at the Cordon club this afternoon and will be shown until April 30. Mrs. Mason will decorate the tea table.

Tea will be served from 4 to 5 o'clock at the Chicago College club.

When the world's fair of 1940 opens in New York on May 11 one of the chief points of interest will be the American Art Today building which will house Mrs. James Ward Thorne's collection of miniature rooms. The exhibit, which met with such success at the San Francisco fair last year, is composed of typical rooms of various periods arranged in chronological order. The highlight of the exhibit is a miniature church, completely furnished, even to an organ, which fills the arches with music.

This exhibition will be held thru April 21 at 840 North Michigan avenue.

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: Here is a bridge hand demonstrating a point of psychology [or something] that I do not recall having seen discussed in your column:

South, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 spade	Pass
1 no trump	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

"Sitting West, I chose the queen of diamonds as my opening lead. East played the seven spot and South the three spot, whereupon I continued with the deuce. East went up with the ace and returned the six spot. After some hesitation, South produced the ten spot, which I took with the jack.

"On the second and third leads spades were discarded from dummy, indicating to me that my spade holding offered little hope of reëntry. Therefore, seeing no future in setting up my nine of diamonds, and hoping partner might have some tricks in hearts or clubs, I laid down the heart jack. Declarer went up with the king, finessed clubs correctly, and took two spades, two hearts, four clubs and one diamond for his contract.

"Upon consulting the score sheet we discovered that three no trump had been defeated at three of the nine tables. South admitted that, had I led the fourth round of diamonds, knocking out his king, he would have finessed clubs the other way to keep me out of the lead, and would have lost to East's queen. We then would have collected a heart for the setting trick.

"I give South credit for a superb bit of card reading in his deduction that my failure to clear the diamonds argued against my having the club queen. Would an expert in my position foresee just that possibility and continue with the diamonds?

"J. N. M., Missouri."

The question whether or not to shift leads after one's own hand has become barren of entries depends squarely on an analysis of the cards that partner can be reasonably expected to hold. In this case, with the ace-king of both majors and the king-ten of clubs in sight, West could be reasonably certain that no shift could benefit East. If, by chance, East had the ace-queen of clubs [a very remote contingency] he certainly would make those cards without any special effort on West's part. Surely South could not take six tricks in hearts. If East had a heart and a club stopper, there would be no need for West to lead the heart because, in that case, declarer would not have been able to run nine tricks until he had knocked out both stoppers, and this would leave the defenders with five tricks. Thus, since there was no good to be expected from a shift, it goes without saying that West should not have shifted, since to do so would reveal his own weakness. Naturally, all of this analysis must be made in the flash of an eye, else an astute declarer can read one's mind, and once he knows that a defender is continuing to lead a suit merely for lack of something better to do, the finessing problems are virtually solved.

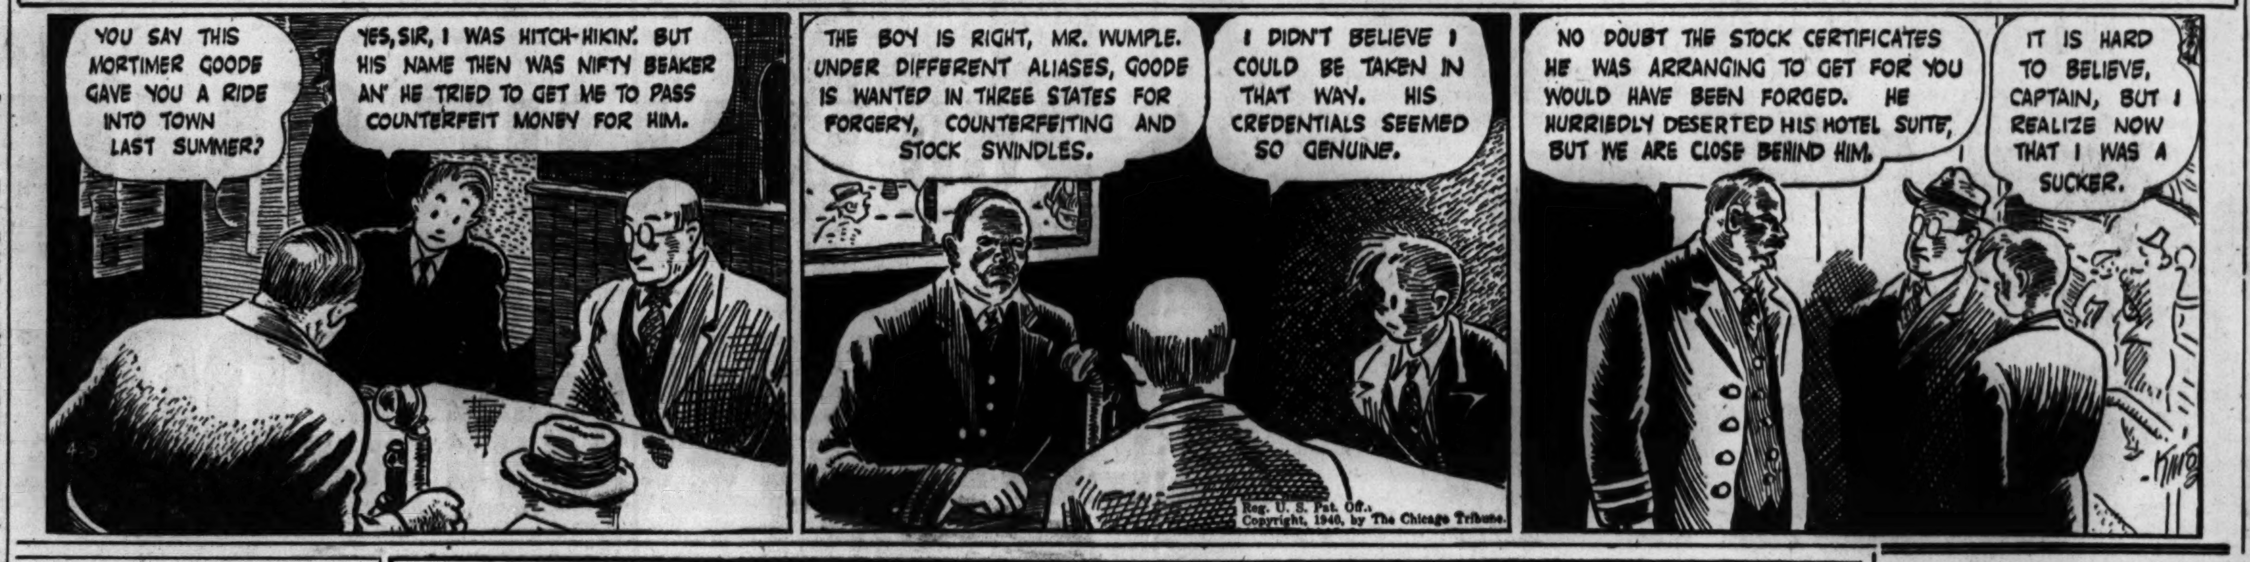
GASOLINE ALLEY — JUSTICE STEAMS UP



YOU SAY THIS MORTIMER GOODE GAVE YOU A RIDE INTO TOWN LAST SUMMER?
YES, SIR, I WAS HITCH-HIKIN'. BUT HIS NAME THEN WAS NIFTY BEAKER AN' HE TRIED TO GET ME TO PASS COUNTERFEIT MONEY FOR HIM.
THE BOY IS RIGHT, MR. WUMPLE. UNDER DIFFERENT ALIASES, GOODE IS WANTED IN THREE STATES FOR FORGERY, COUNTERFEITING AND STOCK SWINDLES.
I DIDN'T BELIEVE I COULD BE TAKEN IN THAT WAY. HIS CREDENTIALS SEEMED SO GENUINE.
NO DOUBT THE STOCK CERTIFICATES HE WAS ARRANGING TO GET FOR YOU WOULD HAVE BEEN FORGED. HE HURRIEDLY DESERTED HIS HOTEL SUITE, BUT WE ARE CLOSE BEHIND HIM.
IT IS HARD TO BELIEVE, CAPTAIN, BUT I REALIZE NOW THAT I WAS A SUCKER.
King

Today's Radio Features

ON W-G-N.
[Central Standard Time.]

Musico, W-G-N's exciting radio game played by listeners as well as by those in the studio, will be broadcast from 8 to 8:30 p. m. Bill Anson, stage impersonator and entertainer, is master of ceremonies; the W-G-N dance orchestra under the baton of Harold Stokes provides the music, and Bob Elson is the announcer.

The Musical Powder Box, starring Eddy Howard, young singer and song writer, will be heard at 9:15 p. m. Featured on the quarter-hour musical program with Howard will be Lou Adrian's orchestra and Sydney, noted Hollywood makeup artist. The show is presented each Monday and Friday at the same hour.

At 7 p. m. Col. Lemuel Q. Stoopnagle will present another broadcast of his Quixie Doodle contest. The program, heard each Friday at the same hour, offers 30 minutes of catchy questions, short comical dramas, and a few of the Colonel's "Quixie Inventions" and "Daffynitions."

Marriage License Romances, conducted by Quin Ryan from the marriage license bureau of the county building, is scheduled at 2 p. m. The program offers amusing and interesting interviews with couples applying for their marriage certificates, and is presented each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 2 p. m.

Members of Woman's Aid to Demonstrate Activities

The Chicago Woman's Aid will demonstrate its activities at its annual Achievement day this afternoon at headquarters, 185 North Wabash avenue. A series of vaudeville sketches, written and enacted by members to illustrate their work, will be presented, and there will be exhibits. Mrs. Samuel E. Hirsch heads the organization.

PLAN A HEARTY, THRIFTY MEAL AROUND HEINZ COOKED SPAGHETTI!

Make Heinz Cooked Spaghetti a featured dinner in your home—at least once a week! This hearty, nourishing food with its tangy sauce of red-ripe tomatoes and snappy cheese is all ready to heat and serve. It's delicious alone or mixed with leftover meats. Better keep a few tins handy for time-and-money-saving meals.

EUROPEAN BOXERS OPEN CHICAGO WORKOUTS

Knott Is Hammered for Nine Runs.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lubbock, Tex., April 4.—Jack Knott, one of the established members of the White Sox staff, was just an old pal when he met up with the Pittsburgh Pirates today. Knott was treated most royally, the upshot of it all being a 10 to 9 trimming for the Sox in the opening number of an eight game exhibition series with the National leaguers.

Ted Lyons.

Knott was one of three pitchers used by Acting Manager Muddy Ruel, but not much of importance happened while two others were in service. First, there was Ted Lyons, who, after yielding one run and three hits in four innings, decided his 39 year old arm had done enough. Knott came next and the four subsequent innings were alive with base hits. To be exact, he yielded an even dozen hits for nine runs. This mauling took away a slim lead given to him by Lyons and another which his mates built up by touching off a six run blast in his behalf in the fifth. Vallie Eaves pitched the ninth and subdued the Pirates without trouble.

McNair Returns Too Soon.

Eric McNair, who has seen more idleness than work this spring because of arm trouble, was back on third base for the Sox, but to all appearances his vacation should have been prolonged. He was guilty of two bad throws across the infield, one of them bringing on a two run affair by which the Pirates tied the score at eight apiece in the seventh. However, one other member of the Sox ensemble shaded McNair in the blunder column. Don Kolloway, the kid second sacker, collected three errors. But the Pirates as a whole exceeded this total, their miscues numbering no fewer than six.

The Sox did all their heavy scoring during the term of Johnny Gee, the 6 foot 9 inch southpaw. They were gentle with him for the first four innings, scoring only twice. But in the fifth they began to wait him out. In this way they collected three passes, and among the free tickets were sprinkled a double by Mike Kreevich, a single by Taft Wright, and a single by Knott, the latter hit being off John Lanning, who came in to rescue the giant man. This activity netted six runs, but thereafter the Sox were subdued by Lanning and Dick Lanahan.

Lyons' Bat Scores Two.

Gustine fumbled Appling's grounder to open the second, and Luke expired stealing after a foul had retired Wright. McNair then walked and moved to third on Turner's double to left. Lyons [illegible] McNair and Turner scoring. Kolloway flied to Rizzo.

Lyons asked for trouble in the third and the Pirates accommodated. The veteran's usually unerring aim deserted him momentarily and he walked Gee and Handley. Fletcher singled to center, filling the bases with none out. Vaughan flied to Wright, and Gee set sail for home, but was thrown out by Wright's throw to Turner. Rizzo singled to center, and Handley scored. Further distress for Lyons was avoided when Kreevich tracked down a line drive by Van Robays.

Knott went in to pitch in the fifth and recorded an out for a starter, but things began to pop immediately. Fletcher tripled to right center and scored on Vaughan's double in the same direction. Vaughan cantered home on Rizzo's single. Van Robays

FIRST RUNS OF SMELT REPORTED IN CHICAGO AREA

BY BOB BECKER.

The first Lake Michigan smelt runs of the year in the Chicago area have been reported by four fishermen who dipped these slim, silvery fish early this week. The number of smelt making their appearance close to the shore of the southern part of the lake is small compared to the tremendous schools of these fish which move out of the big water into the various rivers and creeks 300 miles north of Chicago. But it's interesting to all fishermen that during the last two seasons some of the Lake Michigan smelt have been caught in what is practically Chicago's front yard.

The Chicago fishermen who caught the smelt were Verner Rydell, Edward Bergstrom, Carl Ringman, and Ervin Scherer, all of whom live on the south side. They fished from a launch in the vicinity of 101st street near the inlet to the Calumet river. They have been fishing every evening for more than a week, but failed to catch a smelt until early this week when warm weather prevailed. Tuesday night they dipped about 10 pounds of fish by means of a dip net attached to a pulley on their launch. Wednesday night the haul totaled 26 pounds of smelt in an hour and half. A 3 pound northern pike also was caught.

Looking for Place to Spawn.

The smelt caught by the Chicago men undoubtedly are looking for a place to spawn. Their habit is to stay in the large body of water until early spring, then migrate up the small rivers. The fish caught last spring were taken in approximately the same location, and a few were dipped from Lake Calumet on Chicago's south side. The lake is connected with Lake Michigan by means of the Calumet river.

Until a few years ago no one had discovered smelt close to the shores in the southern part of the lake. Millions of the fish are taken by hand nets and mechanically operated dip nets in the northern half of Lake Michigan, and in a few years they may be numerous enough to take in small nets here. At the present, however, it is almost impossible to dip smelt in big numbers from the shore near Chicago, altho some fish can be taken near shore by large nets dropped from the sides of a boat. The net used by Rydell and the other Chicago anglers is about 8 feet in diameter.

Caught on Hook and Line.

Last spring some Chicago anglers caught smelt by means of hook and line, one fisherman reporting that he had taken more than 100 of them by using angleworms on a fly rod. Some fishermen in Waukegan, North Chicago, and other towns along the north shore also were able to catch the smelt early in the spring by using small minnows as bait.

Lessons We Learn.

Sometimes the tasks of every day
Become a dull routine,
And often one rebels and longs
For something unforeseen.
When suddenly an accident
Or illness comes along
Anxiety and grief prevails
As everything goes wrong.
The little tasks of yesterday
That once seemed such a bore
Become imbued with grace and charm
We never saw before.
And so we wish them back again
These hours of dull routine;
We learn how much they mean.

In silent splendor as befits their post,
Stand these bronze giants at the door of Art;
From all the restless throng of passersby,
Strangely aloof, and yet so much a part.
Their steady eyes thru endless days have seen
The flood of mortal kind that presses by;
Some with reluctant feet to toilsome tasks,
Some whose ambitions keep the head held high.
Whose quest for beauty turns their footsteps there,
To linger where some master's touch has left
His soul in sculpture, or in paintings rare.
O, could the hand that gave these watchers form
Breathe into bronze the golden gift of speech,
What story stranger than in fiction spun
Could they not tell, and lofty moral preach.
And oft, when nameless fear tugged at my heart,
I've paused, their stately presences to note,
While voices whispering of Faith and Hope

MANGRUM LEADS MASTERS' GOLF ON RECORD 64

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Augusta, Ga., April 4.—Lloyd Mangrum, an imminent visitor to Chicago, today prepared a small gift for his arrival in that town within the next week. It was just a little thing, a petite 64, eight under par for the Augusta National Golf club, two under the course record, and three better than his competitors in the first round of the seventh annual masters' tournament.

Lloyd Mangrum.

The 25 year old Texan, who shortly will report to the Oak Park Country club to Dick Metz, late this afternoon climaxed the greatest assault on records in the history of major golf competition. Every round mark the game has ever seen from a scoring standpoint fell as swiftly as a southwest breeze was flicking the wisteria blossoms off the gnarled trees on the National course.

Demaret Does Bit of Shooting.

One hour before Mangrum, a slender gent with a wisp of a mustache, came up with his brace of 32s, another Texan, James Demaret of Houston, had done a bit of shooting himself. Demaret was out in 37, but then his putter started to crackle with all of the fury of a Texas norther, and he scorched the last nine with a 30, wrought of six birdies and three pars.

These performances, typical of the scoring barrage American golfers have been firing for last few years, have been firing for the last few years, leagues. The best previous 18 hole score on the circuit was made by Henry Cotton, the glamorous Englishman who fired a 65 in the 1933 British open. The best single nine in medal play ever scored before Demaret went to work was a 31, shot by Willie MacFarlane in the second round of the 1925 American open in Worcester, Mass.

Previous Record is 66.

The previous course record for the Augusta National was 66, held jointly by Byron Nelson and Gene Sarazen. Today's first expedition into the 72 hole wilderness of one of golf's most difficult journeys showed eleven men breaking par and four others equaling it, out of a field of 58.

Among those who DID NOT break par was Robert Tyre Jones Jr., who used to have many of the gents in this field under his golfing thumb. Bobby, No. 1 reason for the Masters' tournament again made his only competitive appearance of the season by shooting a 40—39—79. Only his chipping rescued him from an 80 or worse. He was obviously bothered by bursitis in the left shoulder which has been pestering him for three weeks. His partner, Ralph Guldahl

Chicago Golden Glovers Step Up Drills as Foemen Arrive

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Chicago's Golden Glove fighters hit just a bit harder, skipped rope just a bit livelier and looked just a bit grimmer as they went thru their workout yesterday in the Illinois Athletic club. There was good reason for their changed attitude—the arrival of the European champions. It brought home to them with a bang the fact that they have only a few more days to prepare for a battle with the toughest foes they've ever faced.

They'll look on all their previous bouts as tuneups when they get into the Stadium ring next Wednesday night for the International Golden Gloves matches. They'll be facing a squad of boxers who have been roughened and seasoned in many a campaign. All of the invaders have marched thru battle after battle in the boxing capitals of Europe. Some of them are veterans of International Golden Gloves competition also.

Fans Aren't Discouraged.

In the face of such formidable opposition, the followers of Chicago's boxers might well be apprehensive of the outcome. But they're counting on several qualities that they hope will bring their favorites out on top. They remember the spirit the youngsters showed in fighting their way up from a 6 to 2 disadvantage to earn an 8 to 8 tie in the Intercity matches in New York. They've admired the boxing skill the team has developed during the weeks of careful schooling under Head Coach Johnny Behr and his staff, Paddy Kane and Fred Caserio. And they know that, regardless of the odds, every boy on the Chicago squad has the nerve required to stand up and fight.

In addition to the arrival of their opponents there was still another reason why the boys went at their work with increased enthusiasm. The time is approaching for the coaching staff to reach a final decision on the makeup of the squad which will meet the Europeans. Only one boy in each of the eight weight divisions will get the assignment, which is one of the highest honors in Golden Gloves competition. It means that, whether they won championships or not, the coaches consider these eight to be the best of the 23,000 boys who started out so hopefully last January in the Golden Gloves elimination events.

Stinson Wants that Berth.

In all weight classes the struggle for places is going on vigorously. Harold Dade, flyweight champion, is getting some particularly tough competition from Sam Stinson. Tho Dade is an extremely clever boxer, Stinson's greater ruggedness and maturity may count in his favor, for the European flyweight, Guido Nardecchia, is sure to subject whoever meets him to a terrific battering at some stage of the bout. Stinson's most notable achievement this season was his second round knockout of the defending champion, Vic Saccoia, during the Golden Gloves tournament. His specialty is heavy body punching.

Dade is a boxer with plenty of class. He has speed, height, reach, and his timing is good. Tho he lost his Intercity match, the decision was so close that it might easily have gone the other way.

Joyce, Brown Are Dueling.

Jimmy Joyce and Ray Brown are waging a hard duel for the bantamweight assignment. Joyce, who is a cool headed, systematic boxer, had the upper hand when the training sessions were resumed, because of his Intercity victory, but Brown has given him plenty to worry about.

Tony Ancona's experience, backed by the prestige of two successive Golden Gloves championships, seems likely to earn him the lightweight assignment. Leon Haire has the inside track in the race among the featherweights. Savior Canadeo, captain of the squad and an intercity winner, is right in line for the welterweight job.

Jones May Move Up.

Anthony Jones, who fought so brilliantly in beating his New York welterweight opponent, may be moved up to the next heavier division. He is right on the middleweight borderline. James Richie continues to earn the approval of observers in his campaign for the lightweight assignment and Cornelius Young appears assured of the heavyweight place.

Anything may happen in the next few days, however, and the coaches are deferring their decision until each boy has had a chance to present all the evidence in his favor.

WAY BACK IN 1939 A. D.

Yes, it was a year ago that Europe's champions whipped Chicago's Golden Gloves representatives. Will Europe repeat? Will you be there? STARS OF THREE NATIONS AWAIT GOLDEN GLOVES

Mayor Kelly Extends City's Greetings.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

They came. They saw. And now the European Golden Gloves champions are prepared to conquer.

Fourteen days almost to the hour after they had left Rome, 5,690 miles away, the eight stars arrived in Chicago yesterday morning. By nightfall they had settled down to six days of strenuous training for the ninth International Golden Gloves matches in the Stadium on Wednesday.

It was a happy but dead serious band of athletes who elbowed their way thru a milling throng of welcomers in the Union station and hustled off to the Chicago Towers to establish headquarters. It had been a long, hard, and at times disagreeable journey thru the Mediterranean and across the Atlantic, especially for those of the party who are strictly landlubbers. But each had borne up without complaint, for to them this is the most significant Golden Gloves invasion since the series was originated by THE TRIBUNE in 1931.

A Great Day for Lajos.

Four of Chicago's prettiest Hungarian girls greeted Lajos Szigeti, the light heavyweight, as he stepped off the train. Their native Magyar costumes lent a touch of color to the ceremonies in the station, where Swedish, Italian, and Hungarian consulate committees welcomed the invaders. The boys smiled, acknowledged introductions, shook the hands of old acquaintances, and posed at length for a battery of photographers. But what they really wanted was a chance to work.

At 3 o'clock they got the opportunity when they rushed back from the city hall, where they had been officially greeted by Mayor Edward Kelly, to don boxing gloves for the first time since the elimination bouts in Rome on March 19. Each sparred two rounds with a corps of sparring partners provided by THE TRIBUNE.

The Mayor Greets Them.

"America likes sportsmen," the mayor told the boxers and officials of the International Boxing federation. "Sportsmen like America. We are glad to be able to entertain you and to be able to compete with you on a sporting basis, especially in these troubled times.

"We welcome you to Chicago and hope that you will leave us satisfied and pleased."

Oscar Soderlund of Stockholm, president of the International federation, responded to the mayor's greeting on behalf of the party. He said, in part: "We are more than happy to be here. Victory, of course, is our goal, but, more important is the fact that such competition as International Golden Gloves can be continued in spite of conditions in Europe. The whole world needs the type of sportsmanship taught by the coaches of the rival squads."

Guido Remembers Ellis.

Then the mayor shook hands with each of the boxers and the officials, who make up the party of 12. When he reached Guido Nardecchia, the Italian flyweight, he said:

"You're an annual traveler to the Golden Gloves wars, aren't you? Haven't they been able to find anybody to beat you?"

"Not in Europe," parried the little Roman in his stilted English, recalling by indirection that he had beaten Chester Ellis of Kansas City in last year's international matches.

OPEN PLAY IN NATIONAL TABLE TENNIS TODAY

Winner Will Have Claim to World Title.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 4 (AP).—Most of the world's top-notch table tennis players who aren't involved in Europe's war will begin play tomorrow afternoon in the tenth annual national tournament, to be climaxed Sunday night by the crowning of champions.

Since the war caused abandonment of the world tournament the winner here generally will be regarded as the best of all table tennis players. Almost 200 players have entered the tournament.

The men's singles competition will open tomorrow afternoon. Seeded No. 1 in that list is the defending national champion, Jimmy McClure of Indianapolis.

McClure Pairs with Schiff.

In the men's doubles McClure will play with Sol Schiff of New York, a former national champion. They are ranked only a step behind the defending doubles champions—Laszlo Bellak and Tibor Hazi of Budapest, Hungary.

Betty Henry, 17 year old South Bend girl, is top seeded in the women's singles since Miss Emily Fuller of Bethlehem, Pa., has given up the sport for a singing career. Miss Fuller won the title last year.

Chicagoans Ranked High.

Miss Green and Mildred Wilkinson of Chicago, defending champions, are seeded first in the women's doubles Miss Wilkinson and Vic Nordham of Chicago are rated tops in the mixed doubles.

Players in the boys' division have Charles Tichenor, fourteen year old Indianapolis youngster, to fear. He won the boys' title last year and is seeded No. 1.

The veterans, players who have hit the 35 year mark, will be headed by George Bacon Jr. of Pelham Manor, N. Y., and Morris Bernstein of Newark, N. J.

BUDWEISERS AND GILLS EACH WIN 3 AT RANDOLPH

The Budweisers maintained their one game margin over the Joseph L. Gills in the Randolph Bowling league last night by sweeping a series with the Nonebetters while the Gills were taking a set from the Wagner & Hansons. The Buds now have won 58 and lost 23, the Gills have a 57 to 24 record, and the third place Mineralites are 11 games behind the Gills. Ray Hultquist of Wagner & Hanson was high individual, putting together games of 269, 237, and 247 for 753.

Lone Hungarian Fighter Gets Flowery Greeting at Station

Lajos Szigeti, lone Hungarian member of the European championship Golden Gloves team, was one of the happiest of the lot as the squad left the Union station yesterday following the long trip from Italy. As Lajos left the train he was handed a huge bouquet bearing a card with the inscription in his native language "Isten hozot," which becomes "God brought you," when translated into English. The greeting was sent by Geroverlio Virhovey [Hungarian] club of Chicago, No. 503.

Szigeti's teammates—Guido Nardecchia, Ulderico Sergo, Federico Cortonesi, and Egisto Peire of Italy, and Eric Agren, Karl Noren, and Olle Tandberg of Sweden—also were greeted by delegations of Chicagoans whose ancestors had come from the nations the fighters represent.

These hard fighting young men have made the long journey confident of repeating Europe's victory of last year over Chicago's representatives in the ninth annual international Golden Gloves bouts in Chicago Stadium on Wednesday.

One of Szigeti's admirers in the crowd which met the boxers was Master Frank Balogh, 9 years old, who absented himself from school to be on hand.

Trainer Steve Klaus, who handled the European team in its 5 to 3 victory last spring, said the boxers lost a few pounds during the 12 day crossing, but since their arrival in New York on Tuesday they have regained this poundage.

The team and officials will be interviewed over radio station W-G-N tomorrow at 7:30 p. m.

All the fighters were in good spirits as they boarded a chartered bus for the Chicago Towers club in North Michigan avenue, which will be headquarters during their Chicago visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Einar Blomquist, aunt and uncle of Agren, who live at 1829 Summerdale avenue, exchanged greetings with their fighting nephew in the Towers club. Karl Ogren, 1930 Golden Gloves welterweight champion, is a brother of Eric.

Boxers and officials, most of whom have made the transoceanic trip before, recalled the exceedingly rough voyage they experienced on the crossing. They agreed George Strickler, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE correspondent with the team, making his first round trip on the ocean, was the only member of the contingent not upset by the high waves and the rolling motorship Vulcania.

In addition to Oscar Soderlund of Sweden, president of the International Boxing federation, officials include Count Gerardo di Leonardi, representing the Italian federation, and Arthur de Kankovszky, secretary and treasurer of the International Boxing federation. Count Alberto Maria del Bono, a lieutenant in the Italian army and former Davis cup tennis star, made the journey with his friend, Count Leonardi. Count del Bono is a nephew of Gen. Alberto del Bono, once head of the Italian army in Ethiopia.

Coach Klaus will have the fighters start roadwork in Lake Shore park playground at 7 o'clock this morning. He will be assisted by John Dolce, athletic director at Lake Shore playground.

Swedish Boxers to Be Guests at Banquet Tonight

The three Swedish members of the European Golden Gloves team—Heavyweight Olle Tandberg Welterweight Eric Agren, and Middleweight Karl Noren—will be honored tonight in the Swedish club, 1258 North La Salle street. A capacity crowd of 300 will attend the banquet, which will start at 8 o'clock. It is sponsored by the Swedish-American Athletic association with the coöperation of other Chicago Swedish organizations.

John Thunholm.

John G. Thunholm will be toastmaster. The program will open with music by the Melin-Romer post band of the American Legion. Then there will be several songs by the Svithiod Singing club. There will be brief talks by the three boxers and Oscar Soderlund of Stockholm, president of the International Amateur Boxing federation, who accompanied the squad to Chicago. Soderlund and the fighters will receive watches.

EUROPE'S BOXERS ARRIVE; START CHICAGO DRILLS

Two Boys Go Shopping.

The Swedish delegation was kept busy reading messages of welcome from various Swedish-American clubs and athletic associations thruout the middle west, but two, Eric Agren, the welterweight, and Olle Tandberg, three time heavyweight champion of Europe, found time to slip down to State street on a shopping expedition. Agren was in search of gifts to supplement the set of linen towels that had gotten him into difficulties with the custom officials. He was bringing them to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Carl Ogren, and had not deemed them of sufficient value to be declared.

Custom officials pointed out that Swedish linen is not every day towel material and what Eric carried was an especially excellent specimen. They assessed him 80 cents This was very amusing to Karl Noren, the Swedish middleweight, until he remembered he had forgotten to declare a tablecloth of the same material. He turned red, stood by while the officers prowled his bag, then paid 90 cents.

The team's first Chicago drill attracted a large throng to the Chicago Towers, but Trainer Steve Klaus ordered the gymnasium closed.

HELLENIC TEAMS OPEN NATIONAL MEET TONIGHT

Eight teams, half of the field entered in the tenth annual National Hellenic Invitational basketball tournament, will begin competition tonight in the Loyola University gymnasium.

St. Mary's of Akron, O., 1939 champion, will open defense of its title in the first game at 7 o'clock against Epsilon Pi fraternity of Denver. The champions return with practically the same lineup that won the title last year. The Denver quintet, Rocky Mountain district champion, has a record of 25 victories in 31 starts.

Holy Trinity of Pittsburgh, third place winners last year, and champions of the recent Sons of Pericles closed tournament, will encounter the Brill Uniforms of Milwaukee, the only undefeated team in the tournament, at 9 o'clock. The Milwaukee team has a record of 16 straight victories.

Landers Restaurant, one of the five Chicago teams entered, will face the Hellenics of Omaha at 8 o'clock. The final contest will bring together the Club Sar of Gary, and the Hellenics of Kankakee, Ill., at 10 o'clock.

First round games will be completed tomorrow afternoon. Quarter-finals will be played on Saturday night; semi-finals on Sunday afternoon, and the championship game at 8 o'clock Sunday night.

Loyola Freshmen Advance in C. Y. O. Basket Tourney

Loyola university's freshman basketball team last night advanced to the second round of the sixth annual Queen of Angels A. A. U. tournament in the Guild hall, 4412 North Western avenue, by defeating St. Columbanus, 1940 C. Y. O. champion, 19 to 17. In other games Grace Evangelical won from Gregory Sports shop, 22 to 20, and the 47th Ward Democrats triumphed over St. Hedwig orphanage, 45 to 41, in overtime.

IDAHO TAKES LEAD IN N. C. A. A. BOXING TOURNEY

Sacramento, Cal., April 4 (AP).—The University of Idaho, landing five of its eight men in tomorrow night's continued preliminaries and semifinals, tonight led the 18 institutions represented in the 1940 renewal of the national Collegegiate A. A. boxing tourney. Idaho won the recent Pacific coast intercollegiates. The University of Wisconsin, defending team champion, and Washington State college each brought four men thru as the field of 67 was reduced by nearly one-half.

Joyce Battles Castiglione in Eight Rounds

Willie Joyce, winner over Alexander Polus of Poland in the 1937 international Golden Gloves tournament, now one of the best professional lightweight boxers in the game, will seek to advance at the expense of Nick Castiglione of the Italo-American Youth organization in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue, tonight. The contest is set for eight rounds at 138 pounds.

Alex Veck, making his debut as a promoter, is arranging to handle a crowd of 2,000.

An eight round secondary feature will bring together Gene Spencer, South Chicago lightweight, and Phil Saeli of the northwest side. In a previous meeting in Hammond Feb. 12 Spencer was awarded a disputed decision over Saeli.

Lee, Cooper to Clash.

Indian Billy Lee, Milwaukee welterweight, and Jack Cooper of the south side will be opponents in an additional match of eight rounds. Cooper, who won the 1939 Illinois Athletic club amateur 147 pound title as Jack Carter, is undefeated as a professional.

A four round preliminary encounter will involve Steve Souris, Gary welterweight, and George Feltes, also of Milwaukee. Matchmaker Sam Ambruscato substituted Feltes for Bob Wilson after the latter asked to be excused because of illness. Paul Frazier and Carl Owens will meet in the four round opener.

Joe Dupont, city Golden Gloves featherweight titleholder, will be searching for his third consecutive victory in a five round contest against Robert Earl of Morgan Park in Madison Athletic club, 4711 Madison street, this evening. . . . Harold Rodie, south side amateur middleweight, and Erik Hanson will meet in a five round event in Chicago Towers club, 505 North Michigan avenue, tonight. . . . After appearing as a referee in White City tonight, Barney Ross will leave for a vacation in Waukesha, Wis.

Promoter Irving Schoenwald yesterday decided to conduct a show in the Coliseum April 26. Three matches of 10 rounds will head the card. Principals likely will be Wild Bill Boyd and Henry Wacker, Roscoe Toles and Lem Franklin, and Pete Lello and Billy Marquart. . . . Bill Rand, Chicago Stadium promoter, yesterday sent Al Hostak, middleweight champion, an $8,500 offer to meet Tony Zale in a 10 round nontitle match in the west side building May 10.

124TH F. A. UPSET BY WINMONT IN POLO SEMI-FINAL

New York, April 4 (AP).—Winmont Farms of Red Bank, N. J., upset the strong 124th Field Artillery team of Chicago, 19 to 12, tonight in a semi-final match of the National Open Indoor Polo meet. The triumph turned the finals Saturday night into an all-New Jersey event, with Pegasus already berthed in the other bracket.

Johnny Pflug stood out in Winmont's triumph, scoring eight goals. The Chicago combination, which had won the national junior championship, was heavily favored, altho it yielded only one goal by handicap to the New Jersey trio.

Indians Blank Giants on Chapman's Homer.

Augusta, Ga., April 4 [Special].—Those two solid rivals of the barnstorming trail, Carl Hubbell and Bob Feller, renewed their pitching feud here this afternoon and, because the arm of the youthful Feller was more effective than that of the experienced Hubbell, the Giants swallowed their first shutout of the year and the Cleveland Indians squared the exhibition campaign at 3-all. The count was 1 to 0 and the turnout totaled about 500.

It was an absorbing pitchers' duel, but it was the misfortune of Hubbell to deliver a home run ball to Ben Chapman in the first inning.

In all, Hubbell yielded only seven hits, fanning four—one less than the fire-balling youth who was his rival—and walking but one, two under Feller's par. Feller let the Giants down with six hits.

Feller now has gone 22 innings, claiming 22 strikeout victims, yielding 13 hits, and giving up a single run. Score:

CARDS WHIP PENSACOLA.

Pensacola, Fla., April 4 (AP).—The St. Louis Cardinals took advantage of wild pitching today, scoring five runs on only one hit in the fifth inning to defeat Pensacola of the Southeastern league, 8 to 4. In this big inning six Cards were issued passes, and Joe Medwick's single accounted for two runs. Score:

St. Louis ....000 050 201—8 9 0

CASTER CHECKS FORT WORTH.

Fort Worth, Tex., April 4 (AP).—George Caster pitched shutout ball for six innings today as the Philadelphia Athletics turned back Fort Worth, 1939 Texas league champions, 5 to 3. Caster gave up five hits and his single in the fifth figured in the A's first three runs. Fort Worth took advantage of Chief Hogsett's wild pitch, and Bill Lillard's error to score all its runs in the eighth. Score:

Philadelphia [A.]....000 030 011—5 10 4
Fort Worth [Tex.]..000 000 030—3 6 3

MILLERS, 7; PHILS, 1.

Daytona Beach, Fla., April 4 (AP).—The Philadelphia Nationals started a two week exhibition tour in reverse today, taking a 7 to 1 whipping from Minneapolis of the American association. The Millers tied up the score at 1-all in the fifth, then landed on Clyde Smoll for five hits and four runs in the sixth. Score:

Philadelphia [N.]....000 100 000—1 5 2
Minneapolis [A.A.]..000 014 02*—7 13 0

SENATORS, 9; BEES, 3.

Orlando, Fla., April 4 (AP).—Washington took a 9 to 3 victory from the Boston Bees today, clinching the triumph with five runs in the eighth. Three errors, a hit batsman, and five singles accounted for the Senators' runs in big inning. Score:

Boston [N.]..........010 200 000—3 8 3
Washington [A.].....003 000 15*—9 12 1

BROWNS WHIP OILERS.

San Angelo, Tex., April 4 (AP).—The St. Louis Browns playing their final contest against a minor league opponent, turned in an easy 9 to 2 victory over the Texas Oilers, a semi-pro club, here today. Jake Wade and Loy Hanning yielded only five hits while their teammates were pounding three Texas hurlers for 14. Joe Gallagher hit two homers for the Browns and Walt Judnich one. Score:

Texas Oilers ....000 011 000—2 5 1
St. Louis [A.].......311 211 00*—9 10 0

Cubs, Browns Start Series in Texas Today

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Antonio, Tex., April 4.—The Cubs arrived this afternoon to meet up with their new adversaries, the St. Louis Browns. The Cubs and Browns will play here tomorrow and Saturday, then head north with Fort Worth the first stop.

As a result of decisions which were made by Manager Gabby Hartnett while here, Manager Roy Johnson of the Tulsa club, Cub coach for five years prior to this season, will get two pitchers, an outfielder, and a shortstop. Those who will be placed under the tutelage of Johnson are Pitchers Ray Campbell and Clare Bertram, Outfielder Bernard Olsen, and Shortstop Leonard Merullo.

Cubs Like Campbell.

Campbell is a 20 year old lefty who was with Moline last year and is sure to have more chance with the Cubs. Bertram is a 21 year old who performed with Knoxville. Just how far the Cubs will go with him in the future is problematical.

Merullo, the lad who moves around like Jurges, needs regular daily work. There are those in high places who believe this 21 year old former captain of Villanova some day will be a brilliant major league infielder. Lenny was in spring training with the Cubs a year ago, but overdid things in an early workout with the result he had a sore arm for many weeks after the Cubs sent him home. Last fall he went back to Villanova for his degree and this spring reported with the degree and a sound arm.

Reads Riot Act Today.

Gabby Hartnett tonight was at work on an address he plans to make at a special clubhouse meeting tomorrow morning. The subject of the address is: "The spring joyride is over, boys; listen to the curfew from now on."

It is said certain players will be advised to what extent their spring deportment has been checked, with the warning that it's "high time to get down to business or else."

Leiber to Play Today.

Hank Leiber is expected to take over his new job tomorrow, becoming a right fielder for the first time in his major league career, excepting five innings in one game as a member of the Giants. Hank has been working out daily since he ended his protracted holdout siege on March 20, but has not appeared in an exhibition lineup, even as a pinch batter. The delay has been in line with a planned program of slow but thoro conditioning and not traceable to injury or infirmity.

Larry French, who has recovered from the severe indignities forced on him in Phoenix last Sunday, will pitch against the Browns tomorrow. He expects to go the full distance.

Dykes at Wife's Bedside; Reports Her Improving

Philadelphia, Pa., April 4 (AP).—Jimmy Dykes, manager of the Chicago White Sox, came by airplane today from El Paso, Tex., to the bedside of his wife, who has been in ill health for several weeks. He visited her at a Bryn Mawr hospital, where she was taken two weeks ago for observation, and said doctors told him her condition was improving.

also singled. Garms, who ran for Rizzo, was picked off second by Knott. Elliott survived on a scratch single into Appling's territory. Then Davis made Knott very unhappy by hitting a home run over the left field fence to round out the five run splurge.

Sox Take the Lead.

The elongated Gee handed Kuhel a pass to open the Sox fifth and soon was knee deep in confusion. Kreevich doubled to right. Solters popped out and Appling walked. The fourth ball to Appling was a wild pitch, Kuhel scoring. Wright singled to center and Kreevich counted. Gee fumbled McNair's easy roller, filling the bases. Silvestri walked and Appling scored. This was where Gee surrendered. Knott greeted Rescuer Lanning with a scratch single to Handley, Wright scoring, and when Handley threw wild, McNair also registered. Silvestri scored the sixth run of the rally on Kolloway's fly to Garms.

Garms started the seventh by beating out a bunt and continuing to second on McNair's bad throw. A single by Van Robays scored Garms and Van Robays carried home the tying run when Gustine singled.

Fletcher led off in the eighth with a two-bagger. He was bunted to third by Brubaker, after which Garms was purposely passed. Van Robays lined to Solters and to all appearances Solters' throw in had Fletcher doubled off third, but Umpire Reardon thought otherwise. Then Elliott hit a two-bagger into center to score Fletcher and Garms. The Sox retrieved one of these runs in the eighth on an error followed by a single from Silvestri's bat.

Perry Defeats Vines in West Coast Pro Tennis

Los Angeles, Cal., April 4 (AP).—Fred Perry handed Ellsworth Vines another setback in the west coast professional tennis tournament today, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4. It was Vines' second loss in the round robin meet.

Red Sox Maul Derringer and Beat Reds, 13-3

Winston Salem, N. C., April 4 (AP)—Five runs off Paul Derringer in the fourth inning and Jimmy Foxx's circuit smash with the bases loaded in the seventh, helped the Boston Red Sox walk over the National league champion Reds, 13 to 3, today. Three other homers marked the 15 hit Boston attack—by Cramer in the first, by Finney in the third, and Nonnenkamp in the ninth. Score:

KILSTAR FAVORED AT 100-30 TO WIN GRAND NATIONAL

Despite War, 150,000 Will See Race Today.

AINTREE, England, April 4 (AP).—Kilstar, a rangy horse with a temper, today was established a strong favorite for the second straight year to win the 102d Grand National steeplechase over Aintree's four and one-half miles of flat and terrifying jumps tomorrow.

There still were 31 horses in the field, but only two of them were American owned, the smallest contingent from across the Atlantic in many years. There was a possibility John Hay Whitney would scratch his National Night before race time [about 8:30 a. m. Chicago time], leaving Mrs. Louis E. Stoddard's Milano alone to represent the United States.

150,000 to See Race.

But as the crowd, which despite thunder to the east was expected to better 150,000, poured into this capital of Britain's steeplechase racing, it was the disposition, speed and staying power of Kilstar that was of chief concern. At the Victoria club's final callover in London he was heavily supported at 100 to 30 to give Dorothy Paget her second victory. She won with Golden Miller in 1934.

Last year Kilstar was installed the 15 to 2 favorite, but faltered under the terrific pace and came in third, 15 lengths back of L. Scott Briggs' MacMoffat, the second place horse. Kilstar carried 143 pounds then. He will tote 154 tomorrow. MacMoffat is back again, but Workman, last year's Irish bred winner, was scratched some time ago.

The Professor Well Liked.

The hottest thing, however, in near by Liverpool and Aintree today was not Kilstar or H. C. McNally's Royal Daniell, the 9 to 1 second choice which finished a head back of the American owned Battleship in 1938, but was Mrs. I. Strang's The Professor II.

The Professor has not yet had a chance to display staying power sufficient for the long journey and 30 fences, but he was priced at 100 to 9 along with MacMoffat. The Professor's odds may be still shorter by post time. Intensive schooling over the jumps, plus swiftness he inherited from his daddy, Periosteum, who once won the Ascot Gold cup, caused many racing authorities to pick him as the likeliest winner. His chances would be further enhanced if the track improves over night. Today it was heavy, but was drying out rapidly.

Milano, veteran of Aintree's jumps, failed last year, but has been the medium of a heavy play at 100 to 8.

BRILL NAMED TO COACH LOYOLA AT LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Cal., April 4 (AP).—Marty Brill, former Notre Dame half back, was selected tonight by the athletic council of Loyola university of Los Angeles to coach the Lions' football team for the 1940 season. Terms of the contract and tenure were not announced.

Brill enrolled as a freshman at Pennsylvania, but transferred to Notre Dame to become a regular blocking back on the 1929 and 1930 teams under Knute Rockne. After leaving Notre Dame he went to Columbia as a back field coach and later to La Salle of Philadelphia.

MANGRUM LEADS MASTERS' GOLF ON RECORD 64

Shoots 32-32 to Go Eight Under Par.

Texans Are Doing Well.

Five shots back of Dallas' Mangrum and two behind Houston's Demaret were two other lads who learned their golf in Texas. First was Nelson, Fort Worth's National open champion and winner of the Masters' in 1937. Nelson shot a 35—34—69. Harry Cooper, the English born pro who played some golf in Dallas and who returns to Chicago this month as professional at Northmoor, reversed these nines.

After the front foursome came a pair of 70 shooters—Lawson Little of Bretton Woods, N. H., former British and American amateur champion, and Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., twice runner-up in the Masters' and second to Nelson in the National last June. The 71 detail included Tommy Armour of Chicago; Metz, who knocked in a brassie shot for a deuce at the par 4 10th today; Willie Goggin of San Francisco, Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., and Sam Snead of Shawnee, Pa.

Mangrum No Stranger.

Mangrum will be no stranger to Chicagoans, for in last year's western open at Medinah he had the show won until a couple of bunkers bilked him on the final nine, and even then he finished cnly a shot behind Nelson, the winner. He is one of the few special guests in this exclusive party, having earned a bid by his winter accomplishments. He climaxed his effort in the recent tour by shooting 68—67—203 to win the Thomasville, Ga., Open. He is one of three brothers in pro golf, the best known until today being Ray.

Mangrum was over par on only one hole, the 10th, which he 3 putted from 25 feet. He had nine birdies, hitting every green in regulation fashion. He was on all of the 4 par 5 holes in 2 for 2 putt birdies. A 20 foot putt got him a birdie on the 17th and another from 30 feet did up the 18th. Mangrum's card:

Par—Out	454	343	454—36
Par—In	443	545	344—36—72
Mangrum—Out	443	343	443—32
Mangrum—In	542	444	333—32—64

PURDUE WILL OPEN FOOTBALL CLINIC TODAY

Lafayette, Ind., April 4 [Special].—High school and college football coaches of the central states will gather here tomorrow for the opening sessions of the ninth annual Purdue football clinic which will continue thru Saturday afternoon.

One of the features of the two day session, which is expected to attract from 300 to 500 coaches, will be the annual banquet tomorrow night at which Arch Ward, sports editor of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will be the principal speaker. Other speakers will be President E. C. Elliott of Purdue and Joe Boland, Notre Dame line coach, who is joining with outstanding high school coaches and Purdue staff members in conducting the series of addresses and demonstrations on virtually every phase of football.

VETERAN ROLLS 1,904 FOR THIRD IN 'ALL EVENTS

Detroit, Mich., April 4 (AP).—Lee Murphy, Flint, Mich., veteran of 29 American Bowling congress tournaments, rolled into third place in the all events today with a count of 1,904.

Murphy, who bowled 631 to pace the Kling's Beers of Flint into the five man leadership last night, turned in 617 in the doubles and 656 in the singles today. The Kling's team rolled 2,983.

A 1,269 landed Alex Innes and Herbert Mertens of Detroit in seventh place in the doubles, while Martin Caserio and Chris Leffler of Flint hit 1,267 for eighth.

FORMER MANAGER DIES.

Bellingham, Wash., April 4 (AP).—Frank Tealey Raymond, 58, former manager of the Seattle Baseball club, died last night. He played his first professional baseball with Peoria in the three eye league.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Fresh pork prices went up yesterday, while live costs of hogs at the stockyards declined. Buyers said their demands for a reduction were justified because of the increase in the run of hogs at most points after several days of rather light receipts.

Top light pork loins rose 50 cents a hundred pounds, to $12.50, the highest level in more than two weeks. This price was $1 above last week's close.

Declines of 10 to 15 cents were general in most classes of hogs. Both the top and average fell 10 cents, to $5.15 and $4.90 a hundred pounds, the top equaling the six year low established earlier in the week. The average was 10 cents above the low point.

Steers and yearlings met better action at mostly 10 to 15 cents higher prices. Spots in best grades were up more. Beef cows, canners and cutters rose 10 to 15 cents.

Notice to the Holders of
CHICAGO SOUTH SHORE AND SOUTH BEND RAILROAD
3 Per Cent Mortgage Bonds, Series B, Due January 1, 1963

Chicago South Shore and South Bend Railroad has deposited with the undersigned, as Trustee under Mortgage dated January 1, 1938, $57,044.63 representing the amount payable into the sinking fund on or before March 31, 1940, which money, together with a balance of $67.15, is now available in the sinking fund for the purchase of Chicago South Shore and South Bend Railroad 3 Per Cent Mortgage Bonds, Series B, issued under said Mortgage, at the lowest price at which they can be obtained, but not exceeding par and accrued interest.

Holders of said bonds may submit written proposals for the sale of the same to the sinking fund until three o'clock P. M., April 18, 1940. Proposals should be addressed to The First National Bank of Chicago, Trust Department, 33 South Clark Street, Chicago, Illinois. All proposals must specify the numbers of the bonds. All offers including more than one bond shall be subject to acceptance of a portion thereof unless otherwise expressed. The right is reserved to reject any and all proposals in whole or in part.

Do not send bonds with your proposals. Owners of bonds whose proposals are accepted will be notified after the close of offers and instructed to forward their bonds for payment.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF CHICAGO,
By ROBERT L. GRINNELL,
Vice-President.
April 5, 1940.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, as provided in the Trust Indenture, dated May 1, 1915, between Northwestern Electric Company and Harris Trust and Savings Bank and Harold Eckhart (as successor to Howard W. Fenton), as Trustees, and in the bonds hereinafter mentioned, that Northwestern Electric Company has exercised its option to redeem, and will redeem, on May 1, 1940, an interest payment date, all of said Company's First Mortgage Twenty Year Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, as extended to May 1, 1945; that on such interest payment date all of said bonds will be redeemed; and that there will be due and payable on said bonds on said date at the principal office of Harris Trust and Savings Bank, 115 West Monroe Street, Chicago, Illinois, the principal thereof, with accrued interest to May 1, 1940, and a premium of three (3) per cent. upon their principal.

Holders of the said bonds should present and surrender them for redemption and payment as aforesaid on or after May 1, 1940, at the principal office of Harris Trust and Savings Bank, 115 West Monroe Street, Chicago, Illinois, with May 1, 1940, and subsequent coupons attached. In case registered bonds are presented and payment to anyone other than the registered holder is desired, the bonds must be accompanied by a properly executed instrument of assignment in blank.

After May 1, 1940, no further interest shall accrue on any such bond and any coupons for interest on any such bond maturing after such date shall become null and void, anything in such bonds or coupons or in said Trust Indenture or any agreement in extension thereof or supplemental thereto to the contrary notwithstanding.

Dated, Portland, Oregon, March 1, 1940.

COUNTY SALES OF CARS ARE 2D BEST IN HISTORY

Total for Quarter Is Put at 31,487.

Cook county automobile sales totaled 31,487 cars in the first quarter—the second largest volume for the period in history—the Bureau of Motor Advice disclosed yesterday in connection with March sales figures. The largest number for a first quarter was the 35,098 total in 1937. In 1939 the total was 22,184, and in 1929 it was 25,783.

The Bureau of Motor Advice is a semi-official agency which obtains its information from new car registrations with the secretary of state at Springfield.

Cook county results are watched by the automobile industry for an indication of national sales, as the county ranks first in the nation in automobile sales. Other leading sales areas are New York, Detroit, and Los Angeles.

Sales for March alone totaled 11,643 compared with 9,894 in March 1939. March did not hold the relatively high positions reached by the first two months.

Chevrolet held first position in first quarter sales with a total of 6,248 compared with 3,930 a year ago. Plymouth was in second place for the quarter with 4,370 compared with 3,504 and Ford was in third with 3,653 compared with 2,975. Buick was fourth with 3,331, compared with 2,261.

Comparative Figures.

Chevrolet was in first place for March with a total of 2,366, compared with 1,852 in March, 1939. Plymouth occupied second position with a total of 1,612, compared with 1,563 a year ago. Ford, in third position, had a total of 1,250, compared with 1,320. Buick held fourth place with 1,185, against 964.

Pontiac in Fifth Place.

Pontiac occupied fifth position with a total of 1,106, against 748 a year ago. Dodge in sixth place had a total of 799, compared with 902 in March, 1939. Oldsmobile, in seventh, had a total of 745, compared with 518. Packard, in eighth, sold 460 cars in March against 218 a year ago. Studebaker, in ninth, had 351 sales, compared with 185 a year ago, and Chrysler, in 10th, had 327, compared with 306.

Sales of automobiles in Cook county in March, 1940, with those in March, 1939, and February, 1940, follow:

ZENITH TESTING F-M BROADCAST METHOD DAILY

Progress is being made by Zenith Radio corporation in its program of transmitting programs by the new frequency modulation method under the Armstrong system, the company said in a report disclosing earnings for the nine months ended Jan. 31.

The report said the company commenced broadcasting from its frequency modulation station Feb. 1, and is now transmitting daily programs of approximately 16½ hours duration from its permanent location in the tower of the Chicago Towers club on North Michigan avenue.

British Pound Gains a Cent on Dollar; Franc Also Up

An advance of 1 cent in terms of American money was made yesterday by the British pound sterling, which closed at $3.57½ in the New York market. The Canadian dollar rose ⅛ cent to 83 cents, and the French franc was 0.005 cent higher at $2.02¾ cents. The Belgian belga eased 0.02 cent to 17.04 cents.

Delay Jobless Tax on Wages Above $3,000

Martin P. Durkin.

Martin P. Durkin, state director of labor, has authorized the postponement until after next February of employers' payments on annual wages of more than $3,000 into the Illinois unemployment compensation fund, it was disclosed yesterday. This order became effective April 1.

This regulation was issued with the hope that the state legislature before next February will change the Illinois law to limit contributions to those which are computed on wages of $3,000 or less, as in the federal unemployment compensation act, it was explained. The Illinois act now has no limiting provision, and until now employers have paid into the fund on salaries above $3,000.

Big Saving Expected.

The limitation, it was estimated, would save Illinois employers between 5 and 8 million dollars a year since they would not have to pay the 2.7 per cent tax on the remuneration of employés above the $3,000 level. Payments on salaries below $3,000 are not affected by Durkin's order and will continue as in the past.

Cost of administering the unemployment compensation act in Illinois amounted to $1,229,608 during the last three quarters of 1939. A total of $1,346,891 had been allocated by the federal government for this purpose. The difference in each quarter was carried over into the appropriation for the next.

200 Millions Contributed.

From July 1, 1937, when the unemployment compensation fund began to accumulate, until March 1, 1940, a total of $200,997,241 had been contributed to the Illinois fund. Total payments to beneficiaries from July 1, 1939, the day they began, until March 1 last amounted to $24,122,327.

With benefit payments averaging about $3,500,000 monthly, the total to date is estimated at nearly 28 millions.

The total reserve fund is placed at about $154,000,000, which under provisions of the state act is on deposit with the secretary of the treasury of the United States. This is the sum remaining out of the collections of slightly more than 200 millions after payment of the benefit claims of 28 millions; the refund of about 6 millions to employers, and the transfer of about 12½ millions to the railroad unemployment insurance account.

Claim Adjustments Made.

The six million dollar refund is the result of adjustments of claims made by employers who had paid into the fund full assessments, according to the requirements of the act, while their liability was under question. The 12½ million dollars is for the coverage of railroad employés under the railroad unemployment insurance act.

Employers' contributions to the Illinois unemployment compensation fund last year, from the first thru the fourth quarter, respectively, amounted to $15,929,998, $16,928,522, $16,159,456, and $18,179,465, or an aggregate of $67,197,441.

Possibility exists for a decrease in the big reserve when contributing employers are given their first merit ratings in January, 1943, on a basis of their record of maintaining stabilized employment. Each annual merit rating will be based on the experience of the three preceding years. An actuarial formula devised with the aid of insurance men will be used to arrive at the amount of pay roll tax to be paid.

COAL AND GRAIN INCREASES LIFT FREIGHT TOTAL

Loadings of revenue freight by railroads during the week ended March 30 showed increases over both the preceding week and the corresponding 1939 week, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday.

Loadings totaled 628,278 cars, an increase of 8,392 cars, or 1.4 per cent over the week before, and in increase of 25,587 cars, or 4.6 per cent, over the corresponding 1939 period. The gain over the like week in 1938 was 104,789 cars, or 20 per cent.

Food Is Food Even Tho It's Fortified with Vitamins

Washington, D. C., April 4 [Special].—A report that foods fortified with vitamins would be classed as drugs by the food and drug administration was denied by a spokesman for the administration today. New regulations soon will be promulgated regarding foods for special dietary use, he said, but they consider vitamins as foods, not drugs, and likewise foods fortified with vitamins.

WINTER WHEAT LOSS IMMINENT IN SOUTHWEST

Crop Is Critically in Need of Rain.

Dry weather in the southwest has reached the stage where rain is needed immediately to prevent a near or complete loss of the wheat crop in that area, Chicago statisticians said yesterday in announcing their April forecasts.

A winter wheat crop of 428,000,000 bushels is indicated by the average of the reports issued by six experts, but deterioration has progressed rapidly in the southwest during the last month, they said. The prospective crop is the smallest since 1933 when it aggregated 377,000,000 bushels. The Dec. 1 forecast was for 399,000,000 bushels. Last year's harvest was 563,000,000 bushels.

The estimates ranged from H. C. Donovan's 410,000,000 bushels to a prediction of 450,000,000 bushels by Mrs. Eileen H. Miller.

61 Per Cent Below Normal.

About 26 per cent of the 45,000,000 acres seeded to winter wheat last fall may be abandoned, the experts estimate, but the actual loss cannot be determined until the latter part of the month. Average abandonment in recent years has been 18.7 per cent of the seeded acreage.

Condition of the winter wheat crop on April 1 was 61 per cent of normal, the lowest on record with one exception, and compared with 78 per cent a year ago, and a 1927-'38 average of 74 per cent.

A rye crop of 30,000,000 bushels was predicted by R. O. Cromwell, or 9,000,000 bushels less than was harvested last year.

Kansas Put at 74 Million.

Kansas has a prospective winter wheat crop of 74,000,000 bushels, according to the average of the estimates, or 38,000,000 bushels less than last year, compared with a 10 year average of 138,000,000 bushels. The aggregate yield in Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, and Nebraska is placed at 152,000,000 bushels, or 68,000,000 bushels under the 1939 crop. Nat C. Murray said his returns indicated that the four states showed a reduction in prospective yield of about 24,000,000 bushels as compared with the March 1 outlook.

Yield of winter wheat with the condition and prospective loss in acreage as estimated by Chicago statisticians compare as follows:

	Crop, bu.	Condition.	Abandoned, pct.
Murray	437,000,000	64.0	25

WHEAT RISES ON NEWS

Wheat prices advanced yesterday as the result of short covering induced by continued dry and windy weather in the southwest and strength in securities.

Local professional traders who construed the private crop estimates as somewhat bearish found little for sale when they tried to cover short sales, and prices advanced 1¼ cents before hedging checked the upturn.

Profit taking caused a reaction from the top, with the close on the Chicago Board of Trade at gains of ½ to ¾ cent a bushel.

Liquidation developed in soy beans in the early trading, but the market rallied somewhat in sympathy with wheat. Rye and oats were firm.

EXPORT-IMPORT BANK TO FINANCE LATIN PROJECTS

Washington, D. C., April 4 (AP).—The Export-Import bank has agreed to advance nearly $11,000,000 to aid in financing exports to Latin America, Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator, said today.

The bank's trustees have allocated $5,000,000 to finance exports to Colombia, under arrangements yet to be completed, Jones said.

The bank has agreed to participate with Inland Steel Company of Chicago up to $1,575,000 in financing the sale of steel rails to the Central Railways of Brazil.

Jones also said the bank had agreed to participate with General Electric company and Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company up to $4,340,000 in financing the sale of American machinery and equipment to the Sorocabana railway in Brazil.

Here's Answer to Economists in Few Words

New York, April 4 [Special].—Lammot du Pont's idea of what is wrong with present day economics was summed up today when he addressed a conference at Columbia university. The president of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. said:

Lammot du Pont.

The meeting was the eighth annual conference on educational policies at the teachers' college of the university. The theme was, "How can economic illiteracy be reduced?"

Covers Loose Thinking.

"Can it be," du Pont asked, "that repeated attacks by educators and others on so-called 'classical' or "orthodox' economics are chiefly to cover up looseness of thinking and ignorance of the subject, or to disguise radical and revolutionary teachings which have no relation whatever to sound economic thought?"

He asserted that economics, to be practical, must include laws and guides which have long been accepted generally and successfully applied.

"Economics does not attempt to suggest methods of 'controling' human activities, or of reshaping human beings into some particular mold," du Pont said. "The true science of economics can be no more nor less radical or conservative than the multiplication table.

Shun Political Experiments.

"Economics as a science should not espouse social and political experiments, before the fact propaganda, or controversial 'causes.'

"One hears debates, supposedly in economics, on the question of human rights versus property rights. The very premise is unsound because both factors at issue are human rights."

Floyd L. Carlisle, chairman of the Consolidated Edison company, New York, asserted:

"The outstanding occurrence of this decade which has affected the turnover of goods and services has been the immensely increased proportion of taxes taken from the life stream of production. Furthermore, the financing of deficits by bond issues to be paid out of future taxation has had an equally great effect on the production and distribution system."

Mexico Retires Treasury Bonds of 20,000,000 Pesos

MEXICO CITY, April 4 (AP).—The federal treasury paid into the Bank of Mexico, the government's central banking institution, a check for 20,000,000 pesos today, retiring a group of treasury bonds issued within the last year.

General Electric's First Quarter Orders Up 12 Pct.

The General Electric company reported yesterday that orders received in the first quarter of 1940 amounted to $97,490,047, an increase of 12 per cent over the $86,882,953 received in the corresponding period last year.

NEW YORK CENTRAL PLACES A $10,000,000 ORDER FOR EQUIPMENT

The New York Central railroad announced yesterday it had placed a $10,000,000 order for 50 heavy locomotives and 1,500 all-steel 55 ton hopper cars. The order is one of the largest equipment purchases so far this year.

Of the 50 locomotives, 35 will be built by the American Locomotive company, New York, and 15 by the Lima Locomotive works, Lima, O. The hopper cars will be constructed by Despatch Shops, Inc., a subsidiary of the New York Central.

The road also announced it would pay off $4,000,000 of its $20,000,000 bank loans on April 30. Of the balance, all held by New York banks, $8,000,000 has been extended for two years to May 1, 1942, at 3 per cent interest, and $8,000,000 for four years to April 30, 1944, at 3½ per cent. When the loans were granted in 1938 they carried 4 per cent interest rate.

Barnes Calls Holding Firm Aid to Utilities

New York, April 4 (AP).—The holding company is a constructive influence in the utility industry from which both customer and investor derive benefits, D. C. Barnes, president of the Engineers Public Service company, said in the company's annual report today.

"For a long period of time the company's subsidiaries have enjoyed the benefits of the financial support and prestige of the holding company," Barnes said in discussing the company's status as one of the large holding concerns ordered by the Securities and Exchange commission to comply with the public utility holding company act.

Called Advantage to Customers.

"The excellent results achieved by this method of operation are evidenced by the generally efficient and economical services furnished to customers and in the progress which has been made in reducing rates.

"A major advantage to the company's security holders arises from the geographical diversity of the properties, which consist primarily of fully integrated systems located in 11 states. Temporarily poor earnings in one area are frequently offset by gains in other areas, so that the combination of revenues in the holding company system fluctuates less than those of individual companies."

Willing to Coöperate.

Barnes said Engineers would cooperate fully with the SEC in its efforts to determine the company's status under the holding company act "to the extent it can properly do so" and safeguard the rights of its security holders at the same time.

Record March Sales Revealed by Sears, Ward

Sears, Roebuck & Co. and Montgomery Ward & Co., the largest mail order houses in the world, yesterday reported their March sales were the largest for the month in the history of the companies.

Sears sales totaled $50,899,000, an increase of 2.3 per cent over March, 1939, volume. Ward's sales were $38,842,199, an increase of 8.71 per cent.

Sears' volume for February and March came to $91,734,743, an increase of 8.3 per cent over the 1939 period. Ward's sales were $69,372,546, an increase of 14.3 per cent.

$1 Apiece for All of Us.

The combined total of the two companies' business for the two months was $161,107,289—or more than $1 for every man, woman, and child in the United States.

Both companies operate retail stores thruout the country. The increase in sales, while helped by the early Easter, was somewhat handicapped by the cold weather that has been general in the northern states, according to merchandising authorities. Fiscal years of the two companies start Feb. 1. A comparison of their sales follows:

PANAMA OFFERS TO SWITCH BONDS, REPAY INTEREST

New York, April 4 (AP).—The republic of Panama today announced an offer to holders of its $11,313,500 of 5 per cent bonds of an equal principal amount of new 3¼ per cent bonds, due 1994, plus a cash payment of $1,674,362 to discharge unpaid matured interest coupons.

Full coupons on the issue have not been paid in cash since 1933.

Announcement of the offer was made by Jorge E. Boyd, ambassador of Panama to the United States, who said it was the "earnest desire of his government to consummate promptly the debt readjustment so that Panama could take its place among the nations which currently are meeting their obligations."

TRANSIT LINES AGREE TO KEEP PRESENT FARES

Fail to Meet Other City Demands.

Transit line representatives yesterday agreed to the city's demand to maintain present rates of fares, including the 7 cent street car fare, until Jan. 1, 1942, under terms of the proposed unified traction franchise.

Ald. Quinn.

The agreement was announced by Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the council's special traction subcommittee, after a meeting with the lines' seven-man board of negotiators in seeking a united franchise. The board offered counter-proposals to the city's franchise demands made last Friday.

The lines disagreed with the city, Ald. Quinn said, on passenger transfer arrangements to be effective until 1942, on terms of compensation to the city for use of streets and the city owned subway, on payments for paving street car rights of way, and on terms of the proposed $102,000,000 transit modernization program.

Counter Suggestions Made.

RATES OF FARES AND TRANSFERS. The lines agreed not to apply to the rate making commission for a fare increase before Jan. 1, 1942, unless extraordinary circumstances produce an emergency before then.

They proposed that the new unified company maintain the present transfer arrangements between the elevated lines and the surface lines, and between the elevated lines and bus routes. They opposed, however, the addition of transfer privileges before 1942 between the surface lines routes and the bus lines of the Chicago Motor Coach company. The city asked for bus-surface line transfers.

Disagree on Compensation.

COMPENSATION TO THE CITY. The companies proposed that any city compensation in addition to payments now being made by the lines into the city's corporate fund should be paid only if earned after interest payment on bonds and modernization loans of the new company. The city asked that compensation, amounting to 1.5 per cent of gross revenues until 1943 and 3 per cent thereafter, be paid before interest on the new company's bonds, but after interest on modernization loans.

The lines refused to make any commitment on the amount of compensation. Spokesmen said they could not agree to the 1.5 and 3 per cent pay-

New York Stocks.

New York, April 4 (AP).—Stocks generally continued their rally today altho many leaders faltered under profit taking. A late burst of buying in aircrafts put a few of these up 1 to 3 points.

Steels and rails led the forenoon extension of Wednesday's bulge with gains running to more than a point. The steels, however, virtually canceled all their improvement at the close and top marks were reduced in other classifications.

Activity was pronounced at times, with the ticker tape late for a brief period after the opening. Volume was the largest since the "war boom" sprint of last September, amounting to 1,994,360 shares, compared with 1,725,240 shares on Wednesday.

Prominent share favorites at the closing bell, some at new highs for the year or longer, included Lockheed, Wright Aeronautical, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Sperry, Glenn Martin, du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Johns-Manville, Chrysler, Kennecott, American Smelting, Southern Railway, Great Northern, and American Telephone.

Bright earnings statements propped individual issues. Rails were helped by last week's official freight loadings figures disclosing a seasonal increase, which was contrary to some forecasts.

United States Steel ended up ⅛ of a point, but Bethlehem and Youngstown Sheet were a share lower. Loft and McKesson & Robbins dipped, along with Western Union, Dow Chemical, Allied Chemical, and International Harvester.

Arrangements were made for transfer of the stock exchange memberships, one at a price equalling the highest paid this year, $59,000. The other was at $58,000. The previous sale was at $52,000 on March 27. The lowest this year was $48,000 on Feb. 2.

New York Bonds.

New York, April 4 (AP).—Rail loans continued to push upward in the bond market today. Setrength of the carriers was a help to the general list in absorbing considerable early profit selling brought out by yesterday's brisk upturn.

United States government loans lost some of their climbing power, altho several closed with small gains. Utilities continued strong and some foreign government obligations made new highs for the March-April recovery.

Transactions totaled $10,578,950, face value, the largest since Dec. 27. Yesterday's volume was $10,332,400.

Chicago Stocks.

A strong upward trend and the largest volume of trading this year combined yesterday to give the Chicago Stock exchange its most active day since Dec. 29, 1939.

A total of 54,000 shares were traded compared with 49,000 on Wednesday, the previous high of the year.

The new highs were set by Chicago Flexible Shaft, which closed at 84, up 3 points; Noblitt-Sparks, at 35½, up ½; United Air Lines, 23¼, up 1; Utility and Industrial preferred, which reached 2⅛ but closed at 2, unchanged, and Bendix Aviation, at 35½, up ½.

Bank Stocks.

First National bank shares continued to advance with a gain of 2 points and Northern Trust dipped 2 points yesterday in Chicago bank stock trading. Other issues were unchanged.

Commodities

Futures prices on commodities were mixed yesterday, gains being made by cottonseed oil and wool tops, while rubber and silk futures dropped sharply. Metal markets were quiet altho copper prices were some firmer.

Wool top futures closed .6 to a cent higher as a result of active demand from Boston trade interests. In the cash market standard wool tops rose a half cent. Short covering credited to western interests boosted bleachable cottonseed oil futures 0.04 to 0.07 cent despite heavier offerings.

Announcement that India would sell 200,000 tons of sugar for export at greatly reduced prices unsettled the futures market. Reports from a refinery that it would allow 10 cents per 100 pounds on all new business in refined sugar and on unpaid invoices in the Chicago territory and west was a weakening factor in the refined market.

COTTON

Cotton showed a strong tone in the early trading yesterday with commission houses and shorts on the buying side, but the market turned reactionary later on hedging sales and foreign pressure and closed .05 cent lower to .02 cent higher, the July showing the strength. Liverpool and Bombay were higher which had some effect on sentiment.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to .04 cent lower with New York, 10.84 cents; New Orleans, 10.65 cents; Houston, 10.38 cents, and Galveston at 10.35 cents a pound. Prices follow:

SIR LOUIS LOOKS FOR VICTORY IN FACTORIES, MINES

Tells Chicagoans This Is an Economic War.

The European war is an economic struggle and will be won largely in the factories and mines rather than thru military strategy, Sir Louis Beale, representative of the Anglo-French purchasing board, said in Chicago yesterday.

Sir Louis spoke at the Hotel La Salle at a meeting of the Export Managers Club of Chicago, whose membership includes foreign trade officials of companies which sell goods in the export markets. The Anglo-French purchasing board coördinates activities of the British and French purchasing commissions thru which the empires are buying war supplies.

Relying on Seapower.

British seapower, Sir Louis said, will be the main fighting instrument in the economic war, its primary aim being to keep Germany from selling goods abroad or importing goods essential to the conduct of war.

In depicting the conflict as an economic war, Sir Louis said that Britain and France turned to America for war supplies because American industry has demonstrated that it can fill orders speedily and produce high quality goods at reasonable prices.

He asserted the war has benefited American export trade, and then appealed indirectly for American support of the empires on economic grounds.

Says We Must Show Interest.

After reading figures showing that United States exports to France and Britain have increased, he said: "An exporting nation must take a lively interest in the welfare of its customers."

Asserting the empires have placed $600,000,000 of orders thru the purchasing commissions in the last few months, Sir Louis challenged widely expressed views that wartime expansion of American factories will prove injurious to the companies involved when peace returns.

He declared the pressure of war orders will bring scientific and technical advances which after the conflict ends will be turned into instruments of peace and progress, with beneficial results to the United States.

Discussing the question of America's own national defense interests Sir Louis said England and France have tried to handle their purchases in such a way as not to conflict with America's best interests.

'Regular Lake' Shipping to Open Midnight, April 15

Altho about 10 boats are now following routes on the Great Lakes, the regular shipping season will not start until midnight, April 15, shippers said yesterday. At that time the regular insurance on freighters will go into effect, covering commercial navigation until Nov. 30, the end of the season. Rates before and after that period are higher. A coast guard boat was reported yesterday to be breaking the ice in the Straits of Mackinac in preparation for the new season.

TRANSIT LINES AGREE TO KEEP PRESENT FARES

Fail to Meet Other City Demands.

ments asked by the city until their obligations on paving street car rights of way were settled.

Under the transit board's suggestion, payments of about $700,000 a year now being made to the city by the lines would be continued by the new company and considered part of its compensation. The city proposed that only $600,000 of the lines' present payments be credited as compensation.

PAVING. The companies asked the city to maintain and repave street car rights of way. The city asked that this expense, amounting to about $900,000 a year, be paid by the transit lines, as it is at present.

TRACTION FUND. The companies agreed that all compensation besides the $600,000 or $700,000 to be paid into the city's corporate fund should be placed in a traction fund to be used for subway extensions.

Oppose Fund Proposal.

They opposed the city's proposition that a reserve for city compensation now being set aside by the surface lines under a federal court order be put into the new traction fund. The reserve, which is 3 per cent of surface lines' revenues and now amounts to $2,250,000, is being set aside pending settlement of the franchise dispute.

DEFAULT ON MODERNIZATION PLAN. The lines refused to accept the city's suggestion that, if they default on their obligation to carry thru a $102,000,000 modernizing plan in eight years, the transit commission may order any income in excess of bond interest set aside for modernization.

The traction line board pledged its efforts to reach an agreement with employés on a pension plan for the new company's 20,000 employés, so that the plan can be written into the franchise. Ald. Quinn said the subcommittee will start at once to review the lines' demands and will meet next week with the lines in an attempt to reconcile the differences.

Day by Day on the Farm

By BOB BECKER

Spring Signs.

April 4, 1940.

IT looks like old man Winter has been routed from the fields and woods of the Du Page county farm. There are many signs that spring has finally stepped into the picture. The creeks which wind thru the fields and wood lots are swollen with spring rains, and the song sparrows are singing gayly above the rushing water.

Wild geese have come to the farm to sound their sonorous calls. About 75 of these beautiful game birds appeared above the farm the other day, saw the ponds, and came down to spend a night on one of them. Then after a night's rest on their protected water area they headed north again.

Bluebirds Check In.

The two bluebirds which like to nest in the old orchard next to the sheep barn have made their appearance, too. The flockmaster has been looking for these beautiful harbingers of spring for some time, so he was delighted to see them in an apple tree this week. They immediately looked over a hole in one of the apple trees—the same cavity in which a family of bluebirds was raised last spring.

The turkeys also are boosting spring's stock this week. Some of the old hens are sneaking into the sheep barn to lay eggs in the hay. The willow trees on the farm have a soft yellow tint in their branches which is another sign of spring. The red and yellow blossoms of the soft maple trees are getting much attention from the honey bees.

Peepers Sing Chorus.

The noisiest and in some respects most typical sign of spring is the chorus that comes from the spring peepers and the frogs. These tiny little frogs [the males are only about an inch long] are common in many roadside ponds around Chicago. They are quite numerous in the ponds on the farm. When we heard them this week they seemed to be staying on the west side of the big pond where there is quite a growth of grass. The spring peepers cling to dead grass blades at the edge of a pond and from these positions try to outdo each other with their shrill songs.

One of the men on the farm told us that he still doesn't believe spring is here to stay. This pessimist says his parents taught him that winter isn't over until the spring peepers and frogs have sung three spring concerts, and this is only the first.

FARE CUTS BOOST TRAVEL, BUT BUS LINE EARNS LESS

Southeastern Greyhound Nets $2.52 a Share.

Southeastern Greyhound Lines had increased trafic in 1939 as a result of a reduction in fares to the lowest level in the company's history, but earnings declined, Guy A. Huguelet, president, said yesterday in his annual report to stockholders.

Consolidated net income was $550,125 last year, equal to $2.52 a common share, compared with $641,395 in 1938. The per share earnings were not made known in 1938, the stock having been closely held until late in that year.

Rates at All-Time Low.

"In January, 1939, railroads operating in the territory served by Southeastern Greyhound reduced passenger coach fares from the 1938 level of 2 cents a mile to 1.5 cents a mile for one way travel, 1.375 cents for round trips, and in certain experimental instances, to 1 cent a mile in intrastate travel," Huguelet said.

"To meet this competition, Southeastern reduced its rates substantially to an all-time low level and is continuing at that level. As a result the company carried 10.29 per cent more revenue passenger in 1939 than in 1938."

He said that as a result of the cut in fares, the company's total operating revenue last year declined to $4,102,360, a drop of 2.74 per cent as compared with 1938. However, revenues last December were 4.53 per cent larger than in the month of 1938, he added.

NEW YORK BANK CLEARINGS SHOW FIRST 1940 RISE

New York, April 4 (AP).—A large expansion in New York City bank clearings in the week ended April 3 carried the total for all reporting cities ahead of the comparable 1939 week for the first time since late January, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. New York topped 1939 for the first time this year.

The total for 22 leading cities was $6,265,507,000, or 13.7 per cent more than the $5,512,301,000 a year ago and $1,694,943,000 above the preceding week this year.

New York clearings of $3,945,012,000 represented a gain of 12.6 per cent over the $3,503,412,000 last year. Other cities reported a total of $2,320,495,000, or 15.5 per cent ahead of last year's $2,009,489,000.

Chicago's check business amounted to $345,600,000, up 8.6 per cent from $318,100,000 in 1939.

Electric Bond and Share Offers Alternate Plan.

Washington, D. C., April 4 (AP).—Electric Bond and Share company, with control of more than $2,500,000,000 of assets, has suggested to the securities commission that it could retain all of its far flung operating units and still comply with the "death sentence" provision of the holding company act.

The company's view was disclosed today in a suggested plan of integration filed in connection with a reply to the SEC's recent demand for steps toward meeting the law's provisions.

Ask Ruling First on A. G. & E.

The plan had been proposed to the commission late in 1938 at the request of former Chairman William O. Douglas, now a Supreme court justice. It had been held confidential by the commission, however, until yesterday when the corporation filed a request that the commission defer a hearing on integration until it has made a final ruling on the application of American Gas and Electric company, a major unit in the Electric Bond and Share system, that it be declared not a subsidiary within the meaning of the holding company law.

The Electric Bond and Share reply was the first received from the nine huge systems against which the SEC began integration action a month ago. The companies have until Saturday to reply.

Propose Connecting Lines.

It's plan proposes to spend $20,000,000 for a system of interconnecting transmission lines. In then would have three major interconnective groups, identified as eastern, southwestern, and northwestern.

These would take in all of the present units with three exceptions, which the company said it felt were probably integrated and could be retained under provisions of the law. These are the Birmingham Electric company, Central Arizona Light and Power company and the Minnesota-Northern-Superior group, comprising the Minnesota Power and Light company, Northern Power company and the Superior Water, Light and Power company.

Abandon Int. Agricultural Plan of Reorganization

New York, April 4 (AP).—The International Agricultural corporation has abandoned a plan of recapitalization proposed by the management last December, it was announced today. It was understood a new plan is being drafted and will be submitted to stockholders upon completion. The former plan was to have been voted upon today.

RE: THE PEORIA AND EASTERN RAILWAY COMPANY

To all persons affected by the Plan of Adjustment of The Peoria and Eastern Railway Company under Chapter XV of the Bankruptcy Act, dated January 16, 1940, in respect of the extension of the date of maturity from April 1, 1940 to April 1, 1960 of a part of the principal of The Peoria and Eastern Railway Company's First Consolidated Mortgage Bonds, dated February 22, 1890 and to other security holders of The Peoria and Eastern Railway Company:

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the provisions of an order entered March 29, 1940, by the Special Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, convened under the provisions of Chapter XV of the Bankruptcy Act, that:

(a) The petition of The Peoria and Eastern Railway Company for approval and confirmation of said Plan of Adjustment, filed under Chapter XV of the Bankruptcy Act on March 29, 1940, has been duly approved by said Court as properly filed under said Chapter XV;

(b) A hearing in respect of the Plan of Adjustment will be held before said Special Court on the 29th day of April, 1940, at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon, in the United States Court House, Room 506, Foley Square in the Borough of Manhattan, City and State of New York, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, at or after which hearing the Court may approve and confirm said Plan as filed, or as modified in the manner provided in said Chapter XV, whereupon the Plan so approved and confirmed will be binding upon said Petitioner and upon all creditors and security holders thereof. In such proceeding, the Court may allow such interventions of persons in interest as it may deem just and proper, but any person in interest shall have the right to present evidence and be heard thereon, in person or by attorney, with or without intervention.

THE PEORIA AND EASTERN RAILWAY COMPANY.
By W. P. PLACE, Vice-President,
230 Park Avenue,
New York City.

Dated, April 5th, 1940.
By Order of the Court.

Notice of Annual Meeting of Stockholders of Cities Service Company

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the annual meeting of stockholders of Cities Service Company will be held on the 30th day of April, 1940, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, Eastern Standard Time, at the principal office of the Company, 19-21 Dover Green, in the City of Dover, State of Delaware, for the following purposes:

1. To vote for the election of five directors for a three-year term.
2. To vote upon a proposed amendment of the By-Laws to provide for compensating the directors (other than those directors who receive a salary as an officer or employee of the Company or any of its subsidiaries) and for indemnifying directors and officers in certain instances.
3. To vote upon a proposal to reduce the capital of the Corporation by $415,894 by retiring 41,589.4 shares of common stock held in the Company's treasury.

Also to vote in the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting or any adjournment or adjournments thereof.

A copy of the Proxy Statement prepared pursuant to Regulation X-14 of the Securities and Exchange Commission will be forwarded by the Secretary of the Company upon request.

Dated, March 16, 1940.

PAUL R. JONES, Secretary.

DEPOSITORS OF 8 CLOSED BANKS TO BE PAID $560,000

Money Will Go to About 48,500 Persons.

Depositors of another group of closed state banks in Cook county will receive approximately $560,000 in payments authorized by the auditor of public accounts, it was announced yesterday.

The money will be paid to approximately 48,500 depositors of the following eight banks: Equitable Trust company, Roseland State Savings bank, Wiersema State bank, Woodlawn Trust and Savings bank, Commercial Bank of Chicago Heights, Commerce Trust and Savings bank, Chicago Bank of Commerce, and Kaufman State bank.

Several other payments to depositors of closed banks have recently been announced.

Bank of Commerce Pays 5%.

The largest distribution, $198,657, will be made to about 10,000 depositors of the Chicago Bank of Commerce. It is a 5 per cent payment and the seventh made since the bank closed. The total paid is 57 per cent.

Approximately 6,700 depositors of the Roseland State Savings bank will receive a 5 per cent payment of $81,826, the sixth such payment, bringing the total to 60 per cent.

The Wiersema State bank will pay 5 per cent, $43,805, to 7,500 depositors. This is the seventh reimbursement and brings the total to 40 per cent.

Woodlawn's Third Payment.

The Equitable Trust company will make an 8 per cent payment of $35,675 to 2,300 depositors—the sixth payment, bringing the total to 38 per cent.

Approximately 11,000 depositors of the Woodlawn Trust and Savings bank will receive a 6 per cent payment of $124,495. This is the third distribution and brings the total repaid to 36 per cent.

A 5 per cent payment of $22,960 will go to 3,000 depositors of the Commercial Bank of Chicago Heights. This is the eleventh such payment and brings the total to 85 per cent.

Two Final Distributions.

The Commerce Trust and Savings bank will pay 2½ per cent, $14,372, to 3,000 depositors. This is the seventh and final payment and brings to the total repaid to 80½ per cent.

Approximately 5,000 depositors of the Kaufman State bank will receive a 12 per cent payment of $38,816—the eighth and final payment. The total repaid was 72 per cent.

280 of 579 REA Financial Electric Plants Pay Interest

Washington, D. C., April 4 (AP).—The Rural Electrification administration today made public a tabulation to show that 280 of 579 refinanced electric power systems are making payments of interest, or interest and principal, out of operating revenue.

LION OIL.

I would like to know something about Lion Oil Refining stock as a future investment when times are better.—A. W.

Answer: Lion Oil Refining company is a crude oil producer and refiner operating in the lower Mississippi valley. It owns oil and gas leases on about 105,000 acres of productive and undeveloped property.

Petroleum from the company's wells in Texas and Louisiana is sold at the field to other refiners and the output in Arkansas is transported thru its own pipe lines to its refinery at El Dorado, Ark.

Gasoline, lubricating oils, and other refined petroleum products from the Arkansas plant are sold to distributors in that state and also in parts of Tennessee, Alabama, and Mississippi.

Funded debt of the company at the end of 1939 totaled $3,206,500 in 4½ per cent convertible debentures due 1952. There were outstanding 435,814 shares of no par capital stock.

Reduced revenues in 1939 caused net profit to drop more than 28 per cent from the 1938 level and to the lowest since 1936. Net profit in January this year, however, recovered to $59,793 from a net loss of $5,110 in January, 1939.

1935	*$ 58,987	*$0.22	......
1936	594,735	1.43	$ .75
1937	945,335	2.17	1.50
1938	912,483	2.09	1.00
1939	652,352	1.50	1.00

*Loss.

The current quarterly dividend rate on the capital stock is 25 cents a share. Dividends have been paid on the stock each year since 1924 except from 1931 thru 1935.

WOOL TOPS.

Answer: Wool tops resemble large loose ropes and are the result of the first step in the manufacture of raw wool [after it has been scoured] into worsted yarn. This semimanufactured commodity was selected for the basis of trading in contracts for future delivery in preference to raw wool because the grease content of the latter is difficult to standardize.

Wool top prices move in close relationship to prices for raw wool and worsted yarn. Trading in wool top futures, therefore, provides the wool trade a generally satisfactory hedge against losses from price fluctuations.

Wool top futures are traded on the New York Wool Top exchange. The contract unit for future delivery is 5,000 pounds of wool tops stored in a licensed warehouse in Boston. Quotations on the exchange are in cents and tenths of a cent a pound and the minimum fluctuation of one-tenth cent a pound is equal to $5 a contract.

"There's the GOOD HUMOR MAN"

Soon they'll be on the streets again—these men who do so well financially in spring, summer and fall that they hate to see winter come.

If it wasn't for that lay-off period we would have little occasion to hire new men. That very fact gives YOU an opportunity at this moment.

Everywhere children and grown-ups are waiting for the GOOD HUMOR man. He has become a tradition—almost a new word for the dictionary. That means large commissions for the men who get GOOD HUMOR routes.

If you are selected you will be given a short training before going in the field. Your equipment will not cost you a cent and there is no other investment or bond expense. But you must be of good appearance and be able to supply proper references.

Chicago Good Humor, Inc.
601 E. 61st-st. 4455 Fullerton-av.

AT ONCE—2 young men for route salesmen on established routes; $40 wk. and comm. Experience not necessary. Salary while learning. Must give full particulars—age, height, weight, education, complete business experience, etc., or no interview. Address X L 434, Tribune.

COLLECTOR—With car, ready to leave town immediately; work starts at once; manager will take into territory for training. Salary and commission. Call between 9 and 11 a. m. Wabash 3654 for appointment.

WRITERS and taggers for marking dept., experience. Apply after 12 noon, Unique Cleaners and Dyers, 2643 W. Chicago.

USHER—Essex Theater, 717 Sheridan-road, Friday, 3:30 p. m. only.

If you have not found the kind of position you are looking for, read the Salesmen Wanted Ads. Earnings of salesmen are unlimited and many concerns are looking for inexperienced people whom they can train.

NEAR NORTH SIDE
Cheer up—the sun's gonna shine some more. And when it does it's good for you to get out in it and walk to your office instead of spending so much time commuting. You can do that down here and do so many things you like to do and still get a good night's sleep. It's a little unusual to have a living room 2 stories high or one 37 feet long, or a little 2 story house [3 rooms and kitchenette] in a group of six, clustered about a little slate-paved court [heated and serviced like an apt.]. We try to have things unusual and delightful, and we like that sort of a tenant, too—the kind that likes fireplaces, and such things and wants to live in an adorable place. We'd like to help you make it so. A few furnished and some marvelous layouts for combining your home and business.

"Community Renewed"
COMMUNITY RENEWED used cars ARE different.

The now famous trade mark of "COMMUNITY RENEWED" guarantees a better used car than those usually offered anywhere near the same price.

Our renewing process, explained in detail in own free booklet "What Every Used Car Buyer Should Know" is only made possible because of extremely large facilities, experts devoted to this work exclusively, and a tremendous volume because of a very popular new car.

Our terms are liberal—your old car taken in trade. We invite you to write or come in for a copy of our booklet "What Every Used Car Buyer Should Know."

TERRY AND THE PIRATES—HOW THE KIDS HAVE GROWN

MISS SHERMAN, HI AIN'T ONE T' BEEF AT A BARGAIN— BUT HI'M WEARIN' MESELF TO ME SECOND LAYER O' FAT LABORIN' 'ERE! WHEN'S THAT BOAT DUE T' 'AUL YER BROOD AWAY?
SOON, I HOPE, CAP'N! OUR FOOD WILL NOT HOLD OUT MUCH LONGER! WE'D BETTER TURN IN— TOMORROW WILL BE NO EASIER!
I MOVED MY BEDDIN' FROM TH' CHILDREN'S QUARTERS, MA'AM! I'LL NOT TROUBLE YOU WITH MY PRESENCE!
OH, APRIL, THIS HAS CEASED TO BE AMUSING! WHY DO YOU PERSIST IN THIS SILLY FEUD?
BETTER STAY IN WITH RAVEN, KITTEN! SHE'LL BE CLOSE IF YOU NEED HER!
THAT'S JUST IT, MR. RYAN! I'LL NOT NEED HER! GOOD NIGHT!

CAFE, LIQUOR BAR, SOUVENIRS, DELICATESSEN, DANCING, DINING SERVICE, LUNCH COUNTER, TOURIST ROOMS and beautiful living apartment on the edge of the finest white sand beach in America. A year around business in western Florida climate. Very healthy. No snow to think of. On a new gulf coast highway, No. 98, 15 miles west of Panama City, Florida, on the edge of the Gulf of Mexico, 275 feet of ocean front and on both sides of state highway. Ideal for cabins, gas station, trailer court. Fine water. This highway was new 5 years ago—and the building in question is all cyprus logs and 2 stories high and has not been open for business on account of death in family. There was $17,400 spent on land and buildings, and is a showplace of this section. $14,000 will buy this entire building and land. Owner will take $6,000 down. If interested come and see this place. We cannot explain its actual value until you see it. No trades. This is a great bargain for a quick sale. Address Frank Burghduff, ST. ANDREWS, FLORIDA. There are 20,000 people on this beach daily. Lots 50x100 ft. are selling for $1,000, and remember, 11 acres in this place. Owner will keep part interest if desired.
